Hamilton M. Keeffe, New York city, Crier of Circuit Court of U. S., So. Dist. of New York. Produced certain exhibits brought from New York, filed in case of Campbell vs. City of N. Y., brought by direction of plff's counsel, and at request of counsel in this case.

Mr. Knibbs recalled as to what time he put on the Arbor Reed the device shown in the model. It was in 1860. I conceived the idea of procuring patent immediately after arrival of J. C. Osgood in 1862. Put it on to get relief from pump and save throwing water in the street. Had not had experience with rotary pumps. Fac simile of Arbor Reed double piston pump with my relief attached (the exhibit from N. Y. Circuit Court) shown. Number air vessels the Arbor Reed had at that time.

Cross examination. Had patent four or five months after its issue; perhaps a year. Norton had patent letters since that time; examined as to pressure. Could play through inch nozzle; different sizes of nozzles given; testified as to the J. C. Osgood; received at Troy Jan. 1862; think it was 14th; I tried it first time it was tried; difficult to find a place to put pipe on first engine; witness explained on the model how pipe was affixed to the first steamer.

I have an interest now in this patent; did not have at Troy a few weeks ago; acquired it since deposition at Troy, May 23, and before I came to Portsmouth. I have an eighth now, conveyed to me by Marcus P. Norton, the plaintiff.

Re-direct. I sold my interest before I gave my deposition at Troy, to a patent operator. He has not written to come here. Mr. Shaw was the man who bought my interest. Have seen Mr. Shaw since this conveyance, at Troy.

Deft. here made a motion that as Knibbs had testified that he had put his invention upon an engine at Troy before the patent that a verdict should be ordered for the defendant. The court said all these questions should go to the jury.

Mr. Knibbs was recalled by Mr. Wadleigh to testify as to his visit to Manchester in 1866, while Arbor Reed was at the Amoskeag shop for repairs. I owned at the time one-half of patent.

Frank A. Speare, Washington, D. C., clerk U. S. Patent office 17 years. Have charge of original papers in patent office; am here by authority of Com. Patents; directed to take original files and drawings in application of Knibbs patent in the office to Portsmouth, and report to Mr. J. P. Foster; I have papers here, and produced them, (the papers shown to the jury, who examined the drawings by aid of magnifying glass); certified copy produced by deft. compared with original patent office drawing. It is a correct copy, save some lines left off in certified copy; drawing in copy probably made by tracing.

Cross examination. Present rules as to examination of drawings at the patent office. This has been practice four or five years; before that they were examined in portfolios. Speaks only of customs as to drawings from general observation and the rules; not a draughtsman.

Samuel P. Kittle, New York city, mechanical expert, formerly manufacturer, &c. Had the ordinary knowledge until about five years ago, when this pump was in controversy in N. Y. Since have given great attention to this subject. The deft. objected to the witness coming in at this stage of the case, and he was cross examined as to his training as an expert. Never have gone through scientific training or collegiate education, but have made mechanics a study for forty years. Witness details his experience in earlier years in mechanics, etc. Has made spring mattresses, carriages, etc., and engaged in other mechanical pursuits up to 1879. Never built engine or engine pump, nor had training in construction of engine pump. Natural philosophy treats of the construction of pumps. Asked as to a double cylinder piston pump (gives it up.) Asked as to other mechanism as single cylinder piston pump with three valves and playing continuous streams, but it did not occur to him that he knew. Can't describe certain pump enquired of. Have no special but a general knowledge of pumps. Studied especially in the New York case. That is my mechanical experience as to fire engine pumps. Have examined much machinery generally, not specially. Am familiar with this patent pump.

On the evidence, defendant objected to his testimony as a theoretical and scientific expert. The court allowed the witness to testify on the ground that he was in some respect qualified by preparation for testifying in this case.

Witness has read patent and described his understanding of the mechanism, and read from the patent and gave his views. He does not understand the patent as Mr. Renwick does. The model from Circuit Court in the New York district described.

Mr. Kittles' direct testimony occupied until 4:10 P. M.

Cross examined by Mr. Geo. L. Roberts, as to amount of water pumped by pump double the capacity of Parry model. Theory as to escape of water before valves closed explained. Relief mechanism of Knibbs is, to get rid of any and all excessive pressure; adequate relief. Difference between any and all explained; "any" may mean a part, and may mean all. Mr. Roberts gave an illustration of a plate of peas; the witness declined that, preferring his own mode of explanation. Mr. Roberts attempted to confine witness to certain specific answers to his questions, which was finally accomplished. No description in Knibbs' patent of valves to a pump; might have any kind of valves, used with a piston pump, or a pump mechanism that has excessive pressure. Witness interprets the word excessive to mean anything that would break or stop engine, flood boiler; pull throttle to relieve pressure; it is there to relieve instead of having to open hose gates, etc., to relieve. The witness was inclined to answer questions in his own way, and not to reply directly, but as the counsel asserted, wander off. The counsel was either unable to put his question so the witness comprehended it, or the witness was not able to frame a responsive answer. There was considerable of this fencing between the witness and counsel. The hose connection the witness asserted was a part of the pump, as far as pressure is concerned. Have seen air pressure that had flat sides; can't tell where. Air pressure chambers are circular shaped at top. In the Knibbs patent it is not represented as round. I have made drawings. If I wanted a thing flat I should shade it as it is there. There is no shading, no indication of dome like structure. I think it can be understood. Draw-cock no part of Knibbs invention. The witness was enquired of as to what operations would be either protecting or violating the Knibbs invention, and considerable discussion followed. Have no interest in the Knibbs patent, or in the result of this suit, but expect no contingent payment for my services as a witness.

Re-direct. Asked as to any and all excess of pressure. "All" would include "any." Also asked to explain a matter regarding to working of the pump, etc., which he was going on to say when interrupted. Drawings not made to any scale. Lower pipe useful to fill pump, as shown in diagram of Philadelphia engine; have seen this original engine. It had a two-inch vertical pipe, and two cocks, etc.; vertical pipe I am informed has been enlarged.

Examination concluded at 6:00 P. M., and recess taken to 9:30 A. M. Wednesday.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

MAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1882.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor, but the dim outlines of the scores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE RETURN OF THE SONS.

The Reunion committee had a meeting on Monday evening, ageeably to adjournment, Ald. Martin in the chair.

A number of committees, including those on finance, floral decorations, decoration of hall, music, sports, etc., reported, and liberal amounts were allotted to each committee from the general fund.

Mr. O. H. Cook offered to have printed 5000 large programmes, 2000 to be distributed outside the city before the 4th, and the remainder in the city on the 4th, at his own expense, on certain conditions which were agreed to.

The committee on programme were authorized to hire four halls in Franklin building for evening exercises; and to this committee the preparation and disposal of tickets were referred.

The regatta committee reported that the aquatic sports would have to take place at one o'clock on account of the tide; that three crews are already in training, and some fine races may reasonably be anticipated.

The committee on floral decorations have arranged for several large barges to be trimmed with flowers and manned by young ladies.

The committee on music reported the engagement of the 1st Reg't band, of Manchester, and the Dover cornet band; and it was voted that two band stands be constructed.

A committee cousisting of W. H. Page, Samuel Dodge, Ald. Stavers and Dr. Parsons, were appointed to prepare a poster.

Adjourned to Friday evening.

THE NEW STEAMBOAT ROUTE.

The new mode of reaching York beach, a beautiful place of resort where upon long stretches of hard sand the Atlantic waves roll in, bringing their cooling results to heated humanity, will be appreciated by the thousands who visit the seaside in our neighboring town this season. The new steamer "City of Portsmouth" is well adapted for this business. She has comforts and conveniences, and is supplied with every appliance of safety. The roads to York, sometimes dry and dusty in the heat of summer, will be found this season surrendering their former travellers to the "new line." A trip to York beach will be enjoyed very generally by our friends in Manchester, to the enterprise of some of whose citizens is due, in a great measure, the new, agreeable and expeditious mode of reaching the shores of York, while the annual summer visitor, who comes to York filled with admiration of its beauties, will now find the means of access all that can be desired.

One can hardly find a more economical and at the same time enjoyable excursion than a trip to York, and there is no one who understands better how to care for those who would enjoy the advantages of this new route than does the energetic and genial General Manager Beaumont, who gives his personal attention to the business of the company in its development. Mr. Beaumont has not only seen for himself that there is to be a great passenger business done by this line, but he has convinced several sagacious men of the opportunity to establish a permanent, and we hope, profitable traffic. Piers have been built at York, and with a safe and commodious steamer we anticipate a liberal patronage for this commendable enterprise.

STOP THIEF.

By an advertisement in another column of this paper it will be seen that a reward of $400 is offered by the United States government for the conviction of the person or persons who removed the whistle from the automatic buoy moored near Boon island ledge. It is to be hoped that the scoundrels will be discovered, and punished to the full extent of the law for their crime, which might easily cost the lives of a whole crew, or more crews than one, when running on a dark night in the vicinity of that perilous ledge, in full confidence that the friendly blasts of the whistle would be heard in time for them to avoid danger. What object, other than pure deviltry, any person could have in removing the whistle, we cannot possibly see, for it is worthless for any purpose other than that for which it was made.

There is an old legend about a bold freebooter who long ago cut from its hangings a bell placed by a good monk over the Inchcape rocks, on the British coast, and allowed it to sink in the sea; and how many years after, when returning with his vessel laden with stolen silver and gold, on which he intended to live in virtuous retirement for the rest of his life, he ran his ship on the Inchcape in the darkness of a stormy night, and he and his crew of cutthroats all went to Davy Jones' locker together, tearing their hair and lamenting that they ever meddled with the good monk's bell.

It would be a very pleasing bit of poetic justice if the despoilers of the Boon island ledge buoy could manage to get wrecked on the ledge, early some evening, and after hanging there all night, in the utmost terror, just have breath enough left next morning to confess their crime before going to the place where they ought to go.

Doctors Parsons and Jones went to Concord on Tuesday to bind up the wounds of the senatorial gladiators, and be present at the annual meeting of the State Medical society.

Senator Laighton gave notice on Tuesday that he would introduce a bill taking the election of the school committee from the board of aldermen, and having the same elected by the people as formerly. We understand there is to be no opposition to such a measure.

A board consisting of Commodore Edward Simpson, Captain Edmund O. Matthews and Lieutenant William H. Jacques, of the navy, and Lieut. Col. H. L. Abbott of the engineer corps, Lieut. Col. F. G. Baylor of the ordnance corps, and Major Samuel S. Elder, 3d artillery, United States army, is on a tour of inspection of the several navy yards and naval stations of the United States, to report upon the most feasible site for an arsenal and foundry, as recommended by the board of inspection of yards whose report has recently been submitted to the secretary of the navy. In pursuance of this duty, the officers named made an official visit to this navy yard on Tuesday morning, and received a salute of eleven guns.

The Portsmouth Machine Co.'s shop will be quite an extensive affair, the main building covering the same ground as the former Kearsarge mill, being built on the same foundations; but instead of extending upward to such a great height, it will be of two stories only, the lower story being eighteen feet high and the second story fifteen.

Mr. Henry Bean of Newington, and wife, started on Friday last on their annual tour through the Lake Winnipesaukee region and the White Mountains district, going in their own carriage drawn by a handsome pair of horses, one black and one white, and intending to be absent several weeks. This is the most enjoyable method of seeing the country that we know of, not the least of its pleasures being the tourists' independence of railroad trains and stage coaches, and their ability to visit places which the traveller by rail or stage never sees.

The wreckage reported last week as being picked up off Kennebunk, and supposed to have come from a yacht which the finders of the wreckage judged had been ran down by a larger vessel, was from the sloop yacht Mineral of Haverhill, Mass. The yacht was commanded by C. W. Danforth of Haverhill, who was her owner, and was valued at $500; she ran ashore on the night of the 7th inst. near the life-saving station at Biddeford pool, in a thick fog, and was badly damaged, Capt. Danforth and his brother, who were the only persons on board, saving themselves and some of their effects in their dory, and being cared for at the station by the keeper. The wreck floated off the rocks, and was picked up off Bond's island by Henry C. Wildes and others of Kennebunkport, who finding on board two hats, a bucket and other articles, and seeing that she was smashed nearly in two, supposed she had been run down at sea, and so reported.

Work on the new business block of the S. S. S. Building Association of York, at the village, is progressing under the supervision of Mr. Charles A. Grant, chairman of the building committee. The structure is to be fifty-six by thirty-eight feet on the ground, and two stories high, with a mansard roof; the lower story will be used for stores, and the second story will contain the hall and rooms of the Golden Cross lodge. Mr. John Roberts is the foreman on stone work, and Mr. Wm. G. Moulton is foreman of carpenters. It is likely that Mr. George F. Bragdon will run a meat market and provision store in the basement of the building.

It is announced that among those who are to spend the summer at Old Orchard beach are Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, Rev. Minot B. Savage, and Mr. Henry G. Vennor, the would-be weather prophet.

Simon Goodwin of South Sanford is held in $500 to answer before the supreme judicial court of York county for an assault on Joel Moulton, with intent to kill. The two men are neighbors, and have for years disputed over the proper location of the road which runs between their dwellings. Goodwin is a road surveyor, and in mending this road ploughed up land claimed by Moulton, who resisted, and attempted to turn his cattle upon the disputed ground, when Goodwin knocked him down with an ox-goad, rendering him unconscious for four hours.

The interesting exhibition given on Railroad square by the Kearsarge fire company and their steamer calls to mind a suggestion made by our evening contemporary, that some of our public spirited citizens ought to interest themselves in having Concord's excellent department represented at the firemen's muster to be held at Portsmouth in August. The cost of sending the Kearsarge company down, with their steamer, could be raised by a very slight effort, and certainly the credit of possessing the best company in the state is worth that much, and friends of the company have no fears but the "boys" can carry off at least one of the three cash prizes offered, which, in the aggregate, amount to $600. We are glad to note that the suggestion has awakened favorable comment on the part of our citizens.—Concord People.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Skin Diseases

Fifteen years of Suffering.—Body covered with Humor.—Had Twelve Doctors.—Paid out $500.—No Cure.—No Hope.

I will now state that I made a miraculous cure of one of the worst cases of skin disease known. The patient is a man forty years old; had suffered fifteen years. His eyes, scalp and nearly his whole body presented a frightful appearance. Had had the attention of twelve different physicians, who prescribed the best remedies known to the profession, such as iodide potassium, arsenic, corrosive sublimate, sarsaparilla, etc. Had paid $500 for medical treatment with but little relief. I prevailed upon him to use the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. He did so and was completely cured. The skin on his head, face, and many other parts of his body, which presented a most loathsome appearance, is now as soft and smooth as an infant's, with no scar or trace of the disease left behind. He has now been cured 15 months.

Helpless for Eight Years.—Unable to Walk for One Year.—Got about on Hands and Knees.—A Wonderful Cure.

I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For seventeen years I suffered with Salt Rheum; I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was not able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. So my parents tried everything that came along. I saw your advertisement, and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The CUTICURA brought the humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, until now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I thank you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter a fraud, let them write or come and see me, and find out for themselves. WILL McDONALD,
2542 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

The Cuticura treatment, for the cure of Skin, Scalp and Blood Diseases, consists in the internal use of Cuticura Resolvent, the new Blood Purifier and the external use of Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, the great skin cures. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50c.; large boxes, $1. Cuticura Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25c.; Cuticura Shaving Soap, 15c. Sold by all druggists.

HEART DISEASE.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Boston, Editors—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Women," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a kind heart, and is obliged to keep at it daily assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, such bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits it is recommended and prescribed by the leading physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and little fails to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On the 19th inst. the vacancy in the 5th (Laconia) senatorial district was filled by the choice of Taylor, the democratic candidate who was defeated at the polls by Daniel S. Dinsmore, republican. [The district is strongly democratic, and the popular election turned on the Lake Shore railroad question.]

The senate voted for a United States senator to fill the existing vacancy, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	23
Necessary for a choice	12
Wm. S. Ladd had	1
Gilman Marston	1
James F. Briggs	1
Aaron F. Stevens	2
James W. Patterson	2
Harry Bingham	6
Edward H. Rollins	10

and there was no choice. A motion that the senate proceed to elect a United States senator for the six years commencing March 4th, 1885, was lost, ten votes being in the affirmative and thirteen in the negative.

In the house a vote for United States senator to fill the vacancy resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	205
Necessary for a choice	103
Tappan had	1
Charles H. Bell	1
Marston	9
Stevens	15
Patterson	20
Briggs	57
Bingham	70
Rollins	117

and there was no choice. Under the law the two houses must now meet daily in convention, and at twelve o'clock take a vote for senator, until one is elected. They can take as many votes each day as they please, but must take at least one.

It's hard to believe Miss Whittier was cured of such terrible sores by Hood's Sarsaparilla, but reliable people prove it.

Mr. Conkling is said to be engaged in writing a book to offset Mr. Blaine's political history. The latter will be read throughout the country with interest. Conkling as a composer can put together long words, but as a literary man he is nowhere compared with Blaine. The latter bye-and-bye can well be satisfied, when he says to himself "that mine adversary had written a book."

"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility. $1.

Apropos to the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of a very famous old classical school, June 21st, 1883, Frank H. Cunningham has prepared, and James R. Osgood & Co. have published a very interesting book, entitled "Familiar Sketches of the Phillips Exeter Academy and Surroundings," illustrated with twenty heliotypes, etc., and portraits of seven eminent leaders of the school. It treats in a bright and familiar way the history of this famous institution, which claims among its alumni such men as Webster, Sparks, Hildreth, Butler, Bancroft and Robert T. Lincoln, with many delightful anecdotes and memorabilia, and accounts of the boy-life of many illustrious Americans. This volume will have great interest for all friends of education, and for all who have boys to prepare for strong lives, as well as for the many graduates and friends of Exeter all over the country.

Consumption.

To prevent night sweats, to ease the cough and arrest emaciation and decline, no other form of malt or medicine can possibly equal Malt Bitters. This original Nutrient and Tonic is rich in nourishment and strength. It tides the patient over the most critical stages of the disease, digests and assimilates food, enriches and purifies the blood. It builds up the system by stimulating into new life the entire process of digestion.

It is reported that a battle was fought on the 15th inst. between the Turks and the Albanians in the Hotil district. It is said that the killed and wounded on the Turkish side numbered 260, and the Albanians also suffered heavily.

Yours without a struggle. JOSH BILLINGS.

One day the latter part of last week a strange man landed from a boat at the town landing in Eliot, near Capt. Tobey's. He was of more than medium height, and wore a full, dark beard and moustache; and the Eliot dames, supposing that he might be one of the gang who had been committing burglaries in that locality recently, fastened their doors and windows and repaired to the attics, where the stranger could be watched and they could not be seen. The burglar, if he was such, wandered slowly around the different houses, apparently taking in the points of the several localities; he appeared to be in no hurry, and much inclined to make himself at home. After taking a careful survey of the different houses and grounds the stranger betook himself to his boat, and without making any trouble sailed peacefully away down the river. What his motive was no one could seem to discover.

The Wonderful Efficacy of

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their virtues. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and act they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisonths blood, and induces an Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are raging, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Evans is charged with a very unpopular proceeding. He is said to have removed several honest and efficient agents, who helped General Raum to make his good record, and has put in their places inexperienced men, and in some cases men who were removed by Gen. Raum for cause. One of the removals is that of Charles W. Eldredge of Boston; his place is filled by a Mr. Horton, who is said to be supported by Benjamin F. Butler and William A. Simmons.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. NO HOME EXEMPT.

The Sources of Those Mysterious Troubles That Come to Every Household Explained.

The following article from the Democrat and Chronicle, of Rochester, N. Y., is of so striking a nature and emanates from so reliable a source, that it is herewith re-published entire. In addition to the valuable matter it contains, it will be found exceedingly interesting:

To the Editor of the Democrat and Chronicle:

SIR—My motives for the publication of the most unusual statements which follow, are, first, gratitude for the fact that I have been saved from a most horrible death, and, secondly, a desire to warn all who read this statement against some of the most deceptive influences by which they have ever been surrounded. It is a fact that to-day thousands of people are within a foot of the grave and they do not know it. To tell how I was caught away from just this position and to warn others against nearing it, are my objects in this communication.

On the first day of June, 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends and waiting for death. Heaven only knows the agony I then endured, for words can never describe it. And yet, if a few years previous, any one had told me that I was to be brought so low, and by so terrible a disease, I should have scoffed at the idea. I had always been uncommonly strong and healthy, had weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, in my own experience, what pain or sickness were. Very many people who will read this statement realize at times that they are unusually tired and cannot account for it. They feel dull and indefinite pains in various parts of the body and do not understand it. Or they are exceedingly hungry one day and entirely without appetite the next. This was just the way I felt when the relentless malady which had fastened itself upon me first began. Still I thought it was nothing; that probably I had taken a cold which would soon pass away. Shortly after this I noticed a heavy, and at times a neuralgic, pain in my head, but as it would come one day and be gone the next, I paid but little attention to it. However, my stomach was out of order and my food often failed to digest, causing at times great inconvenience. Yet I had no idea, even as a physician, that these things meant anything serious or that a monstrous disease was becoming fixed upon me. Candidly, I thought I was suffering from Malaria and so doctored myself accordingly. But I got no better. I next noticed a peculiar color and odor about the fluids I was passing—also, that there were large quantities one day and very little the next, and that a persistent froth and scum appeared upon the surface, and a sediment settled in the bottom. And yet I did not realize my danger, for, indeed, seeing these symptoms continually, I finally became accustomed to them, and my suspicion was wholly disarmed by the fact that I had no pain in the affected organs or in their vicinity. Why I should have been so blind I cannot understand.

There is a terrible future for all physical neglect, an impending danger always brings a person to his senses, even though it may then be too late. I realized, at last, my critical condition and aroused myself to overcome it. And, Oh! how hard I tried! I consulted the best medical skill in the land. I visited all the prominent mineral springs in America and travelled from Maine to California. Still I grew worse. No two physicians agreed as to my malady. One said I was troubled with spinal irritation; another, nervous prostration; another, malaria; another, dyspepsia; another, heart disease; another, general debility; another, congestion of the base of the brain; and so on through a long list of common diseases, the symptoms of all of which I really had. In this way several years passed, during all of which time I was steadily growing worse. My condition had really become pitiable. The slight symptoms I at first experienced were developed into terrible and constant disorders—the little twigs of pain had grown to oaks of agony. My weight had been reduced from 207 to 130 pounds. My life was a torture to myself and friends. I could retain no food upon my stomach, and lived wholly by injections. I was a living mass of pain. My pulse was uncontrollable. In my agony I frequently fell upon the floor, convulsively clutched the carpet and prayed for death. Morphine had little or no effect in deadening the pain. For six days and nights I had the death-premonitory hiccoughs constantly. My urine was filled with tube casts and albumen. I was struggling with Bright's Disease of the kidneys in its last stages.

While suffering thus I received a call from my pastor, the Rev. Dr. Foote, rector of St. Paul's church, of this city. I felt that it was our last interview, but in the course of conversation he mentioned a remedy of which I had heard much but had never used. Dr. Foote detailed to me many remarkable cures which had come under his observation, by means of this remedy, and urged me to try it. As a practicing physician and a graduate of the schools, I cherished the prejudice both natural and common with all regular practioners, and derided the idea of any medicine outside the regular channels being the least beneficial. So solicitous, however, was Dr. Foote, that I finally promised I would waive my prejudice and try the remedy he so highly recommended, I began its use on the 1st day of June and took it according to directions. At first it sickened me; but this I thought was a good sign for me in my debilitated condition. I continued to take it; the sickening sensation departed, and I was able to retain food upon my stomach. In a few days I noticed a decided change for the better as also did my wife and friends. My hiccoughs ceased and I experienced less pain than formerly. I was so rejoiced at this improved condition that, upon what I had believed but a few days before was my dying bed, I vowed, in the presence of my family and friends, should I recover I would both publicly and privately make known this remedy for the good of humanity, wherever and whenever I had an opportunity. I also determined that I would give a course of lectures in the Corinthian Academy of Music in this city, stating in full the symptoms and almost hopelessness of my disease and the remarkable means by which I have been saved. My improvement was constant from that time, and in less than three months I had gained 26 pounds in flesh, became entirely free from pain and I believe I owe my life and present condition wholly to Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy which I used.

Since my recovery I have thoroughly re-investigated the subject of kidney difficulties and Bright's disease, and the truths developed are astounding. I therefore state, deliberately, and as a physician, that I believe more than one-half the deaths which occur in America are caused by Bright's disease of the kidneys. This may sound like a rash statement but I am prepared to fully verify it. Bright's disease has no distinctive symptoms of its own, (indeed, it often develops without any pain whatever in the kidneys or their vicinity), but has the symptoms of nearly every other known complaint. Hundreds of people diedaily whose burials are authorized by a physician's certificate of "Heart Disease," "Apoplexy," "Paralysis," "Spinal Complaint," "Rheumatism," "Pneumonia," and other common diseases, when in reality it was Bright's Disease of the kidneys. Few physicians, and fewer people, realize the extent of this disease or its dangerous and insidious nature. It steals into the system like a thief, manifests its presence by the common symptoms, and fastens itself upon the constitution before the victim is aware. It is nearly as hereditary as consumption, quite as common and fully as fatal. Entire families inherited it from their ancestors, have died, and yet none of the number knew or realised the mysterious power which was removing them. Instead of common symptoms it often shows none whatever, but brings death suddenly, and as such is usually supposed to be heart disease. As one who has suffered, and knows by bitter experience what he says, I implore every one who reads these words not to neglect the slightest symptoms of kidney difficulty. Certain agony and possible death will be the sure result of such neglect, and no one can afford to hazard such chances.

I am aware that such an an unqualified statement as this, coming from me, known as I am, throughout the entire land as a practitioner and lecturer, will arouse the surprise and possible animosity of the medical profession and astonish all with whom I am acquainted, but I make the foregoing statements, based upon facts which I am prepared to produce, and truths which I can substantiate to the letter. The welfare of those who may possibly be sufferers such as I was, is an ample inducement for me to take the step I have, and if I can successfully warn others from the dangerous path in which I once walked, I am willing to endure all professional and personal consequences. A fine awning is being put up at the westerly end of the Eastern railroad station, to shelter passengers from the sun and rain.

The schooner Hattie was at Neal's wharf, Kittery, on the 20th inst., putting out a cargo of coal.

The Cape Ann Advertiser gives the following account of how two prudent fishermen, lost in the fog, escaped some of the sufferings ordinarily experienced by fishermen under similar circumstances: "Before the Alaska sailed on her fishing trip her crew very sensibly agreed and arranged to have a compass, a breaker of water and a sail constantly in each dory, for use in case of accident, and this rule was strictly adhered to. Had the rule also included a moderate allowance of condensed food, a further advantage would have been secured, and in this case much discomfort would have been avoided. The two men in question left the Alaska on Western bank on Monday, May 28th, to visit their trawls, and became enveloped in fog. When the fog lifted they failed to see their own or any other vessel, and they set their sail and headed for the coast, a hundred and seventy miles distant, by compass bearings. For fifty-four hours they sailed without food, or even tobacco, which latter deprivation they lamented most, but their supply of water did much to alleviate their sufferings, which otherwise would have been intense. Wednesday afternoon, the 30th, they picked up a schooner, and secured a good square meal and a comfortable night's rest. The next morning they again set sail in their dory, and proceeded to Halifax, a distance of twenty-five miles, where they were made comfortable at the Sailors' Home, and learned from the American consul that their vessel was at Yarmouth."

James R. Osgood & Co.'s "Maritime Provinces," the only guide-book to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, etc., has just been very thoroughly revised and enlarged, and now appears in a new edition. Personal letters were sent to prominent citizens of nearly two hundred towns and districts in that region; and the corrections and additions suggested by those gentlemen, carefully compiled and verified, and supplemented by several eastward journeys of the editor of the guide-book, have been added to the work. Whoever wishes to visit the famous Bras d' Or, or the Land of Evangeline, or Grand Manan, or other resorts of the realm of summer coolness and perpetual quaintness, will find this book invaluable.

"Thought The Child Would Die."

This is what the sisters of the Home for Catholic Children, in Boston, said about a poor little child who was racking itself almost to death with whooping cough. The child was suddenly taken with severe spasms and vomiting and with frightful pains in the head. The Sisters write: "We used Perry Davis's Pain Killer with the most astonishing results. In a few hours the disease was gone and the child was well."

The steam yacht belonging to A. L. Woodman of Concord, while making her second trip on the Merrimac river on the 18th inst., struck the root of a tree, breaking a hole through her bottom and narrowly escaping sinking in twenty feet of water. The presence of mind of one of several persons aboard, who ran the boat on to a bar, prevented a loss of life.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

HAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1882.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— I have had ringworm humor and saltrheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,

EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Lowell Judge.

Wednesday, June 30. — The plaintiff rested his case.

The deft. called J. L. S. Roberts, whose attention was called to the testimony of Mr. Peto, taken from stenographer's notes, and stated that certain statements of P. were untrue. He told me that he knew all about Philadelphia built engines and Knibbs pipe, and the arrangement put in Hibernia and others when they were built; that they were exactly like the Knibbs relief pipe and valve. Peto asked me for $150; Rankin would not open his mouth short of $250. Kurtz would not testify short of $250, and he (Peto) wanted $250. The conversation on Chestnut street at time we parted is not correctly reported by P. The conversation was this, after he said he wanted $150. I saw both K. and R., and then saw P. and told him what they had said about testifying for expenses and per diem. Spoke about retainer, the $250. He said, after I told him I could not pay it, "well, I'll make it cost your parties a d——d sight more than $250. This was the last conversation I had with him. P. said that he would prevent every witness from coming and testifying for the deft. in this case.

Cross examination. This was before middle of April: did not ask P. to call on me; P. said he was going to Boston; I asked him how much he wanted per day; offered to pay him $5 per day; he told me one witness was in Maryland. P. was second man I saw in Philadelphia.

Mr. Renwick recalled. Examined as to the brass model from the Circuit Court of N. Y. Compared model with the invention described in patent, and an accurate representation of the drawing. The witness explained as to pump, &c. Was asked as to an experiment before testified to by plffs. expert. The jury were cautioned as to danger in using one of the models at too high pressure after it goes to jury room. The evidence was upon pressure relief as to certain models and the reason for Mr. Renwick's theory was explained by use of a model. There was sufficient information regarding water and its manner of being forced by the pumps to prevent the testimony from being "dry," but it was of a technical character, and showing what the pumps could do in certain cases. The testimony relating to the models put in by plaintiff since Mr. Renwick's testimony was given. The evidence on both sides here ended and the case closed.

Wednesday afternoon.

The jury were excused until 9:30 A. M. Thursday, when the arguments are to be made.

Judge Foster addressed the court upon the question of damages, citing certain authorities. Rule in equity is based upon mathematical calculation. The profit is not the rule in law. In this case, there has been no profit. The theory of compensation was discussed. The rule of damages in New Hampshire was stated. The damages must be determined by certain data, and not by imaginative speculation. Mr. Wadleigh was heard briefly in reply.

Recess taken till Thursday at 9:30 A. M., when the argument on behalf of the city will begin.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the country roads in this vicinity were never in better condition than at present.

That a meeting of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth resident in Boston and vicinity is called to meet in Wesleyan hall in that city on Thursday evening, the 21st inst., to see what action will be taken in reference to coming home on the 4th of July.

That the North Atlantic squadron, Rear Admiral Cooper commanding, will visit this port about the 15th of July.

That the squadron will afterward visit Portland and take a cruise to the eastward, and probably drop into our lower harbor again about the time of the Firemen's Muster in August.

That the practice ships Constellation and Dale, with the cadet classes from the Naval Academy at Annapolis on board, will anchor in the lower harbor early in July, and will remain about ten days.

The President Arthur will take a cruise to the eastward in the Despatch this summer, and spend several days in this vicinity.

That Admiral Neally of Kittery is in attendance upon the session of the Great and General Court of the State of New Hampshire.

That he claims to have put in twelve votes (by influence) against Mr. Rollins as United States senator.

That as he failed to prevent a relative, a representative from Dover, from voting for Mr. Rollins, it is possible he may have overated his influence with others.

That the republican delegation from Portsmouth voted unanimously for Mr. Rollins.

That Representative Hadley voted "no" on the proposition to elect Mr. Blair's succes sor at this term, the other republican Portsmouth representatives voting "yes."

That either Senator Laighton's or Representative Urch's school bill will become a law.

That either one will meet the approval of our citizens, judging from the fact that up to Wednesday evening over 500 signatures had been affixed to the petitions asking a change in the school law.

That the result of Wednesday's balloting for senator at Concord was received in this city before it was declared in the convention.

That a very handsome lot is being fitted up in the Sagamore cemetery by order of Hon. E. H. Winchester, the marble work being done at Treat's shop.

THOMAS LOGAN TULLOCK

Died at his residence in Washington on Wednesday, the 20th inst. Mr. Tullock had for some time past shown symptoms which led his friends to apprehend that his end was not far distant, and though the announcement of his death, received by telegraph in our office, caused a shock, it was not a surprise.

Mr Tullock was the son of William Tullock, a Scotchman who came to this country in 1792, and settled in Portsmouth, and for many years was captain of vessels sailing from this port. Capt. Tullock married Mary Neal, and our late townsman Thomas was born in this city Feb. 11th, 1820. Educated at the high school, he entered the auction and commission store of the late Samuel Larkin in 1834, where he remained until 1841, when he became a clerk in the post-office, while Col. Samuel Gookin was postmaster. He afterward went to New York city, and returned in 1845 to enter the employ of Col. Gookin in his foundry and machine shop, as bookkeeper. After this for a while he was in business with the late Wm. P. Gookin, and in 1849 was appointed postmaster, serving until 1853. He then became treasurer of the Portsmouth & Concord railroad, in which position he continued until 1858, when he was chosen secretary of the state, which office he filled for three years.

From May, 1861, to August, 1865, Mr. Tullock was navy agent in this city, an office since abolished, but which during the years of Mr. Tullock's incumbency required much labor on his part. In this trust he disbursed immense sums, of which his accounts and returns were models of accuracy. After this, Mr. Tullock was secretary of the Republican Congressional committee. He held subsequently an appointment under the secretary of the treasury, and in August, 1869, was made collector of internal revenue at Washington, in which position he continued to 1876. In October, 1877, he was appointed assistant postmaster at Washington, and with some slight change of duties remained in the office to his death.

He has been a member of the New Hampshire house of Representatives, where he performed important service in regard to the apportionment of taxes, and held numerous other positions of political, charitable, religious and financial trust. He possed a wonderful adaptability for every duty he was called upon to discharge; he loved work, and never avoided his share of public burthen. He was a devoted adherent of the Methodist church, and a liberal contributor toward its wants on all occasions.

Mr. Tullock was married August 1st, 1824, to Emily Estelle Rogers, who died in this city Jan. 1st, 1865; her younger son, Seymour W. Tullock, survives, and resides in Washington. He was married to his second wife, Miranda B. Swain, who survives him, Jan. 10th, 1866; she has one son, Henry V. Tullock, who was born in 1874.

In all the various public positions Mr. Tullock has been called to fill—and his eminent ability always caused many places to be constantly open to his acceptance—he proved efficient, faithful, painstaking, energetic and judicious.

He was always ready to befriend his townsmen in Portsmouth; and since his residence in Washington his correspondence in relation to the claims of soldiers and their widows, and others, has been constant and unceasing. He devoted many of his spare hours, if such a man can be said to have seen spare hours, to historical researches, and has written many valuable papers upon church and personal history, and genealogical matters, which have been read with much interest.

He was a man of large heart, kindly disposition, devoted to his friends, affectionate to the greatest degree in his family relations, proud of his native state, and strong in his moral, religious and political convictions. In these days, when it is often remarked (as it ever has been) that political position is corrupting in its effects, we can deservedly say of our deceased friend and former fellow townsman,

"Well done, good and faithful servant."

The regatta committee on 4th of July celebration will have a meeting in the city clerk's office this (Thursday) evening at 8:30 o'clock; a full attendance is desired.

The Dover Republican thus speaks of a portrait of the late Hon. John P. Hale, which has been placed in the art gallery of the Phillips academy at Exeter: "We had the pleasure of seeing it at Col. A. Young's, and we think it is a capitally-good piece of work. It represents Mr. Hale as he was in the prime of life, at about fifty years of age. The expression of the face and the glance of the eyes are perfect; that peculiar smile of satisfaction at the corner of his mouth is just what he was accustomed to put on after he had spoken a good speech, or done a good deed, or had gained a good point over his antagonist at the bar, or in the senate. All who have seen it say it is a very faithful likeness of one of New Hampshire's greatest men and Dover's noblest and most distinguished citizens." The portrait was painted by Tenney, and the Republican expresses a hope that he may be employed to paint portraits of a number of Dover's most eminent citizens, as "ornaments to place in the public library building, which Dover must soon have."

The steamer City of Portsmouth on the 20th inst. took a small party to York beach, and with the ebb (the tides running very low) was caught aft on a rock, at her Concordville landing, and hung there until floated off by the flood tide.

Parties from Machias, Me., were in Kittery this week, negotiating for the purchase of the tug Naumkeag.

The steam launch fitted up by Mr. William Locke of Kittery, to run as a passenger boat between this city and Kittery Point, and take parties on excursions, will have a seating capacity of about fifty. She will use the landing of the steamer Mystic near the navy yard bridge at Kittery, and her Kittery Point landing will be at Gerrish's wharf; she will make her trips altogether by way of the back channel, not going out in the main tide at all, and will touch at Fendall's wharf, Lower Foreside, each trip.

The drill-sloop employed on the removal of Gangway rock was at the navy yard on the 20th inst., having a new boiler put in.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man! Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

HEART DISEASE

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of facts.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All send respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others."

THE TOY PISTOL.

Now that the legislature is in session it is hoped that a law will be enacted against the toy pistol, and also to prohibit the sale of caps used to make the explosion. The caps are the principal danger point.—Times.

We join with the Times in hoping the legislature will prohibit the sale of the toy pistol; but our neighbor is mistaken as to the real danger point in the instrument, which is not the cap. There is a small toy in the shape of a pistol, for exploding a detonating wafer, which is much used; but we doubt if the most ingenious boy could manage to hurt himself with it, unless he swallowed it. The "toy" which has proved such an able disseminator of lockjaw and caused so many deaths among boys, does not go with a cap, a small metallic cartridge charged with gunpowder and fulminate being used; and nearly all the accidents with it have happened in the same way, by the accidental discharge of the weapon while the boy is holding its muzzle in his left hand, in the endeavor to cock it, the palm of the hand near the base of the thumb being shockingly burned and badly bruised, and not unfrequently torn, by the explosion.

A year ago the wife of Dr. G. Ward of Falmouth, Mass., ran away with the doctor's hired man, taking several loads of goods, and driving away nearly all his farm stock. Sunday morning, the 17th inst., the doctor awoke to find that she had returned during the night, ransacked the house while he slept, and taken away all his silver ware, his horse and his twelve-year-old daughter, with whom he had lived the past year.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11, 1880.

Dear Bitters—I am here trying to breathe in all the salt air of the ocean, and having been a sufferer for more than a year with a refractory liver, I was induced to mix Hop Bitters with the sea gale, and have found the tincture a glorious result. * * * I have been greatly helped by the Bitters, and am not afraid to say so. Monday morning, the 18th inst., John Frankford, J. L. Robinson and a man named Dunn, noted horse thieves, escaped from the West Chester, Pa., jail, where they were confined awaiting trial. Frankford and Robinson cut their way into Dunn's cell; the trio then climbed upon the roof, and with sheets and blankets scaled the wall. On Saturday, the 16th inst., thirteen men managed to escape from the jail in a similar manner. Frankford some years ago lost an eye while endeavoring to get out of the Lancaster jail.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are rife, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS

OF THE

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 161 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $410,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

The above is from a very reliable farmer, whose daughter was in poor health for seven or eight years, and could obtain no relief until she used Hop Bitters. She is now in as good health as any person in the country. We have a large sale, and they are making remarkable cures. W. H. BISHOP & Co.

Boats, Bicycles and Hay Fever.

Nature has resolved that all people shall not enjoy themselves at once. With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of Hay Fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To snuff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months:—this is their pitiable portion. Whether this form of catarrh is called hay-fever, hay-cold, rose-cold or rose-fever, makes no difference; they suffer just the same. There is no help in high mountain air. These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's Cream Balm. We could cram these columns with grateful letters of the rescued. Try it and join them. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap and pleasant.

Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

A great many people feel themselves gradually failing. They don't know what is the matter, but they suffer from a combination of indescribable aches and pains, which each month seem to grow worse. PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 39 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 39 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

"Thought The Child Would Die."

This is what the sisters of the Home for Catholic Children, in Boston, said about a poor little child who was racking itself almost to death with whooping cough. The child was suddenly taken with severe spasms and vomiting and with frightful pains in the head. The Sisters write: "We used Perry Davis's Pain Killer with the most astonishing results. In a few hours the disease was gone and the child was well."

—It is said that one of the features of Salmi Morse's new play is a slugging match between two bruisers. If that is the case the New York authorities will not interfere with the performance.

GOOD INTEREST and ample security are offered in the six per cent. gold bonds of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad.

—"Well," said the lady whose husband had run away with the school ma'am, "there's one consolation; I know the inside facts of this scandal, and that's more than those spiteful old maids across the way do."

Dr. W. B. Cummings, Sparta, Tenn., says: "I am strongly convinced of the efficacy of Brown's Iron Bitters and heartily recommend them."

—Cyclones are becoming very frequent in the west, and when a young chap takes his girl out riding, she softly murmers: "Hold me tight, Charley. A cyclone might come along and blow me away from you." Even cyclones have their advantages.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On the 21st, in convention, a vote was had for United States senator, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	324
Necessary for a choice	163
Rollins had	115
Bingham	119
Patterson	29
Briggs	29
Stevens	17
Marston	11
Scattering	6

The republican caucus nominees for state officers were elected in convention on the 20th, as follows: A. B. Thompson, secretary of state; Solon A. Carter, state treasurer; Parsons B. Cogswell, state printer; Gilman B. Johnson, commissary general—all of Concord.

Ex-Senator Wadleigh, on being shown the special despatch from Concord, published in the Boston Herald of Thursday, the 21st inst., was much amused. He said that Mr. Chandler had no strength whatever, and in case Mr. Rollins should not be chosen, the new man would not be Mr. Chandler.

The Springfield Republican does not want Oliver Ames re-nominated for election as lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts. That ought to fix Mr. Ames' nomination. The Republican nearly every time stands out for the losing side in Massachusetts politics.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post, who is about as small a specimen of the narrow-minded partisan as can be found, rejoices that Hon. E. H. Rollins has not been re-elected, and hopes he will not be. This is a strong reason why Mr. Rollins should be re-elected.

The civil service board give New Hampshire a wide berth, probably for the season that so few New Hampshire men can be found who are willing to take office under the general government.

A competitive examination of those wishing to enter into service at the custom house at Boston or the departments at Washington, is to be held at the United States court house in Boston on the 28th inst.

News and Notes.

Lyman Peckham, eighteen years old, son of Deacon Peckham of Townsend, Mass., was drowned Tuesday afternoon, the 19th inst., in that town. He was learning to swim with two companions, and jumped from a boat into deep water and sank. The body was recovered.

Capt. Cooper, of the steamer Tropic, just arrived at Philadelphia from Port Antonio, Jamaica, says the Haytien government made an attack on Miragoane from the sea, and were repulsed with the loss of two vessels and many men. He also says that the rebels have captured Jacinet, and have possession of nearly all the western coast.

The Milton Hydraulic Mining company's reservoir, at Smartsville, Cal., containing 650,000,000 cubic feet of water, burst on the 18th inst. It carried away all the bridges. Several lives are reported lost. Loss to reservoir company $75,000.

Rush Tevis of St. Louis was on the 16th inst. married to Kate E. Reese, daughter of Col. H. B. Reese of Lancaster, Ohio, and niece of Gen. Sherman. The affair led to the divorce of Mrs. and Mr. Tevis shortly afterward, he retaining the custody of their daughter, she going to Philadelphia with friends. They have now been reunited.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

EAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,

EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

FITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,

HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Lowell Judge.

Thursday, June 21.

Mr. Roberts began his argument at 9.40 a. m. He described a patent, and who was the inventor, and the mode in which the first inventor obtains his patent, which is a contract between the people and one man. Who owned this invention, the people or Mr. Knibbs? Mr. Roberts read from the law as to the right of the defendant to make defence as to prior use, &c. A prior invention proved, gives a judgement for the deft This invention has been in public use in Philadelphia for a quarter of a century, upon several steam fire engines, and seen by thousands. Nineteen of these machines are found, eleven in Phila. Twelve witnesses attest the fact that the old Philadelphia engine was built with this valve before this alleged invention. The counsel reviewed the evidence, and commented severely upon Mr. Peto and his testimony. He explained the operation of the valve and pipes from the models, and said that Parry & Neiffie could have obtained the same patent that Mr. Knibbs has. Knibbs' patent is void, because Parry & Neiffie gave the same thing to the public two years before, and no man can rob the people of their rights in this respect. Mr. Roberts assured the jury that he had never seen in his 18 years practice such an absolute and complete defence to a patent suit as has been made out in this case.

Mr. Roberts' argument was concluded at 4:30 P. M.

Mr. Wadleigh began his argument at 4:35 and proceeded until 5:35 P. M.

He charged that the evidence as to pressure was manufactured. He did not charge this upon the counsel upon the other side. The foundation for this was made before the opposite counsel came into the case. No patent could stand if such evidence was allowed to stand, if it could be proved by irresponsible witnesses. The proof should be strong, convincing and almost beyond a reasonable doubt, to have effect. Going back to 1858 he said the steam fire engine was in its infancy; described the history of the use and progress of building these engines.

Recess till 9:30 A. M. Friday.

Death of William B. Randall.

Mr. William B. Randall died at his home, No. 1 Pray street, at 1.30 o'clock this morning, after an illness of but three days. The cause of his death was paralysis of the brain. He was a native of this city and had always lived here, having been employed on the navy yard much of the time. He was a Mason for 30 years, a member of St. John's lodge, and at one time filled the office of Senior Deacon. For some years he has been Tyler of St. John's and St. Andrews lodges, Washington Chapter and Davenport Council, and also a member of Newichewannock tribe of Red Men. Mr. Randall was a man of steady and industrious habits, and trustworthy on all occasions. He leaves a wife and three sons, John, who lives in Boston, Horace, an apprentice in the Journal office, and William, an apprentice in the TIMES office. His age was 53 years. The funeral will take place at his late residence on Pray street on Sunday afternoon, and will be attended by the Masons—Times, 21st.

AROUND HOME.

About two hundred excursionists from Manchester arrived in this city on Thursday morning last, for the purpose of taking the steamer City of Portsmouth for York harbor, but on account of the accident to that steamer an arrangement was made with Capt. Rand, of the steamer Appledore, and a large part of them went to the Shoals instead.

The members of the Masonic fraternity in this city are requested to meet at Masonic hall at ten o'clock A. M. on Sunday next, for the purpose of attending divine services at St. John's church; an historical address will be delivered by the rector.

Dr. John W. Parsons, of this city, was chosen president of the New Hampshire Medical society at the recent annual meeting at Concord. This is an excellent choice.

The graduating exercises of the High School class of '83 will take place at the school house on Wednesday, the 27th inst., at three o'clock P. M. The class will give a reception at Franklin hall from eight to nine in the evening. Dancing will follow.

At the meeting of the New Hampshire Medical society in Concord, on the 20th inst., Dr. S. C. Whittier of this city was chosen a member of the board of censors, and Dr. D. W. Jones a member of the council. Dr. A. C. Morse of Newmarket was also elected to the council.

During the trial of the Knibbs valve case in this city, the defendants called a gentleman from Vermont, and it was proposed to ask him what positions he had filled, besides those of a mechanical character. The plaintiff's counsel objected, but the court said it was "well enough to know whether to call the witness deacon or otherwise." The witness went on to recapitulate some of the positions he had filled, among which was that of senator. "Ah, well," remarked Ex-Senator Wadleigh, "If he has been a senator, of course there can be no doubt as to his high character."

St. John's Commandery, Knights Templar, seventy-five men, of Bangor, Me., started June 20th for a fraternal visit to St. Alban commandery of Portland and Hugh De Payens commandery of Melrose, Mass.

The steamer Appledore, which leaves for the Isles of Shoals twice daily from her old berth at the south side of Appledore wharf, has been provided with two new metallic boats. The long boat which was carried on the promenade deck has been removed, and the space it formerly occupied is now used for settees, so that passengers can sit facing the bow and have an opportunity to enjoy the sights on each side of the river as they make their trips up and down the Piscataqua.

The steamer City of Portsmouth arrived at her wharf in this city at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, from York, coming around under her own steam. The stories current on the street, the previous evening, as to injuries caused by her grounding at Concordville, were greatly exaggerated.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

HEART DISEASE

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at relief received from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and evil well purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure sixty of the worst forms of failing of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

(☞For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All recommend her as an angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

The Vanity of the Men.

Mrs. L. M. Child, in a recent article on the "Woman Question," pays her compliments to the other sex as follows:

"Personal vanity has been universally stigmatized as peculiarly a female weakness; but I believe there is no difference between the sexes in this respect than that caused by the customs of society, which compel women to depend on personal attractions to obtain rank, wealth, luxury, elegance, and all other agreeable things which human nature is prone to covet.

I think there is sufficient proof that men have by nature quite as much vanity as women. Lord Byron for a long time lived on potatoes and vinegar, for fear his figure would cease to be slender; and no belle was ever more sensitive about a personal defect than he was concerning his lameness. When hair powder was in fashion gentlemen would sit for hours under the hands of barbers in order to be presentable at parties. The clubs and pigtails that were worn so long a time, required the assistance of a servant. They were not so deforming as the chignons, but they were sufficently ugly, as well as unclean, visibly soiling the collar and scattering powder over the coat. Did women ever wear bonnets more inconvenient, more exposed to injury, and more difficult to be repaired than the high, stiff, bell-crowned hats which for so many years were considered essential to respectability? At one time gentlemen took to wearing long pointed shoes, curved like a horn and extending half a yard from the foot. They proved so inconvenient, by catching in everything, that a chain was added to the point to fasten it to knee. Did fashionable women ever do anything so ridiculous?"

The supreme court of Massachusetts has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of James Fitzgerald, who attempted to fleece Hon. Charles Francis Adams at the "bunko" game.

Skinny Men.

"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility. $1.

—"Woman's rights!" exclaimed a Philadelphia man when the subject was broached: "What more rights do they want? My wife bosses me; our daughters boss us both, and the servant girl bosses the whole family. It's time the men were allowed some rights."

Cure Yourself.

Don't pay large doctor's bill. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt, of two 3 cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

—The press report of the entry of the Czar of Russia into Moscow has this remarkable conclusion: "The general verdict is that the pageant was a great success. Gen. Sturm, the head master of ceremonies, was thrown from his horse and had his skull fractured." What Gen. Sturm would think of it we shall never know.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body. Try a bottle and realize it.

—They were courting. "Don't sit so near me," she said. "I ain't near you," said he. "You are." "I ain't." "But you will be." "No, I won't, neither." "Then you'd better go home, for I hain't got no use for you." No cards.

The Wonderful Efficacy of

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give heat and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are rife, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS

— OF THE —

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Beloit, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

—A New York dude recently declined a piece of shad for dinner. He had been told that fish food made brain, and didn't want to unfit himself for the position he occupied in society.

—A paper heads a column of personals, "Men and Things"—which certainly is not a gallant or gentlemanly way of referring to the other sex.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men Estimate Some Things which they don't understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the chest, are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England means when "women folks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the doctor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges—who deserve a better fate—creep around, broom or utensils in hand, up stairs and out-of-doors, doing that woman's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls—losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drop a word in your receptive ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That back-ache—that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, heart and lungs? End it at once by the application of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary back-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plasters will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell—but to heal. It is a remedy which never yet broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggist has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word Capcine cut in the middle.

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

"Thought The Child Would Die."

This is what the sisters of the Home for Catholic Children, in Boston, said about a poor little child who was racking itself almost to death with whooping cough. The child was suddenly taken with severe spasms and vomiting and with frightful pains in the head. The Sisters write: "We used Perry Davis's Pain Killer with the most astonishing results. In a few hours the disease was gone and the child was well."

Lightning struck a pine tree in Centre Harbor, about one-half mile from the telegraph office, and followed the wire into it. Mr. Farrell, the operator, was badly stunned, and others in the store were affected.

GOOD INTEREST and ample security are offered in the six per cent. gold bonds of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad.

A great land slide is reported as having occurred at Franconia on the 20th inst.

Dr. W. B. Cummings, Sparta, Tenn., says: "I am strongly convinced of the efficacy of Brown's Iron Bitters and heartily recommend them."

The Pemigewasset Valley railroad, recently built, is not in good condition, having been badly washed by the late heavy rains.

Bourbon Whiskey

is a necessity in every household. A really reliable brand may be found in the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon," bottled by Messrs. Chester H. Graves & Sons, of Boston, and to be obtained in bottles only, bearing their signature over each cork, from leading Grocers and Druggists everywhere.

Recent accidents: Elias Packard of Canterbury, two legs broken; Charles Trask of Milford, leg broken; Mrs. Griffin of Groton, leg broken; Henry Ham of Gonic, arm broken.

A great many people feel themselves gradually failing. They don't know what is the matter, but they suffer from a combination of indescribable aches and pains, which each month seem to grow worse. The only sure remedy known that will counteract this feeling and restore perfect health is Brown's Iron Bitters. By rapid assimilation it purifies the blood, drives out disease, gives health and strength to every portion reached by the circulatory system, renews wasted tissues and restores robust health and strength.

The coach from Helena to Butte, Montana, was robbed by highwaymen on the morning of the 20th inst.

THE building of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad is being vigorously pushed forward. The six per cent. gold bonds of this road are a safe and profitable investment.

Raymond's Vacation Excursions.

The taste for travel is widespread among the American people, and the desire to see more of the world than lies within one's own dooryard appears to increase continually. Every year finds the volume of vacation travel growing, and one of the agences which has contributed most largely to its development is located at No. 240 Washington street, where Messrs. W. Raymond and I. A. Whitcomb arrange those very popular vacation excursions which have become so popular within a few years. There is no more comfortable way of making a pleasure trip than to join one of the Raymond parties and travel over some one of the routes they lay out so admirably, the price of a ticket covering all traveling expenses, including the care and transportation of baggage, and board and lodging. Two things assured a member of one of these parties are comfort and economy.

Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb have arranged for the month of July five grand trips, which will afford admirable opportunity for a vacation visit to some of the most noted resorts in the country. Parties are now being formed, and those wishing to join will do well to do so at once. The first party leaves Boston on Monday, July 2d, the trip including an excursion by steamer on Lake Memphremagog from Newport; an extended round of the White mountain resorts and points of interest, with visits to Plymouth, the summit of Mount Washington, an excursion through the White Mountain Notch to Upper Bartlett, etc.

The second party will leave Boston on Tuesday, July 10th, and will return Saturday, July 14th, visiting in the meantime Saratoga, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Rutland, Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., and Plymouth, N. H., and passing over some of the most romantic and historic routes of travel in New York and New England.

The third excursion will be to Lake Winnipesaukee, Plymouth, N. H., Montreal, the Lachine rapids, Quebec, the wonderful Saguenay river, the falls of Montmorenci, and Lake Memphremagog; a nine-days' trip through the lake and mountain regions of New England, and an extended tour through the most picturesque regions of Canada, the party to leave Boston on Tuesday, July 10th, and to return Wednesday, July 18th.

The party for the fourth trip will leave Boston on Tuesday, July 10th, and return Saturday, July 21st, and will visit the Lehigh Valley, Mauch Chunk, the famous "Switch-Back" or Gravity railroad, Glen Onoko, the historic Wyoming valley, Seneca lake, Long point, Watkins glen, Niagara falls, Toronto, the Thousand islands, the St. Lawrence river, with all its rapids, Montreal, Newport, (Vt.) Lake Memphremagog and Plymouth (N. H.,) making an eleven-days' trip over the most romantic routes of travel in Pennsylvania, New York, Canada and New England, with visits to many interesting places of resort.

The fifth excursion will be the same as the first, the party leaving Boston on Monday, July 16th, and returning Saturday, July 21st. Descriptive catalogue can be obtained by addressing Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb at their Boston office.

Everybody's Going to Dover

To see the Handsomest Woman in the World, and 25 Performing Elephants, 1,000 Wild Beasts, Colossal Circus in Three Rings, and 4-Paw's Roman Hippodrome. The Great Forepaugh Show exhibits at Dover Tuesday, July 3d.

In addition to a grandly great circus in three great rings, and a monster menagerie of 1,000 wild beasts, all transported by four great railway trains, there is to be a great, grand, free Procession on the day Forepaugh exhibits there. Every town in this county will be represented in this huge, highway, holiday parade. In addition to this, the great pageant of "Cleopatra" and "Lalla Rookh" will be presented in the show parade. This latter spectacle is described as being the most gorgeous ever seen upon the streets of an American city. The loveliest lady in the land has been secured to personify the beautiful Eastern Princess, Lalla Rookh, whom poets describe as "more beautiful than any of those heroines whose names and loves embellish the songs of Persia and Hindostan; more perfect than the divinest images of the House of Azor." In this gorgeous, glittering, Oriental pageant, Lalla Rookh is seen reclining in her sumptuous howdah, borne aloft upon the back of a ponderous and kingly elephant, the largest on this continent, whose embroidered velvet trappings touch the ground; a fair young female slave sits fanning the Princess through the rose colored veils, with feather's of argus-pheasant's wings, and the lovely troupe of Tartarian and Cashmerean maids of honor ride upon each sideo f the Princess upon small Arabian horses. Rajahs and Mogul Lords follow, accompanied by Cavaliers in costly armor, mounted upon

"Steeds with their housings of rich silver spun,
Their chalos and pohrels glittering in the sun;
And Camels [illegible] o'er with Yemen's shells,
Shaking to every breeze their light-toned bells."

In keeping with the author of Lalla Rookh's description of this grand, glittering, lavish and luxuriant spectacle, are seen the Guards of the great Kedar Khan, with their silver battle-axes and maces of gold, followed by the Great Nazir, or Chamberlain of the Harem, and the reilnue of the Court of Delhi, mounted upon elephants, camels and Arabian horses, decorated in Oriental trappings, and bearing aloft the royal standards—the entire scene recalling to the beholder the glories and the grandeur of the distant Indies; the whole forming the most magnificent, picturesque and realistic Oriental spectacle ever presented in the New World, requiring the expenditure of a hundred thousand dollars in its preparation, eclipsing all displays of pageantry ever produced by any exhibition, and in itself worth miles of travel to behold. Remember, this superb spectacle is presented between the hours of 9 and 10 A. M., and is a great, grand, gorgeous, free public festival for all to look at and admire.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

PAWTUCKET, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.
C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.
I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is sent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.
Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Lowell Judge.

Friday.—Mr. Wadleigh resumed his closing argument for the plaintiff at 9.30 a. m. The evidence as to valves for relieving undue pressure was discussed, and Mr. Bean's testimony was commented upon.

Mr. Furlong suggested this to Mr. Bean as a by pass and not for relief, because in Boston they had hydrant pressure. Never thought of such a thing as relief until after Knibbs' invention. Bean admits that he can name no man living that he ever named it to before Knibbs' invention except Mr. Roberts, and this was a year after he had seen Knibbs' invention in the Arbor Reed. Mr. Wadleigh contended that the testimony of the defendant's witness as to the prior use of this invention was not to be relied upon as against the validity of this patent with its broad seal of the United States. He instanced separate cases, and discussed the probabilities of the witnesses being certain as to dates. The counsel then discussed the testimony of Mr. Renwick, the defendant's expert. He approached this part of the address gingerly, because Mr. R. "fixed the Great Eastern." He had profound respect for a man who could repair a steamship in the mode described by Mr. Renwick. Mr. Wadleigh read from a reported decision as to the rule in these cases, and contended that the jury must be convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that the patent is invalid.

Mr. Wadleigh in closing discussed the question of damages, the profits of the invention to the infringers and stated what he regarded as the law in this respect. He spoke of the patent with the broad seal of the U. S. upon it, and the rights of the patentee to have his case tried not in the newspapers but upon law and evidence by the jury. His argument closed at 12:10, and court adjourned to 2 p. m.

Judge Lowell's charge began at 2:00 o'clock P. M.

The province of the court and of the jury was explained. It is admitted that the valves put inside the pumps in the two Dover engines are as much of an infringement as the outside pump; no consequence whether under the first or second claim in the patent. The law has been stated by both counsel; it is hard sometimes for the inventor, and sometimes for other people. Different kinds of patents were alluded to. A patent is granted to any one satisfying the patent office that he is the original inventor; he must show that he is the first inventor. The question in this case turns mainly on the fact whether Mr. Knibbs was the first inventor of the pipe as described, etc. Questioned whether this applies to any but piston pumps; I have concluded to rule, for the purposes of this case, that the patent applies to piston pumps only, and so rule.

Two defences are relied upon by the city of Dover, the defendant; one, that a pipe giving relief had been put on a rotary pump, and the same could have been put upon a piston pump without exercise of invention; it is putting an old thing to a new use; that is not patentable. Does it require an invention to do, or would a skilled mechanic or pump maker be able, seeing it on a rotary pump, to put it on the other without exercise of invention? The first question is, whether it is substantially the same thing, or whether it was used for the same thing; this has been argued. The want of this discharge on rotary pump was explained; defendants claim that when there was too much pressure on the discharge side they could open a cock and relieve it; the question is, whether they ever did. There is evidence on the part of piff. that it was used for a relief. Evidence as to the "Eclipse" was referred to. Evidence has been introduced that this engine went to Chicago before 1860; this is discredited and disbelieved by the piff., as evidence got up after the event, and with great evidence that the cities are liable to be sued or liable to be sued, and with an immense amount of pecuniary interest fo[illegible] the defeat of this patent, it would [illegible]y to get witnesses such as they are [illegible]come and say what they saw some [illegible]wenty-four years ago. It is for the jury to say how this is, how witnesses appear, etc.

The other defence is anticipation. Of the fire engines made in Philadelphia, nineteen in all, one is as good as 100, and if an invention is operated for a day or hour it is just as good as if known for 100 years. Engine referred to is the "Philadelphia," built by Rainey & Neaffie. Rainey and Parry, one the maker and the other the designer, say when first built she had a pipe running from the discharge side of the engine; on testing her in the yard they found that if all gates were shut while filling boiler she would stop on the centre, and before delivering engine they put in a pipe for the purpose of relieving pressure; in this state she was delivered, and used for about four months, and then brought back and three cocks put between vacuum chamber and boiler, and connected, and it is said they used this pipe at fires for a relief pipe. If this pipe was substantially the relief pipe or Knibbs pipe, doing the same work in the same way, it is an anticipation; or if it was capable of doing the same work in the same way, it is an anticipation. Was it before the three cocks were put on, substantially a relief pipe?

The third defence is on the question whether Mr. Knibbs' invention was put into public use before May 13th, 1862, with his consent—two years before the date of patent. Evidence which defts. rely upon in this respect is that pipe was put in the Jason C. Osgood in the city of Troy without objection, and has since been in use. This was about the middle of January, 1862, or about four months before the two years began to run. Piff. says this was an experimental use. A man may experiment to see how his machine is going to work; if used experimentally in public, like a pavement put to see how it would wear, of course it would not invalidate the patent. Mr. Knibbs says he considered it was put in the engine as an experiment. Defendants say, if it was an experiment, it was satisfactory and the experiment was completed when he had seen it work, and it must have been complete before May 13th, 1862. This is a question for the jury.

Question of damages. I feel bound to say the jury have no right to guess. I am sorry the law is so. I don't think it ought to be. What piff. has lost is the chance of selling this thing to the city of Dover and other cities which want fire engines, but there is now no means of ascertaining what would be the fair royalty. This has attempted to be enacted by Congress. It is not easy to give the means in this case; courts have held that there must be a basis of calculation. True, if a trespass, there may be nominal damages, which would carry costs; but there is no means of assessing the value of a by-pass or a pipe like this, that I know of. In old Saxon times there was a price set on everything. There is a statute in most states estimating the value of a man's life not exceeding $5000. Unless you can find some data you must give nominal damages, unless you find the defence is made out.

I have ruled against defendants' point which says that this applies to rotary pumps. I rule that the prior use must have been with the knowledge and consent of the piff. As to the J. C. Osgood, I rule that if it was an experiment, and as long as it was an experiment, it would not bar a patent; if it ceased to be an experiment before May 13th, 1862, it would. If a piston pump was calculated in normal operation to relieve the pump, it is of no consequence if used at fires or not.

The judge closed his charge about three o'clock. The plaintiff saved exception to the rule of nominal damages; the deft. saved exception as to the knowledge and consent of Knibbs.

The jury retired shortly after three o'clock, and at four returned a verdict for the defendant.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J

GOSSIPS SAY

That there were taken from the Harding wier at Pocahontas point on Friday morning 125 barrels of menhaden.

That twenty fishing vessels were in the lower harbor, and were abundantly supplied with bait from the wiers on Friday; and that many more vessels from Gloucester are on the way to this port, to be similarly treated.

That the Stedman cottage at Newcastle is to have a stone tower forty feet high.

That Rock Cottage, on the Albee farm at Newcastle, is to be torn down.

That the farmers are rejoicing over the prospects of a splendid hay crop.

That one of the school bills introduced into the legislature at Concord seems to be a mongrel concern after all.

That the fog in the lower harbor on Friday morning was so dense that objects twenty feet distant could not be seen.

That the Portsmouth telephone circuit numbers ninety subscribers.

The Newburyport Commandry of Knights Templar, Em. Sir William P. Sanders commander, accompanied by the Newburyport band, will arive in this city this morning at quarter before ten o'clock, and be received at the Eastern railroad station by De Witt Clinton Commandry, Em. Sir Calvin Page commander, and escorted through some of the principal streets to Richards avenue, where carriages will be taken by the visiting Sir Knights for the hotel Wentworth, where they will spend the day, returning to Newburyport by a late train in the afternoon.

The schooner Cocheco, Seaward master, sailed from New York for this port on the 20th inst., with coal to J. Albert Walker. Capt. Seaward is one of the most energetic yet prudent skippers that the Piscataqua has furnished of late years, and keeps his vessel pretty constantly on the move.

The schooner Adeliza, of this port, Frisbee master, arrived at New York on the 21st inst. with a cargo of fruit from Baracoa.

J. B. Davis' Inter-Ocean Circus will exhibit in this city July 21st.

A meetiog of the sons of Portsmouth resident in Boston was held in Wesleyan hall in that city on the evening of the 21st inst., to take action upon the invitation extended by the citizens of Portsmouth to her absent sons to return to their "native heath" on the 4th of July. Woodward Emery of Cambridge was chosen chairman, and, after brief speeches, the following-named gentlemen were appointed as a committee to make all necessary arrangements for the visit: Messrs. Charles L. Damrell, James R. Stanwood, C. Morris Tredick, J. Lewis Haines, Clarence O. Walker, A. S. Gerrish, F. D. Tarleton, E. Scott Owen, Charles E. Dennett, Ezra A. Stevens, Jr., Horace Stickney, Manning K. Rand and J. Edward Knowlton.

Col. Thomas B. Rand has been elected vice president of the New York Hotel Keepers' association, in which action we see a son of Portsmouth honored by a responsible position which he is abundantly qualified to fill.

On Friday last there were eighteen guests at the Sea Cottage, York beach; and the reports from all along the beach, from York harbor to Cape Neddick, showed the number of boarders to be about double what had arrived on the same date last year.

New Hampshire Legislature.

An agreement was made between the friends of the various senatorial candidates, on the 21st inst., that no binding vote for senator should be taken until Tuesday, the 26th, the "law being saved" by a single vote for each candidate in the convention each legislative day until the date specified, this allowing the "assembled wisdom" to go home to spend Sunday.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Skin Diseases

Fifteen years of Suffering.—Body covered with Humor.—Had Twelve Doctors.—Paid out $500.—No Cure.—No Hope.

I will now state that I made a miraculous cure of one of the worst cases of skin disease known. The patient is a man forty years old; had suffered fifteen years. His eyes, nose and nearly his whole body presented a frightful appearance. Had had the attention of twelve different physicians, who prescribed the best remedies known to the profession, such as iodide potassium, arsenic, corrosive sublimate, sarsaparilla, etc. Had paid $500 for medical treatment with but little relief. I prevailed upon him to use the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. He did so and was completely cured. The skin on his head, face, and many other parts of his body, which presented a most loathsome appearance, is now as soft and smooth as an infant's, with no scar or trace of the disease left behind. He has now been cured 12 months.

Helpless for Eight Years.—Unable to Walk for One Year.—Got alone on Hands and Knees.—A Wonderful Cure.

I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For seventeen years I suffered with Salt Rheum; I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was not able to walk only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one I did the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. So my parents tried everything that came along. I saw your Advertisement, and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The CUTICURA brought the humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, until now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I thank you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter a fraud, let them write or come and see me, and find out for themselves. WILL McDONALD,

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION." Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

HEART DISEASE

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be textually called the "True Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is seriously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for great and such evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimony shows.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others."

An Effectual Insect Killer.

Kerosene, showered upon plants, is very penetrating, and destroys insects in all stages of development, even to the eggs. Two parts of kerosene to one of sour milk is a proper proportion. If fresh milk is not at hand, condensed milk, diluted to the same strength, may be employed. The mixture is successfully used for the scale insect in the orange groves of Florida, and can be, it is thought, employed to destroy chinch-bugs. A mixture of water and three per cent of kerosene is deadly to the bugs, and does no harm to the growing corn. By spraying a few outside rows, nearest a ripening field of wheat, the whole area of corn can be protected from the second brood of the destructive chinch-bug. The apparatus for the cheapest and best application of the emulsion is yet to be devised. Doubtless a sprinkler drawn by two horses could be made, that, by passing between the rows of corn, would spray them quickly and effectively.

All farmers seriously troubled with insects should give kerosene a trial. By using a cheap grade of petroleum, the expense is small, and with the necessary apparatus for applying the emulsion, a safe and successful war may be waged against the insect enemies. Much depends upon promptness and energy: therefore, the farmer should be prepared to act at the earliest warning. A barrel of kerosene, and a garden force-pump, with necessary attachments, ready for use, may come to be as essential a part of a well-equipped farm, or fruit and vegetable garden, as fire extinguishers in a city. Try the mixture on a small area, to determine the proper strength. It may be that one proportion is best for the potato-beetle, and another for the cabbage-worms, etc., but the emulsion must never be so strong as to injure the plants upon which it is sprayed.—American Agriculturist for July.

The Wonderful Efficacy of

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the medicine of all others which should be taken in times like these, when, when malaria and other epidemics are raging, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25 cents per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE

6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS

OF THE

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $40,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to Honest.

In these days of adulteration and fraud in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time. W. B. Everts, A. M., Charleston, S. C.

Serious riots against the Jews have occurred at St. Gall, Switzerland. A number of Jewish shops were pillaged, and the police, who were endeavoring to stop the excesses, were stoned. Soldiers were summoned to quell the disturbance.

Boats, Bicycles and Hay Fever.

Nature has resolved that all people shall not enjoy themselves at once. With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of Hay Fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To snuff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months:—this is their pitiable portion. Whether this form of catarrh is called hay-fever, hay-cold, rose-cold or rose-fever, makes no difference; they suffer just the same. There is no help in high mountain air. These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's Cream Balm. We could cram these columns with grateful letters of the rescued. Try it and join them. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap and pleasant.

An Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Inquirer (Democratic) says that Mr. Hendricks recently remarked to him: "Did you ever think what a task lies before a democratic president who succeeds a long republican administration? Just think of 100,000 federal offices to fill, and 10,000,000 applicants for them. I am quite willing that any man who covets the task shall have it."

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, & etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

Perfect health depends upon a perfect condition of the blood. Pure blood conquers every disease and gives new life to every decayed or affected part. Strong nerves and perfect digestion enables the system to stand the shock of sudden climatic changes. An occasional use of Brown's Iron Bitters will keep you in a perfect state of health. Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations followed by night sweats and cough, prompt measure of relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs; therefore use the great anti-scrofulous or blood-purifier and strength-restorer, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to Cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections it has no equal. Sold by druggists. —At the wrong door: At the Terrace baths last Sunday an impatient young man walked up to the door of one of the compartments and knocking on the same, testily enquired: "When in blazes are you going to get those trousers on?" A GOOD INVESTMENT. — One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The "Living Skeleton."

The man who was known as the "Living Skeleton," died and was embalmed, after having been exhibited at cheap museums. He is said to have weighed 46 pounds when he died, having been reduced to this dreadful state of emanciation by long continued dyspepsia. In his case dyspepsia meant money in his pocket, for it kept him thin. People who want to keep themselves so thin by dyspepsia as to exhibit for "Living Skeletons," ought not to take Perry Davis's Pain Killer, for it drives dyspepsia out.

THE COMING FAIR.

Third Annual Exhibition of the New England Manufacturers and Mechanics' Institute, to be held at Boston Sept. 3, 1883.

Rugged New England, in all that pertains to the advancement of her people, is always in front. Her prestige in science, manufactures and art has never been successfully disputed. The more skeptical portion of the people may possibly consider such a statement as somewhat rash, but the proof will be clearly shown to them when they visit the third great annual exhibition of the New England Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Institute, which will be held in their spacious and elegant exhibition building on Huntington avenue, Boston. The date of opening will be September 5th, and it will cover the inclusive dates (Sundays excepted,) to Nov. 3d.

To New England agriculturists this exhibition will be one of special importance, inasmuch as it will give an opportunity, not to be missed, to all parties interested in agriculture, to personally see and examine the resources of their home states. Many New England farmers never visit their sister states, and in consequence thereof are unable to form a comparative estimate of the productive capacity of each state in their own line. No matter what the nature of a pursuit a man is engaged in may be, there is no more sure road to success than an interchange of ideas with his fellow-men. This interchange, however, is not always obtainable, but this year the Institute offers unusual facilities for such an exchange.

In connection with these home exhibits, there will be valuable adjuncts in the shape of extensive displays of the agricultural, mineral and forestry resources of the sunny south. Such displays and opportunity to observe and examine the same will prove of incalculable benefit to farmers. In many sections of our home states, the soil is capable of producing in a most satisfactory degree, cereals and plants so profitably grown in the south.

To all those interested in the science and manufactures of New England an unending source of instruction and information can be obtained by this great exhibition. The production of choice fabrics can be seen daily, in process of manufacture upon the looms. Carpet-weaving, mule-spinning, etc., in a thousand forms, can also be observed. The processes of heliotyping, watch-making, printing and general manufactures, will be represented in abundance.

One of the most prominent features of this exhibition, and a thoroughly interesting one, will be the spacious art galleries, where in profusion will be shown the works of many of the most celebrated artists and sculptors from both home and abroad. Last year the art exhibit was most successful, but that of this year will be such as was probably never surpassed in this country.

Of much interest to the women of New England will be the fact that this year the executive committee of the institute have made arrangements whereby a special women's department will be made a prominent feature of the exhibition. This department will be presided over and managed solely by women. Without doubt, by many this will be considered an innovation upon the general plan upon which exhibition fairs are usually carried out, but it is due to women that they have as full a representation of their capabilities in the industrial line, as the sterner sex. This department will be under the general management of Mrs. Henriette L. S. Wolcott, who will be assisted in her labors by a number of the most prominent ladies of Boston and vicinity.

It would be well to bear in mind the fact that during the months of September, October and November, Boston will be replete with attractions of much merit and interest, and visitors from this section will find it much to their advantage to visit the "Hub" during those months.

Legislative Caucus.

The supporters of different candidates for United States senator in opposition to the re-election of Senator Rollins, are in their action "distinct like the billows, but one like the sea." Great unanimity prevailed in the Tappan party, which held its own caucus in the room of one of the representatives from Strafford county. The meeting was called to order by the junior partner of the law firm of Copeland & Edgerly; Mr. J. A. Edgerly was chosen chairman, and Mr. Edgerly of Great Falls secretary. Mr. James A. Edgerly of Somersworth presented the claims of Hon. Mason W. Tappan as a candidate for senator. He was followed in a neat speech by Mr. J. A. Edgerly of the same place. Mr. Tappan was nominated by acclamation, on motion of Mr. Edgerly. After a speech in which Counsellor Edgerly of Great Falls advised the Tappan men to stick, the meeting on motion of Edgerly of Somersworth, adjourned.

The record of the voting in the legislative convention shows the power of the caucus, as exemplified by the unanimity with which the Tappan party has "stuck."

Civil Service Reform.

Concerning the civil service law the Washington correspondent of the Boston Post has a few words to say, and thus servies notice on the ward workers and wire pullers of the party that they need not expect to be invited to sit down at the government table in case the democratic party should win at a national election:

Moreover, the civil service law is in force. No matter what may have been the opinion concerning this measure it has become law, and no changes of party can turn out the clerks and replace them with democrats. The people who vote believe in this act, and it was really passed by Congress in obedience to popular opinion. In view of these facts it is evident to every one who does not want to be deceived, that the cry "turn out the rascals" is meaningless, so far as it is intended to indicate the purpose of the democratic party to make a clean sweep of the petty placeholders. There is something strange about the people who are so fatuous as to adopt for a war cry what their enemies have successfully used against them as a reproach.

Lillian Russell, the actress who recently eloped to Europe with a fourth-rate play-wright, is the wife of Harry Braham, a relative of John Braham, who was for several years the musical director of the orchestra at the Hotel Wentworth. It has been widely published that the erratic dame was the wife of Mr. John Braham, but such is not the case.

We understand that Joseph Dow, fish warden of East Salisbury, has received a letter from fish commissioner Brackett giving him permission to allow fishermen to catch sea shad, but the crank on our side says that if any of the Joppa boys catch any he shall seize their apparatus. It is a saying "as ancient as the sun" that law is sense, and if the shad, after tarrying a day or two in our harbor, can go to Portsmouth and are caught at will, we would like to ask why they may not as well be caught here. We are not exactly nihilists, but still we do hope that our fishermen will catch all the shad they can.—Newburyport Germ.

Mr. John W. Webster was ordained and installed pastor of the first Christian church at Kittery Point on Wednesday, June 20th, by the executive boards of the Rockingham and the York and Cumberland Christian conferences. The examination took place in the forenoon, and was very satisfactory. The services in the afternoon were well attended, the exercises consisting of a voluntary by the choir; invocation by Elder Joel Wilson; reading of scripture by Rev. W. W. Dow, pastor of the Congregational church at Kittery Point; prayer by Rev. James R. Phillips of York; sermon by Rev. N. T. Ridlon of Saco; prayer of ordination by Rev. John A. Goss of Portsmouth; charge to candidate by Rev. Charles E. Goodwin of Pine Point, Me.; right hand of fellowship by Rev. John M. Mugridge of Ogunquit; charge to the church, by Rev. D. B. Murray of Manchester, N. H.; benediction by the pastor.

Trains on the Kennebunk & Kennebunkport road, two a day, began regular trips on Monday of last week. The regular summer arrangement goes into effect to-day.

On Thursday morning, the 15th inst., Albion Adams, of Ogunquit, twenty years of age, went out in his dory to fish, since which time he has not been heard from, and as his oars and the sprit to his sail were picked up on the following Monday, it is supposed his dory was capsized in a squall, and being heavily ballasted sank at once. He was a young man of much promise, and at one time edited a semi-monthly paper which obtained quite a large circulation in Ogunquit and vicinity.

Numerous invitations were sent out last week to the wedding of A. H. Moody to Miss Marshall, daughter of the late Natt. G. Marshall of York, the wedding to occurr at the Marshall house, York harbor, on Tuesday evening, the 26th inst.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

FAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. THE RETURN OF THE SONS.

A meeting of the Re-union committee was held at the Common Council room Friday evening.

Col. J. Horace Kent was elected Chief Marshal, and marshal Entwistle was appointed a committee to notify Mr. Kent of his election and ask his acceptance. The marshal attended to this duty, and returned with the acceptance of Mr. Kent.

The corresponding secretary reported that several organizations in this city had accepted invitations to take part in the procession.

The Regatta Committee reported their programme, as published elsewhere.

The declination of Dr. James R. May as chairman of the literary committee was accepted, and Geo. E. Hodgdon was appointed in his stead.

The chief marshal and the chairman of the committee on reception and chairman of the committee on programme were appointed to arrange the most convenient place for the reception of the visitors. It was stated that all of Franklin halls had been hired for the day and evening.

A committee was appointed to arrange for sports on the Parade in the afternoon. Mr. William H. Moure was appointed to arrange for these sports. Several prizes will be offered, which will be announced hereafter. Entries may be made with Alderman Atwell at his store on Market street.

Adjourned to Monday evening.

A letter was received on Saturday from one of the Boston committee of arrangements, saying that the delegation from that city would number 300, and that they would be accompanied by the Boston Cadet band.

SHIPS FOR SALE.

The secretary of the navy calls for sealed proposals for the purchase of the vessels which have been stricken from the Navy Register under the act of Congress approved August 5th, 1882, such proposals to be at the navy department in Washington by noon on Monday, Sept. 24th. The vessels offered number twenty-four, including two iron-clads, the Dictator and Roanoke; and the New Orleans, an unfinished wooden line-of-battle ship of the old style, which has been on the stock at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., for seventy years past, and which is appraised at $200, the same value as is placed upon the tug Sorrel, a little boat now at League island. The vessels will be sold for cash to whoever may offer the highest prices therefor, above their appraised values, which for the four offered for sale at this navy yard as follows: Congress, $25,400; Guard, $2,800; Kansas, $6,100; Sabine, $10,400.

FREIGHTS.

Freight engagements to this port reported last week were one schooner of 278 tons from Cow Bay, Cape Breton, with coal at $1.90 per ton; one schooner from Perth Amboy, with coal at $1.80; one schooner from Hoboken, to discharge at Dover, with coal at $1.20 per ton, net.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

A letter was received last week from the chief engineer of the fire department of Schenectady, N. Y., saying that one if not two of the fire companies of that city will be at the Firemen's Muster.

The management of the Eastern and Maine Central railroads have agreed to transport engines and hose carriages, and their companies, to and from the muster at half rates.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J.

SATURDAY, June 23d.

Jerry Murphy—not the Portsmouth Jerry, who is also a regular customer of the court, but the Jerry who was allowed to go on probation on Friday—was before the court on a charge of drunkenness. When he left the court room on Friday he no doubt intended to get out of the city; but a number of barrooms got in his way, and capsized his good resolutions and himself. He pleaded to be let off just this once more, and suggested that an officer could be sent to the railroad station with him, to see that he escaped temptation; but he was ordered to the county farm at Brentwood for four months, and to pay costs of $6.90.

BOAT RACES ON THE 4TH.

The Regatta committee for the Fourth of July celebration have arranged the following programme. The races to commence at about 12 o'clock, noon, at which time the tide serves right:

Single scull Wherry race for prizes of $10, $5, and $3.

Double-scull Pleasure Boat race, open to all boats over 12 foot keel, for prizes of $10, $5 and $3.

Six-oared barge race, three boats, for prizes of $25 and $15.

All boats to be rowed on the gunwale.

Tub race for prizes of $5 and $3.

The three first races are to be from a point opposite the Concord R. R. wharf around the stone beacon and return.

The tub race from Rollins' wharf to Gray's island.

Entries for any of the above may be made with A. K. W. Green, Water st.

All entries must be made on or previous to Saturday, June 30th.

Persons having painting which they require done at once are referred to an advertisement in an other column.

The Concord & Portsmouth railroad dividend will be paid at the office of William H. Hackett, on Satuaday, the 30th inst., between 11 A. M. and 4 P. M. only.

Col. Wm. H. Sise has done a good thing in putting to rest the mooted question as to the boundary line between Portsmouth and Newcastle, raised by the proprietors of the latter place attempting to impose a tax upon Pest island, owned by Portsmouth. Col. Sise hunted up, among the files at Concord, a statement made in writing, signed by the boards of selectmen of the two towns, a copy of which he obtained and sent to the mayor's office in this city. This shows the value of sending a man to the legislature who has the interest of the city always in view, and knows how to further it.

The Ball cottage at Newcastle, near the hotel Wentworth, came near being destroyed on Saturday last. About five o'clock in the afternoon it was discovered to be on fire, but the numerous workmen employed on the big hotel mustered in force, smashed in a window or two and cut a hole through the roof, and soon had the fire out. The fire caught in a bed in an upper room.

The Boston & Maine railroad station in Newmarket, and the stores of Treadwell & Folsom and Mrs. M. A. Wood, were broken into one night recently by a thief who was evidently an amateur; he got about a dollar from Mrs. Wood's store, and nothing at the other places.

The U. S. S. Marion, laid up at the navy yard, is to be surveyed this week, and will probably be taken into the dry-dock and recalked.

Mr. Irvin Perkins has been engaged as messenger for Jackson & Co.'s express.

A sermon preached in the North church in this city April 29th by Rev. W. A. McGinley, pastor, has been by invitation of W. G. Myers, A. A. Hanscom and several other members of the parish, printed by Oliver M. Knight. The discourse is upon "What results do reason and revelation warrant us to expect from prayer?" The sermon was preached upon a request made to the pastor to give his views upon the subject. Mr. McGinley asserts that men cannot expect that they will be able to take the control of the world out of the hands of God, nor the creation of new or greater powers of mind. It treats of the results which may be expected from prayer. The subject is discussed in a comprehensive manner, and shows a conception of the phases of the problem from an original reflective standpoint, not illumined by borrowed light. The sermon may be found upon the counters of Mr. Goodrich's bookstores.

The Newmarket Advertiser of last week makes the following appeal, which must prove effectual unless the house-owners of that town have hearts compared with which the nether millstone is as a decayed cucumber: "The publisher of this paper must secure a tenement in this village before fall, or else sell out the Advertiser and move into some town where he can get a roof over his head. If property holders want a good cash-paying tenement call on us. Rent no object, as we can't live out doors next winter."

Over a hundred Freemasons attended divine service at St. John's church on Sunday last, St. John's day, the rector, Rev. Mr. Hovey, having invited St. John's lodge to listen to a historical discourse, which proved to be of marked interest, the history of the ancient church being reviewed in a manner evidencing much research and thought.

It was reported on Saturday that the counsel for Norton and others, in the patent-valve suits, had entered a motion for a new trial in the case vs. city of Dover, on what grounds was not stated; and that in case the motion should be denied, an appeal would be taken to the Supreme court of the United States.

The funeral of Mr. William B. Randall took place on Sunday afternoon under Masonic auspices, a large number of the brotherhood turning out to pay the last mark of regard to a worthy and respected member of the order. The remains were laid in the south cemetery.

The city solicitor of Dover having informed the councils that they have no power to prohibit the sale of toy pistols, but that the city marshal has full power to prevent their being used in the streets, the marshal has strictly prohibited their use. The dealers of the city claim—and with truth—that but one kind of toy pistol, and that the cartridge one, has ever caused accidents; and they say this is not now sold, the manufacturers having ceased to make them as soon as their dangerous character was demonstrated. They further say it is needless to prohibit the use of the little imitation pistol which merely cracks a detonating wafer, and we are of the same opinion.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Cronkhaite, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. He is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

The Wonderful Efficacy of

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS

Has been so frequently and satisfactorily proven that it seems almost superfluous to say anything more in their favor. The immense and constantly increasing demand for them, both in this and foreign countries, is the best evidence of their value. Their sale to-day in the United States is far greater than any other cathartic medicine. This demand is not spasmodic, it is regular and steady. It is not of to-day or yesterday, it is an increase that has been steadily growing for the last thirty-five years. What are the reasons for this great and growing demand?

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills contain no mercury, and yet they act with wonderful effect upon the liver. They cleanse the stomach and bowels of all irritating matter, which, if allowed to remain, poisons the blood, and brings on Malaria, Chills and Fever, and many other diseases. They give health and strength to the digestive organs. They create appetite and give vigor to the whole system. They are in fact the mechanic of all others which should be taken in times like the present, when malarial and other epidemics are rife, as they prepare the system to resist attacks of disease of every character.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sold by all druggists at 25c. per box, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, in English or German, is sent free to all. Address Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.

6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS

— OF THE —

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the south and east.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $440,000 in bonds and $550,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

Sturbridge, Mass., people are wondering where Lafayettee Willard and Mrs. Henry W. Nichols have gone. A reward of $50 is offered for information concerning either. Willard is the father of several children, and Mrs. Nichols the mother of four boys.

*For years Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham has been contending with the terrible hydra known as Disease, with what surprising success many who were in the serpent's coils will testify. Often has the powerless victim been snatched from the open jaws of the destroyer. In smiting the heads of this monster Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is far more efficacious than the process of potential and actual cautery.

In Jacksonville, Fla., last Saturday, fireworks exploded in the store of L. A. McDonald, blowing out the entire front of the building and enveloping it in a sheet of flame. A. W. McDonald and Leonard Lott received severe injuries; Lott was overpowered by the smoke, and failed to escape. His dead body was recovered.

For all diseases of the heart Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator is peculiarly adapted, and a test of its remedial properties will show immediate results. The druggists everywhere sell it for $1 per bottle. Frank E. Ingalls, of Concord, N. Hampshire, is sole agent for it and will answer correspondents and send circulars when desired.

Mrs. Charles Bell of Rayville, Long Island, thirty-three years of age, and the mother of of four children, left home suddenly Monday morning of last week. Friday her husband received a letter from her, in which she made known the fact that she had run away with William Ellison, a resident of Rayville, and was going to Boston, never to return.

*Both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1, or six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, or lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Enclose 3c. stamp. Send for "Guide to Health and Nerve Strain."

John Ivers, an expressman, living in West Springfield, Mass., was probably fatally stabbed Saturday night. He was watering his house at a trough in the road, when two men drove up and roughly ordered him to unhitch the check rein of their horse. Ivers refused, whereupon they jumped from the wagon, stabbed him in the back and then rapidly drove off. It was too dark to identify them. Ivers' wound is three inches deep, and penetrated the lung.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, &c., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

One hundred and fifty revolutionists attacked Chiautta, Mexico, and carried off two officials. The cavalry pursued, and the revolutionists being pressed, assassinated their prisoners. The revolutionists were overtaken by the cavalry, and cut to pieces. Thirty were killed.

Perfect health depends upon a perfect condition of the blood. Pure blood conquers every disease and gives new life to every decayed or affected part. Strong nerves and perfect digestion enables the system to stand the shock of sudden climatic changes. An occasional use of Brown's Iron Bitters will keep you in a perfect state of health. Don't be deceived by other iron preparations said to be just as good. The genuine is made only by Brown Chemical Company, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

*"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

Extreme Tired Feeling.

A lady tells us "the first bottle has done my daughter a great deal of good, her food does not distress her now, nor does she suffer from that extreme tired feeling which she did before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." A second bottle effected a cure. No other preparation contains such a concentration of vitalizing, enriching, purifying and invigorating properties as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by our Most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation or Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

10:45 o'clock Monday forenoon from Lewiston, Me., and took the steamer Ap-dinner, returning in the afternoon and making a brief stop at the navy yard.

Crossing the river the Sir Knights made a short march about the city, and then took barges for the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, where they passed the night.
This forenoon they will return to this city, and be received at Richards avenue
by De Witt Clinton Commandry, Em. Sir

fice at that place a cabinet of call-boxes containing sixty numbered boxes—a great accommodation to the citizens of the town.

The schooner Cocheco, Capt. R. H.
Seaward, arrived at this port on Monday morning, the 25th inst., from New York, with 362 tons of coal for J. Albert Walker. This vessel is now five years old, having been launched on Thursday, June 27th, 1878, from the shipyard on Noble's island; and though she has been kept moving pretty constantly ever since, taking any kind of a cargo that offered the best pay, to or from any port required, yet to the eye of a seaman she looks as neat and trim to-day as when she first went afloat, showing that her skipper knows how to take proper care of his vessel as well as to keep her from rotting at the wharf.

"I was only looking for a friend," said a York county woman to a salesman in a Market street dry goods store, who had been through a pile of dress goods without exciting his appreciation. "I don't think you will find her here," returned Yardstick, "for we have reached the bottom of the lot without your recognizing her."

ternoon while in a crazy fit, the result of dissipation. She was taken to the police of abode under a watch. She is said to belong to a good family in Concord.

At Packer's Falls, Durham, three miles from Newmarket, Saturday night, Perry
P. Long, aged seventeen years, and James Glidden, aged nineteen, went to Newmarket, and returning home about midnight, went into the barn of Glidden's father to sleep. Early Sunday morning Glidden aroused his father, stating that he had shot his companion with a gun which he picked up in the hayloft, and supposed to be unloaded. Glidden's story is that Long was awake when the fatal shot was fired, but he was found lying on his back with his arms folded, as he usually slept. Glidden was put under arrest, to await judicial enquiry into the affair.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour,
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid; but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER, J

MONDAY, June 25th.

Patrick Quinlan and his wife, John Hurley, and Margaret Haley, all before the court for drunkenness, were all allowed to go on probation on condition of signing the pledge.

THE SPENCE HOUSE.

The change in the color of this ancient mansion, at the corner of State and Fleet streets, now owned by Mrs. B. W. Curtis, just made, will more than ever make the house an object of interest. This was the residence in the last century of Robert Trail, Comptroller of the Port before the Revolution. His wife was a sister of William Whipple, one of the signers of the declaration of independence, and who died in 1785 in the Ladd mansion on Market street. Mr. Trail in 1766 obtained from the government the exclusive right to brew strong beer in the province of New Hampshire; the location of his brewery was at the corner of Court and Fleet streets, in the rear of the Spence house.

Mr. Trail's daughter married Graeme Spence, a Scotchman; and the Spence family, from whom the name of the house is derived, occupied this building as a residence for many years. One of the daughters married Rev. Charles Lowell, D. D., and was the mother of James Russell Lowell, the poet and our minister to England. A gallant commodore of the navy, in this city, is also a descendent of this family.

While in many other cities there is so often seen the lamentable result of "modernizing" these ancient landmarks, we cannot too highly appreciate and commend the good sense and wisdom of the present and the former owners of the Spence house in permitting this mansion, which always attracts the attention of strangers, to retain its pristine form and external appearance.

IMPORTANT SALE.

Mr. Wendell will to-day sell by auction, at the Congress street auction rooms, a very large and fine stock of harnesses, consisting of coupe, express, double and single carryall, and buggy harnesses, the sale being positive, and commencing at ten o'clock A. M. At the close of the harness sale a lot of silver ware, table cutlery, etc., will be disposed of. See advertisement.

THE NAVY YARDS.

A letter has been addressed by the secretary of the navy to the chiefs of each of the bureaus in the navy department, and the commandants of the yards have been furnished with a copy of it, and requested to make such suggestions to the bureau as they deem proper. The letter directs that such orders be given immediately as are necessary to carry into effect the recommendations of the navy yard commission. Work is ordered to be suspended as soon as practicable on the Pensacola, League island, New London and Boston yards; at Boston, however, work in the ropewalk and the sail makers' department will continue. At Portsmouth the repairs of two wooden vessels may continue for the present. At Washington work upon repairs of vessels, or for any purpose not mentioned in the memoranda of the commission, will be continued. The letter continues:

You will also carefully consider whether a reduction of foremen beyond that recommended by the commission can judiciously be made, in the interest of economy. If so you will proceed to make such reductions. You will further endeavor to discover additional reductions which may be made in the civil employes at each navy yard, and either make or recommend such reductions. Your attention is specifically called to the large number of persons engaged in clerical duties, either as clerks or writers, and you will endeavor to direct or recommend the discharge of some of these.

THE
6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS
— OF THE —
TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $40,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $650.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

Boats, Bicycles and Hay Fever.

Nature has resolved that all people shall not enjoy themselves at once. With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of Hay Fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To snuff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months:—this is their pitiable portion. Whether this form of catarrh is called hay-fever, hay-cold, rose-cold or rose-fever, makes no difference; they suffer just the same. There is no help in high mountain air. These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's Cream Balm. We could cram these columns with grateful letters of the rescued. Try it and join them. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap and pleasant.

Human Blood.—On the purity and vitality of the blood depend the vigor and health of the whole system. Disease of various kinds is often only the sign that nature is trying to remove the disturbing cause. The finding of the examining board, which if approved would have caused his dismissal, was disapproved by the President. Upon the result of the present examination will depend whether he shall be further examined for promotion, or placed upon the retired list. The former board reported that he was affected by an enlargement of the heart, and it is thought likely that the new board will consider that trouble of enough importance to recommend his retirement.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men Estimate Some Things which they don't understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the chest, are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men folks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the doctor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges—who deserve a better fate—creep around, broom or utensils in hand, up stairs and out-of-doors, doing that woman's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls—losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drop a word in your receptive ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That back-ache—that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, heart and lungs? End it at once by the application of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary back-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plasters will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell—but to heal. It is a remedy which never yet broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggist has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word Capcine cut in the middle.

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The "Living Skeleton."

The man who was known as the "Living Skeleton," died and was embalmed, after having been exhibited at cheap museums. He is said to have weighed 46 pounds when he died, having been reduced to this dreadful state of emaciation by long continued dyspepsia. In his case dyspepsia meant money in his pocket, for it kept him thin. People who want to keep themselves so thin by dyspepsia as to exhibit for "Living Skeletons," ought not to take Perry Davis's Pain Killer, for it drives dyspepsia out.

The grass in a great many intervales in the valleys of the Pemigewasset and Baker's rivers, recently overflowed, is wholly destroyed, being so covered with gravel that it is worthless to feed to stock.

Those who have investigated the prospects of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad consider the six per cent. gold bonds a capital investment, with ample security.

James Glidden has been held in $3000 to answer before the upreme court for killing Perry P. Long at Durham. In default of bail he has gone to jail until September.

Dr. E. B. Weathers, Elkton, Ky., says: "I regard Brown's Iron Bitters as a medicine of unusual worth."

The Leslie C. Wead prizes, offered to the freshman class in the Chandler scientific department of Dartmouth college for free-hand drawing, were awarded Monday afternoon as follows: First prize, $15, to Frederic W. The [illegible]wiston Commandry of Knights Templar, with their ladies and the Auburn band, were on Monday afternoon photographed by Mr. L. V. Newell, standing in a line on top of the house of the U. S. S. Constitution, and extending from end to end of the ship. An excellent picture was secured; and another one was taken by the same artist on Tuesday, of the Lewiston and De Witt Clinton Commandries, and the Auburn and Dover bands, drawn up on Market square.

All the big lobsters have not been canned. One weighing 18 1-2 pounds was caught off Gerrish's island last week by a Kittery fisherman, and brought to this city; and one weighing nineteen pounds is to be seen in the aquarium.

The practice ships Constellation and Dale have left Chesapeake bay bound for this station, which is to be their headquarters this season.

Charles Day was so badly crushed at Kennebunk Depot on the 23d inst., by a log rolling over him, that he died next day.

A brilliant wedding took place in presence of 250 guests at the Marshall house, York harbor, at eight o'clock in the evening on the 26th inst., when Rev. Mr. Sewall united in marriage Miss Ida May Marshall, daughter of the late Hon. N. G. Marshall and sister of Edward S. Marshall, Esq., proprietor of the Marshall house, and Mr. Alfred L. Moody of Fargo, Dakota.

The blueberry crop of York promises to be more abundant this year than ever before.

Tuesday, June 26th, is "cure-all day" at Old Orchard beach, the popular tradition being that a sea bath taken there that day will wash away all aches and pains for the ensuing year. The date of this wonderful day comes at just about the right time to encourage early boarders.

GOSSIPS SAY

That many sunburned faces were to be seen on the streets Monday, showing that their owners did not wear them to church on Sunday.

That the supply of boats ran short on Sunday, and none could be had for love or money after noon on that day.

That the steamer Fearless returned on Sunday from an excursion to York, having been chartered by an out-of-town party.

That several parties are camping out at Gerrish's island.

That Manchester is somewhat chagrined that its Third Regiment band, with Saxie Pike as drum major, will come to this city on the 4th of July.

That the little steamer Three Brothers, Capt. Upton, came down the river from Newmarket on Monday evening, preparatory to a start early Tuesday morning for Salem, Mass., where she will run during the season to "the Willows."

That Col. Sise supports the bill recently introduced into the legislature, amending the city charter so as to provide for the election of a school board by the qualified voters of the city.

That in this matter the ex-mayor is apparently in accord with the general sentiment.

That nine petitions, bearing six hundred signatures praying for the passage of the bill, were presented to the legislature on Tuesday.

That the desires of the citizens with respect to the proposed change seemed so entirely one way that the petitions were withdrawn from circulation after one day's canvassing, there being no opposition.

That Mr. William H. Alexander, formerly station agent in this city for the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, and now general wood agent for the Concord road, was in this city on Monday, looking rather fragile, not being able to turn the scales at anything above 235 lbs. avoirdupois.

—Life is made up of surprises, but probably no one was ever more completely astonished than the subject of this story by the Newburyport Herald: Formerly it was the custom, more than at present, to "have up notes" in the pulpit for loss of friends, etc. A neighboring clergyman, as an evenange read a notice that Mr. A— desired prayers that the death of his wife might be sanctified to him, etc., and the clergyman prayed most earnestly for the brother sitting lonely and desolate in his pew, etc. He noticed a rustling in the congregation, and to his constination learned later that the note had been shut up in the Bible a year, and the man had his new wife for the first time in the pew. The good people smiled.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

RAYNHAM, MASS., AUG. 12, 1878.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen:— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE REUNION ON THE 4th.

The general committee on the Return of the Sons on the coming 4th of July had a meeting in the city rooms on the evening of the 25th inst., Ald. Martin in the chair.

Mr. Wm. H. Muir, the special committee appointed to arrange for sports on Market square on the afternoon of the 4th reported, and Mr. Frank J. Philbrick stated that he would personally guarantee that the funds needed for the purpose should be forthcoming, outside the general fund. The list of sports is as follows:

Events to take place between two and four o'clock P. M., on Market square.

1st—two-mile race, go-as-you please, three prizes, $5, $3 and $2.

2d,—potato-race. best two in three, three prizes, $3, $2 and $1.

3d—running race, 150 yards, three prizes, $4, $2 and $1.

4th—sack race, two prizes, $3 and $2.

5th—two-mile walk, square heel and toe, three prizes, $4, $2 and $1.

6th—jumping match, best two in three, three prizes, $3, $2 and $1.

This programme was approved and adopted.

Chief Marshal Kent suggested to the committee that the returning sons who arrive in companies disembark from the cars at Dover street, and that the procession march through Islington, Middle, Court and Pleasant streets to south millbridge, countermarch on the green south of the bridge, thence through Water, State, Middle, Cabot, State, Middle and Congress streets to Market square, and dismiss. This route was approved, subject to modification if found necessary on the day of celebration.

Chairman Arthur W. Walker, of the regatta committee, reported a programme, which was approved.

Information was given the committee that Col. Marvin is engaged in organizing a company to appear in the uniforms of the former Light Artillery, and that Major Tilton will revive the Independent Battalion, for escort duty on the 4th.

The probable order of procession was announced as follows: United States marines; Grand Army of the Republic; Light Artillery; Independent Battalion; Fire Department, with engines decorated: ninety children, in three floral barges; disabled veterans of the wars of 1812, 1847 and 1861, in carriages; Returned Sons.

It was stated that a display of fireworks would be made in the afternoon, as well as in the evening.

Messrs. Stavers, Hodgdon and Cook were appointed a committee on carriages.

Col. Wm. H. Sise was appointed to deliver the address of welcome, and Messrs. Alfred Stavers and Samuel Dodge were appointed a committee to wait upon him, and request his acceptance, which duty was attended to, the committee returning with a favorable answer from the ex-mayor.

Adjourned to Friday evening, 29th inst.

The Antique & Horrible procession will form at six o'clock in the morning on Richards avenue, right resting on Rockland street. The route will be through the avenue and Middle, Cass, Islington, Bridge, Deer, Market, Pleasant Water, State, Summer, Austin, Middle and Congress streets to Market square, where the prizes will be awarded, and parade dismissed. The judges are Dr. John S. Perry and Mr. John P. Tibbetts; referee, Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq.

At a meeting of the Portsmouth Cavalry, held Tuesday evening, it was unanimously voted to parade on the 4th.

The general committee on the celebration of Independence and the Return of the Sons having invited invited Col. Marvin to re-organize the Portsmouth Light Artillery for parade on the 4th of July, arms and ordnance have been procured for the purpose, and the artillery will be in marching order to assist in the military escort for the returning Sons. The company will meet for organization on Thursday evening, June 29th, at eight o'clock, in upper Franklin hall.

NO DREDGING NEEDED HERE.

Secretary Chandler has, since he assumed the duties of his office, been impressed with the idea that the government received but little for its outlay at the navy yards. Of course the fact did not be lost sight of that the care of public property at national dock yards, and the having in readiness for immediate use, of stores, ordnance, and material for construction and repair of steam vessels and for the slight repairs to ships not being thoroughly overhauled or rebuilt, require many men; while the government is furnished with reports as to expenditures, labor, material, etc., which on the present bureau system requires a large clerical force. If the directions to the commandants of stations to reduce the number of men not strictly employed in performing government service are properly heeded, and a reasonable sum can be available for the several mechanical departments of navy yards, there is no reason why "feeble results" should follow judicious expenditures at the yards.

It is amusing to notice the complacent manner in which the New York Sun speaks of the Brooklyn navy yard surrounded by malaria-breeding sewage, which has to be dredged at an annual outlay of $150,000, and which destroys the copper of our national ships, while no such outlay ever was needed for the yard near this city, surrounded as it is with the deepest water. An appropriation of twenty-seven thousand eight hundred dollars was required last year to dredge the channel to the Washington yard, and with the channels in New York harbor constantly filling, it becomes a question of interest where are the ships-of-war of deep draught to make a port in the future, if not in our waters.

The Sun asserts that our navy yard is too far down east, but if a healthful place, where the best mechanics are to be found, and where the government can receive the most for its outlay, is desired, then all things taken into the account that station is in our own harbor, a fact of which the secretary appears to be informed.

NEWINGTON SCHOOL.

The following is a list of the names on the roll of honor of the Newington school—the pupils who were neither absent nor tardy during the spring term:

Minnie Bean, Sarah Bean, Martha Coleman, Mary Coleman, Nathaniel Coleman, Elizabeth Pickering, Eva Pickering, Lucilla Pickering.

In the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims on Monday, the 25th inst., the case of T. Salter Tredick of this city, executor, was argued by Frank W. Hackett, Esq., and submitted. The question of whether an executor must aver in the petition, and subsequently prove by his testimony, that he had borne true allegiance to the United States, was argued. In the case of such a man as T. Salter Tredick, who not only contributed liberally toward putting down the rebellion but who also married a daughter of the gallant old hero, Admiral Bailey, who passed the forts on the Mississippi when "ordered so to do" without hesitation, it would seem a work of supererogation to prove loyalty at this day; but there must be a rule of law to be observed, and if the court should hesitate in giving judgment in favor of such a loyal gentleman as Mr. Tredick, of course an opportunity will be given for him to prove this, if the court hold that it is necessary for a legal representative, such as an executor, administrator or trustee, to supply such proof.

Mr. William H. Lovell, for some time past foreman iron-plater on the navy yard, which position he recently resigned to accept a better one with a firm in Nashua, was on Saturday last, at the noon hour, presented by some of his former fellow-laborers on the yard with a silver ice-water service. Dea. John Dame making the presentation speech, to which Mr. Lovell made an appropriate response.

Mr. Samuel Gleason Reed, formerly a leading shipowner in Boston, and widely known in commercial circles, died on the 24th inst., at the age of sixty-seven years. At the time of his death he had a heavy claim pending in the Alabama Claims court, for the destruction by one of the rebel cruisers of the ship Shooting Star, an 1100-ton ship built for him at this port in 1859 by Mr. George Raynes.

The sloop yacht Wayward, owned by J. G. Fowler of New York, which sailed from this port for St. John, N. B., on the 13th inst., had not been heard from here up to the evening of the 26th, and apprehensions were felt as to her welfare. She was not fully ballasted when she left, her old ballast having been thrown out when she struck on Sea point, Gerrish's island, last fall; and it will be remembered that there was a very heavy squall on the afternoon of the 13th, when the steamer City of Portsmouth had her smokestack blown over, and barns and trees were damaged along the coast from here to Portland. She had on board three men—Capt. Bell of Marblehead, Mass., George Gibson of Kittery, and a Mr. Grover of this city.

The South Berwick band have been engaged to furnish music at the cricket grounds in this city on the Fourth of July. Two games of cricket will be played, one on the 4th and one on the 5th. Cricket clubs at Lawrence and Lynn, Mass., have made arrangements with the Portsmouth club.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Skin Diseases

Fifteen years of Suffering.—Body covered with Humor.—Had Twelve Doctors.—Paid out $500.—No Cure.—No Hope.

I will now state that I made a miraculous cure of one of the worst cases of skin disease known. The patient is a man forty years old, and suffered fifteen years. His eyes, scalp and nearly his whole body presented a frightful appearance. Had had the attention of twelve different physicians, who prescribed the best remedies known to the profession, such as iodide potassium, arsenic, corrosive sublimate, sarsaparilla, etc. Had paid $500 for medical treatment with but little relief. I prevailed upon him to use the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. He did so and was completely cured. The skin on his head, face, and many other parts of his body, which presented a most loathsome appearance, is now as soft and smooth as an infant's, with no scar or trace of the disease left behind. He has now been cured 12 months.

Helpless for Eight Years.—Unable to Walk for One Year.—Got about on Hands and Knees.—A Wonderful Cure.

I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For seventeen years I suffered with Salt Rheum; I had it on my brain, face, back, arms and legs. I was not able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. So my parents tried everything that was strong. I saw your advertisement, and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The CUTICURA brought the humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, until now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I thank you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter is true, let them write or come and see me, and find out for themselves. WILL McDONALD,
2542 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

The Cuticura treatment, for the cure of Skin, Scalp and Blood Diseases, consists in the internal use of Cuticura Resolvent, the new Blood Purifier and the external use of Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, the great skin cures. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50c.; large boxes, $1. Cuticura Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25c.; Cuticura Shaving Soap, 15c. Sold by all druggists.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

A violent thunder storm prevailed throughout various sections of England, June 25th. Four soldiers are reported to have been killed by lightning at Chatham.

"For years Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham has been contending with the terrible hydra known as Disease, with what surprising success many who were in the serpent's coils will testify. Often has the powerless victim been snatched from the open jaws of the destroyer. In smiling the heads of this monster Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is far more efficacious than the process of potential and actual cautery.

Mr. Parnell, in an address at Monaghan, Ireland, recently, said it was the object of his party so to improve the land act that a majority of tenants would get a reduction of fifty per cent in rents.

Perfect health depends upon a perfect condition of the blood. Pure blood conquers every disease and gives new life to every decayed or affected part. Strong nerves and perfect digestion enables the system to stand the shock of sudden climatic changes. An occasional use of Brown's Iron Bitters will keep you in a perfect state of health. Don't be deceived by other iron preparations said to be just as good. The genuine is made only by Brown Chemical Company, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

Garrett J. Rose, a young man of good character, aged twenty-one years, has been held for examination at Middlebury, Vt., on a charge of attempting to poison his mother, Mrs. Amanda Hawley, by putting Paris green in a bottle of whiskey. It is believed the woman is deranged, and the charge untrue.

The Night Watch.

NEW YORK.—Mr. Charles T. Hollis, of the New York Club Stables, says that he is night-watchman, and one night was attacked by rheumatism so acute he could only get down stairs on his hands and knees. St. Jacobs Oil was applied twice. After this he took his watch again the next night, cured.

The news of the hospitable yet unique way in which the city of Boston recently entertained its southern guests, a New Orleans militia company, on a harbor excursion, has travelled as far south as Baltimore. The Sun of that city says: "The Boston liquor bill alone was about $4,000, and the southern visitors hardly got a taste of anything to drink. The councilmen had provided their 'friends,' the ward bummers, with tickets to the feast, at the city's expense, and as a consequence these fellows literally poured down costly wines and brandy, and filled their pockets with cigars. The affair brings to mind a somewhat similar occurrence on the Patapsco river a short while ago, when the city of Baltimore undertook to provide entertainment for the Grand Army visitors."

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. The "Living Skeleton."

The man who was known as the "Living Skeleton," died and was embalmed, after having been exhibited at cheap museums. He is said to have weighed 46 pounds when he died, having been reduced to this dreadful state of emaciation by long continued dyspepsia. In his case dyspepsia meant money in his pocket, for it kept him thin. People who want to keep themselves so thin by dyspepsia as to exhibit for "Living Skeletons," ought not to take Perry Davis's Pain Killer, for it drives dyspepsia out.

Mr. Geo. W. Knapp, of Waltham Mass., says: "I have removed an enlargement on my horse's knee which a V. S. pronounced incurable, by the use of Ellis's Spavin Cure. I think this is a very flattering testimonial." It's only one of many hundred, however, thanks; all the same.

The Brewing Business.

There seems to be no danger of a dearth of beer in this country. According to the statistics published in the Western Brewer, the total brew of the United States for the year ending May 1, 1883, was 17,349,424 barrels of thirty-one gallons each, a net increase over the preceding year of 733,062 barrels, or 4.41 per cent. "The Reading of Books: Its pleasures, profits and perils," by Charles F. Thing, author of "American Colleges: their students and work." Boston; Lee & Shepard; price $1.25. Portsmouth, for sale by M. Goodrich.

This is an instructive volume which treats of the advantage of reading. Its especial advice relates to biography, history, travel, fiction, poetry, religious books, language, philosophy, science and fine arts, with reference to proper books to be read by adults and youth, to which is added suggestions for forming a library, with an appendix containing a classified list of books upon different subjects, which are recommended. An index is added. The author, without discussing this important element of education as elaborately as has Dr. Porter, gives many valuable suggestions. In these days when so many books are to be found at every hand, the timely suggestion as to what to read, especially for young persons, is of importance. This advice is extended in an attractive form, without the dictatorial style which is sometimes seen in books of this description, and the work will be appreciated as in many respects of essential value to readers both young and old.

"American Statesmen—Daniel Webster; by Henry Cabot Lodge." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $1.25. Portsmouth, sold by M. Goodrich.

This is the eighth volume of this series of publication edited by Mr. John T. Morse, Jr. In it Mr. Lodge gives an account of the childhood and youth of Mr. Webster, his career as a lawyer, his congressional service and the discharge of official duties as secretary of state. Mr. Webster as an orator, lawyer and statesman is fairly and honestly portrayed.

New Hampshire men are interested in every book that is written concerning Webster. There has been, since his admission to the bar in 1805, a pride in Daniel Webster all over our state. From 1807, when he came to Portsmouth, to June, 1816, when he removed to Boston, he was a resident in our town. His biographer tells us that he was earning two thousand dollars a year in this "hardy and poor community," but the Boston writer probably knows but little of the wealth and business of Portsmouth during that period.

Considerable space is given to the description of the Dartmouth College case, and Mr. Lodge acknowledges the value of Mr. Shirley's "Dartmouth College Causes" in the preparation of this part of his memoir.

The life of Webster, up to the delivery of the 7th of March speech, is one in which the friends of the great defender of the Constitution always take a just pride. The effect of that speech upon the country, the disappointment of Webster in his presidential aspirations, and the defects in his character, are treated in a candid and unprejudiced manner, as is proper in a book of this kind, which aims to give a fair, candid and impartial biography of a prominent statesman, with a true recital of the great political events in which he enacted a prominent part.

The book is uniform with the preceding volumes of the series, and will be eagerly read by the admirers of Mr. Webster.

The Maverick National bank, Boston, have the bonds ready for immediate delivery, and will give any information by mail or telegraph.

Just before leaving New York, on Monday night, June 25th, the steamer Pilgrim, of the Fall River Line, blew out pipes in two of her boilers. The boat was delayed, and after steam was drawn off started for Fall River, using two of her four boilers, arriving about eight o'clock Tuesday morning, nearly four hours late. Repairs were made and all the boilers were in order when the boat started Tuesday night, the 26th.

Rear Admiral Pierce Crosby reports the following disposition of the vessels of the Asiatic station, under date of Heng Kong, China, May 21st: The Richmond was at anchor at Hong Kong in good condition (since reported at Shanghai;) the Monocacy was at Hong Kong until April 5th, when she started for Swatow. She left that place on April 9th, touching at Lamock islands to communicate with Lieutenant Mahon, who was guarding the wreck of the Ashuelot, and then proceeded to Nagasaki, arriving on April 14th, and remaining there during the rest of the month. Her condition was good. The Palos was at Nagasaki until April 4th, when she started for Hong Kong and arrived there on April 9th; she was in a disabled condition, her hull, machinery and boilers all being in very bad order.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

RAYNHAM, MASS., AUG. 12, 1878.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,

EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and a box of your Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful of a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,

HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

GOSSIPS SAY

That work on the navy yard is soon to boom, and that the employes thereon are greatly pleased.

That the red belts of the Lewiston Commandry of Knights Templar did not add much to the uniform of that organization.

That the cottage of Ex-Secretary Robeson at Little Boar's head is being got ready for the family of that gentleman, who will arrive next week.

That the Parrott mansion on Middle street looks gorgeous with its handsome window-gardens and vases of brilliant flowers.

That a rose bush in front of the residence of Aaron Young on Austin street attracts much attention from the wonderfully large roses, five inches in diameter, which are in full bloom.

That a party of gentlemen from this city, four in number, will make a tour of the White mountains early in July, going by team and camping where night overtakes them.

A letter was received in this city on the evening of the 26th inst. from Mr. Grover, one of the crew of the yacht Wayward, dated from a port in Maine, where the sloop had been lying fog-bound for a number of days; all well on board, and everything all right. The yacht is in no hurry to reach her destination, (St. John, N. B.,) so the master does not propose to take any unfavorable chances.

The Boston Post of Wednesday, the 27th inst., says: "All the men in the construction department at this navy yard, excepting apprentices, were suspended Tuesday evening, until further notice. They include painters, ship carpenters, blacksmiths, plumbers, spar-makers, machinists, caulker-makers and laborers. Much dissatisfaction is expressed by the workmen at the navy yard owing to the report that Secretary Chandler has ordered this navy yard to be closed, and the Portsmouth navy yard, which is far inferior, to be kept open. They say that were it not that Secretary Chandler is a New Hampshire man, the Portsmouth yard would have been closed some time ago."

Mr. N. K. Raynes, who has been confined to his home for five weeks by an attack of pneumonia and the resulting weakness, was down town on Wednesday.

An open-air concert will be given on Spring hill square this evening by the American band, provided the weather is favorable; this concert was announced for Wednesday evening, but was postponed till to-night on account of the rain.

Mr. J. C. Stevens, of the Eureka bakery, runs a bread cart to Cape Neddick and York beach three times a week, supplying the people there with as good a quality of bread as can be procured anywhere.

The schooners Daniel C. Baker and Rambler, of this port, and the Estella, Nunan, of Cape Porpoise, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., June 27th, from shore fishing; also the schooner Annie H. Mason, formerly of this port, from Georges. The schooner Lucy arrived there from the Shoals the same day.

The gross earnings of the Eastern railroad for the month of May were $262,544.73, an increase of $10,000 over May of last year. For the first two weeks in June the increase was $10,000.

Rockingham county has to pay $131.21 on each $1000 of the state tax, this year.

See advertisement of sale by auction at ten o'clock this forenoon, by Morse & Ilsley, in house No. 1 Howard street, of household furniture, stoves, melodeon, etc.

Candidates for admission to the high school will present themselves at the principal's room at eight o'clock this (Thursday) morning, each provided with a lead pencil.

At the auction store No. 16 Congress street, every forenoon, afternoon and evening of this week, Mr. H. F. Wendell will offer for sale to the highest bidders, without reserve, a large and elegant assortment of triple-plated silverware, cutlery, etc., made by Chas. W. Hamill & Co. of Baltimore. Sales at 10:30 A. M., and 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. See advertisement.

The Concord & Portsmouth railroad dividend will be paid at the office of William H. Hackett, on Saturday, the 30th inst., between 11 A. M. and 4 P. M. only.

The officers of Lewiston Commandery of Knights Templar, which visited this city this week, are as follows: Albert M. Penley, E. C.; Frank E. Sleeper, Gen.; Wm. F. Wood, Capt. Gen.; Daniel Cowan, Prelate.; Algernon M. Roak, S. W.; Archie L. Talbot, J. W.; W. J. Burnham, Treas.; Horace C. Little, Rec.; Danville B. Stevens, Standard Bearer; Wm. F. Lord, Sword Bearer; Frank L. Hoyt, Warden; Daniel P. Boynton, 3d Guard; Henry E. Morrisey, 2d Guard; Horatio G. Foss, 1st Guard; Charles H. Jumper, Sentinel.

In Kittery, May 9th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Miss Annie A. Hobbs was married to Mr. Herbert W. Davis of this city, employed on the Eastern railroad, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. F. Dearborn of Lawrence, Mass., formerly of Kittery. Friends of the contracting parties were present from Boston, Newmarket and this city, and the token of regard were numerous and valuable.

The hotel Decatur, at Long Sands, York beach, has been greatly enlarged, and refitted throughout, since last season; a large stable has been built, where teams can be procured or put up, and a free carriage runs to and from the steamboat wharf. The proprietor, Mr. L. E. Decatur of Great Falls, is an attentive host, and sets a good table.

We are informed that the total cost to the cities in fighting the Knibbs suit is about $18,000, each city in New Hampshire to pay an equal share, making Dover's part $3,000. It is to be observed that the cost of fighting is no more than it would have been to settle when the trial had actually commenced.—Dover Republican.

Well, What of it? The jury decided the claims of Norton and company to be unfounded; would the Republican advocate the paying out of a large sum of the city's money to whoever might bring in a preposterous claim, on the ground that such a course would be as cheap as for the city to defend its rights? A city government conducted on that plan would not lack for claims on its treasury, as soon as the facts were known at large to the men who "live by their wits." Our judgment is that the money spent by the New Hampshire cities in defending the patent-valve cases was well laid out, and that it would have been cheaper in the end to have expended ten times the amount claimed, had it been needed, rather than to have submitted to the demands made.

Lizzie Merrill was thrown from a carriage in Exeter, June 26th, and probably fatally hurt.

Mrs. Wendell Downs of Exeter, eighty years old, had a fit Wednesday night, June 20th, and laid on the floor till Friday, when she was found by friends; she died Sunday night, the 25th.

A brother of Prof. Henry Ruggles, of Dartmouth College, arrived at Hanover June 26th after an absence of twenty years, during which time his friends have not had any clue to his whereabouts. He is a resident of Wyoming, where he owns 60,000 head of live stock.

John Leveridge, the oldest lawyer in New York, will be ninety-two years old September 1st. He distinctly remembers the procession at the time of the death of Washington, witnessing it in company with his sister at the corner of Broadway and Vesey streets. The event was forcibly impressed upon his mind by the fact that when he got home he and his sister were soundly spanked by their mother.

Mr. Foraker, the republican nominee for governor of Ohio, wears upon his little finger a peculiar ring which has a history; it was given him by a young lady in Tennessee, whose life he saved during the war. Allen Thurman, Jr., the son of the democratic ex-senator, is working for Foraker; his father supports Judge Hoadly, the democratic candidate.

A collector once wrote to General Sherman for his autograph and a lock of his hair, and received the following reply: "The man who has been writing my autographs has been discharged, and as my orderly is bald, I cannot comply with either of your requests."

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.*

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Grand Public Parade at Dover.

Twenty-five Elephants in Line—The Magnificent Pageants of "Lalla Rookh" and "Cleopatra"—a Bower of Beauty—Three Great Bands—Jubilee Singers—Four Hundred Gaily Caparisoned Horses—A Mile of Chariots, Tableau Cars, Cages, Etc.

On Tuesday, July 3d, between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock in the forenoon, Adam Forepaugh's Great Railroad Show will appear on the streets of Dover in processional order. Our exchanges from the places where the establishment has exhibited, assert that in extent and magnificence this display exceeds all spectacular or show parades ever made by any exhibition in the United States.

The procession is led by the beautiful pageant illustrating the departure of Lalla Rookh from Delhi. The lovely Princess, who is personified by the handsomest woman in America, and for whose services in this pageant Mr. Forepaugh pays the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, is seen sitting in a genuine East India howdah, upon the back of a kingly elephant. Maids of honor, servitors, and all the pomp and wealth of an Eastern Monarch's court surround her.

Another most attractive and novel feature of the parade is the presentation, for the first time in America, of the fascinating Egyptian spectacle, "Cleopatra Journeying to Meet Marc Antony." The famous and beautiful Queen is personated, seated in a magnificent barge ablaze with gold, and all the surroundings are in keeping with the account given by the most reliable historians of this remarkable regal journey. Then follow Twenty-two Huge Elephants, attached to chariots ablaze with gold and glitter; two martial bands enliven the occasion; the "Grand Bashaw," with his retinue of slaves, cup-bearers, sultans, etc., are represented, riding upon white camels and black dromedaries; upon a colossal chariot, designated as the "Car of India," a monster living lion is placed, and by his side sits a youthful maiden, with her hand resting upon the head of the savage brute. A monster cage with glass sides and ends, is filled with anacondas and and pythons, and in the midst of this wriggling mass of serpents the spectators behold an East Indian Snake Charmer, dallying with the shining, slimy monsters.

Ten Ceylon elephants draw another chariot, followed by the "Car of the Seasons" and the "Chariot of Olympus," which is embellished with representations of the fates, furies, graces, sirens, nymphs, gods, heroes and men. Next, the Leo De Westes' Hanoverian Stud of twenty-two performing stallions and ponies, in elegant and elaborate trappings, followed by opened dens of lions and tigers, are to be seen at intervals. A mammoth steam orchestrian mingles its shrill notes with those of the bands, and at intervals are to be seen mardi-gras masqueraders in fanciful and mirth-provoking costumes.

An instructive, as well as humorous feature of the pageant, is the appearance of a real slave-singing band of old-time old plantation darkies. All were formerly slaves; not one of them has ever been away from the South; and, seated upon cotton bales, in a genuine Southern mule team, this band of freedmen sing, as the procession moves, the camp-meeting melodies and songs of the cabins, as was customary in slavery days.

Three great bands of music are in position along the line of the cavalcade. Droves of camels, diminutive ponies, ornate tableau cars, and nearly a mile of statuary-adorned and beautifully-embellished animal cages, all drawn by hundreds of plumed steeds, drivers uniformed, constitute some of the attractive features of this princely pageant. Our readers should reach Dover by nine in the forenoon in order to behold this great free-for-all holiday parade.

No molasses and water mixture, but a concentrated extract of the active medicinal properties of roots, barks, &c., is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Fears are entertained at Sourabaya and Rembang, Java, of a rice famine. Disease has destroyed 200,000 acres of the crop.

☞ For five cents, Well's, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., will send colored sample colors of Diamond Dyes.

The Cape Cod Ship Canal bill having been signed by Gov. Butler, the people of Sandwich, Mass., had a big time over it.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

Eleven young men and nine young women were graduated from the boarding school of the New England Friends in Providence, R. I., June 26th.

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

Driscoll, the well known pedestrian of Lynn, Mass., won a twenty-five mile walking match at Waterbury, Conn., June 26th, beating Whittle, the local champion, who a few days before defeated Leggett, the champion of Canada.

From Messrs. E. G. Honors & Son, 222 Chestnut St. Lynn, Mass., comes the following: "Ellis's Spavin Cure cured one of our horses of a large Bone Spavin.

Harvey S. Nettleton has been brought from Connecticut to Boston on a requisition by Gov. Butler. He is charged with complicity in the swindling schemes of "Dr." Langley.

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$160,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $40,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

Everybody's Going to Dover

To see the Handsomest Woman in the World, and 25 Performing Elephants, 1,000 Wild Beasts, Colossal Circus in Three Rings, and 4-Paw's Roman Hippodrome. The Great Forepaugh Show exhibits at Dover Tuesday, July 3d.

In addition to a grandly great circus in three great rings, and a monster menagerie of 1,000 wild beasts, all transported by four great railway trains, there is to be a great, grand, free Procession on the day Forepaugh exhibits there. Every town in this county will be represented in this huge, highway, holiday parade. In addition to this, the great pageant of "Cleopatra" and "Lalla Rookh" will be presented in the show parade. This latter spectacle is described as being the most gorgeous ever seen upon the streets of an American city. The loveliest lady in the land has been secured to personify the beautiful Eastern Princess, Lalla Rookh, whom poets describe as "more beautiful than any of those heroines whose names and loves embellish the songs of Persia and Hindostan; more perfect than the divinest images of the House of Azor." In this gorgeous, glittering, Oriental pageant, Lalla Rookh is seen reclining in her sumptuous howdah, borne aloft upon the back of a ponderous and kingly elephant, the largest on this continent, whose embroidered velvet trappings touch the ground; a fair young female slave sits fanning the Princess through the rose colored veils, with feather's of argus-pheasant's wings, and the lovely troupe of Tartarian and Cashmerean maids of honor ride upon each side of the Princess upon small Arabian horses. Rajahs and Mogul Lords follow, accompanied by Cavaliers in costly armor, mounted upon

"Steeds with their housings of rich silver spun
Their chains and pointrels glittering in the sun;
And Camels curbed o'er with Yemen's shells,
Shaking to every breeze their light-toned bells."

In keeping with the author of Lalla Rookh's description of this grand, glittering, lavish and luxuriant spectacle, are seen the Guards of the great Kedar Khan, with their silver battle-axes and maces of gold, followed by the Great Nazir, or Chamberlain of the Harem, and the retinue of the Court of Delhi, mounted upon elephants, camels and Arabian horses, decorated in Oriental trappings, and bearing aloft the royal standards—the entire scene recalling to the beholder the glories and the grandeur of the distant Indies; the whole forming the most magnificent, picturesque and realistic Oriental spectacle ever presented in the New World, requiring the expenditure of a hundred thousand dollars in its preparation, eclipsing all displays of pageantry ever produced by any exhibition, and in itself worth miles of travel to behold. Remember, this superb spectacle is presented between the hours of 9 and 10 A. M., and is a great, grand, gorgeous, free public festival for all to look at and admire.

Honest.

In these days of adulteration and fraud in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time. W. B. Everts, A. M., Charleston, S. C.

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations followed by night sweats and cough, prompt measure of relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs; therefore use the great anti-scrofulous or blood-purifier and strength-restorer, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to Cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, and kindred affections it has no equal. Sold by druggists. For Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption send two stamps, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. a Perfect health depends upon a perfect condition of the blood. Pure blood conquers every disease and gives new life to every decayed or affected part. Strong nerves and perfect digestion enables the system to stand the shock of sudden climatic changes. An occasional use of Brown's Iron Bitters will keep you in a perfect state of health. Don't be deceived by other iron preparations said to be just as good. The genuine is made only by Brown Chemical Company, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Boats, Bicycles and Hay Fever.

Nature has resolved that all people shall not enjoy themselves at once. With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of Hay Fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To snuff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months—this is their pitiable portion. Whether this form of catarrh is called hay-fever, hay-cold, rose-cold or rose-fever, makes no difference; they suffer just the same. There is no help in high mountain air. These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's Cream Balm. We could cram these columns with grateful letters of the rescued. Try it and join them. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap and pleasant.

Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. The "Living Skeleton."

The man who was known as the "Living Skeleton," died and was embalmed, after having been exhibited at cheap museums. He is said to have weighed 46 pounds when he died, having been reduced to this dreadful state of emaciation by long continued dyspepsia. In his case dyspepsia meant money in his pocket, for it kept him thin. People who want to keep themselves so thin by dyspepsia as to exhibit for "Living Skeletons," ought not to take Perry Davis's Pain Killer, for it drives dyspepsia out.

Secretary Folger has ordered that Irish pauper immigrants be prevented from landing at New York, and sent back on the steamship bringing them from England.

Dr. E. B. Weathers, Elkton, Ky., says: "I regard Brown's Iron Bitters as a medicine of unusual worth."

The New York Herald has won a suit against New York city for $19,231, the balance of an advertising bill.

SAFE, PROFITABLE, and at a low rate the six per cent gold bonds of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad are attracting a great deal of attention from shrewd investors just at present.

The employes in the Bethlehem Iron Co's steel mill at Bethlehem, Pa., 1000 in number, have struck for higher pay.

Bourbon Whiskey

is a necessity in every household. A really reliable brand may be found in the "G. O. Taylor Old Bourbon," bottled by Messrs. Chester H. Graves & Sons, of Boston, and to be obtained in bottles only, bearing their signature over each cork from leading Grocers and Druggists everywhere.

Patrick McCabe, aged eighty-four years, cut his throat at Shelburne, Vt., June 27th, and not succeeding in killing himself that way, hung himself to a tree. Poverty was the cause.

Mr. Geo. W. Knapp, of Waltham Mass., says: "I have removed an enlargement on my horse's knee which a V. S. pronounced incurable, by the use of Ellis's Spavin Cure. I think this is a very flattering testimonial." It's only one of many hundred, however, thanks; all the same.

Henry Whiting's barn in Wilton was burned June 27th; loss $7000; insured. Ferdenand Hutchinson dropped dead while assisting at the fire.

Positive Cure for Piles.

To the people of this County we would say we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to Cure or money refunded—internal, external, blind, bleeding or itching piles. Price 50c. a Box. No cure, no pay. For sale by Andrew P. Preston, Druggist.

A. K. Churchill of Stoneham, Mass., killed himself June 27th by shooting himself in the head and then cutting his throat with a razor.

It Is Useless

for young ladies who are troubled with freckles, pimples, moth and tan and a bad skin generally to use liquid paints or dry powders, for they only make the skin look well for the time being. To have a good complexion you must have pure blood. Use Sulphur Bitters and your skin will be fair and complexion rosy.—Young Lady's Magazine.

Garrett J. Rose, charged with attempting to poison his mother, Mrs. Amanda Hawley, at Middlebury, Vt., has been discharged.

Diphtheria poisons the blood. Convalescents should take Hood's Sarsaparilla to neutralize and eradicate the poison matter.

Mrs. Joseph Williamson hanged herself at Salem, Mass., June 25th.

Flies and Bugs.

Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c.

The straits of Belle Isle are reported blocked with ice.

News and Notes.

Fickett & Beal, dealers in teas, coffee, spices, etc., at Boston, have failed; liabilities about $17,000; creditors accept fifty cents on $1. Mr. Fickett, it will be remembered, was accidentally killed by Mr. Beal a few months since in a stateroom on a sound steamboat, by being shot under the impression that he was a burglar; and the failure was due in great part to the interruption and disarrangement of the firm's business caused by this incident.

The Washington Republican says: "Secretary Chandler, in denying permission to Maj. Haines to cut down Observatory hill, deserves well of his country, and of all men who have souls for anything above the merely practical. The secretary says the hill is a beautiful spot, and cutting it down would be of no benefit to the government, as sufficient earth to fill up the flats can be procured anywhere in that vicinity. Mr. Chandler is right; Observatory hill is a beautiful spot, and its destruction would be a barbarous vandalism. The destruction of anything beautiful, unless imperatively demanded by overwhelming reasons, is a crime. There is too little beauty on the earth to be wasted or destroyed for any purpose. Besides this, Observatory hill has a history and a tradition that make it doubly to be venerated. Gen. Washington camped on its brow for a night or two while en route to join Braddock. On its grassy summit Capt. John Smith ratified a treaty of amity with the Analostan Indians. Around it cling many legends of the red men—legends of their lives, their hates, their simple and enduring faith. On its green slopes the conquering progress of the Iroquois was first permanently arrested, for there the warlike Susquehannas were defeated and driven back by a league of the Potomac and Chesapeake tribes. And besides these traditions of another race and a far-off time, there cling around it many legends of the colonial days, fountains of inspiration for the future novelist and poet."

Three negroes who outraged a white woman near Jefferson, Texas, have been lynched.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

HAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.
C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—* * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.
I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.
Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.
Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer
IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

The Kirby boy, who was run over by the cars near the Creek on the evening of June 25th, was reported dead on the 28th.

ALBERT R. JUNKINS,

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three.

An Ordinance regulating the crying of goods and other things, and to prevent the obstruction and incumbrance of the streets.

Be it ordained by the City Councils of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

Section 1. No hawker, peddler, or itinerant merchant shall cry any goods, wares or merchandise whether offered for sale by himself, nor shall any person, whether employed by such hawker, peddler or itinerant merchant or otherwise, call attention to or advertise the same by any words or sounds or by the blowing of horns or other instruments or by any unusual noise, in or upon any public street, lane, alley or place in the City of Portsmouth.

Section 2. No hawker or peddler shall allow any wagon or other vehicle to stand, be or remain upon the corner of any street or at or near the junction of any two streets in the City of Portsmouth, for the sale of goods, wares or merchandise therefrom.

Section 3. This ordinance shall not apply to farmers and other persons selling or exposing for sale, hay, fuel, provisions, vegetables or other articles raised or manufactured by such persons or their employers, or residents of the City of Portsmouth who are endeavoring to gain an honest livelihood.

Section 4. No person or firm shall sell or expose for sale, or place in or over any part of the sidewalk or other part of any street, lane or public place in this City any goods, wares, meats, poultry, vegetables, fruit, fish or other articles, or place or cause or suffer to be placed by any employee, clerk or agent any box, barrel, platform or other article whatever upon which such before-recited articles or any of them or any other than these shall be placed, exposed for sale, or suffered to remain.

Section 5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars and costs of prosecution, one half of which fine shall go to the person making the complaint.

GOSSIPS SAY

That a gentleman from Manchester, named Perkins, and his family, are encamped in tents for the season on Gerrish's island.

That other parties from Manchester will go into camp at the same place next week.

That a family from the British provinces, who arrived in the lower harbor in an old schooner several weeks ago, have moved into the Hart house on Gerrish's island, and engaged in gathering seamoss.

That the electric lights at the Hotel Wentworth were displayed on Wednesday evening of this week for the first time this season, and shone out with great brilliancy.

That a dozen fishing vessels were in the lower harbor last Thursday, baiting up for the Grand banks from the weirs.

That the cruising of the steamer Swan in the north pond some weeks ago did not wholly obviate the noted nuisance, as the pond was making its presence known in high style on Wednesday night.

That the pond on Thursday surpassed all its previous efforts this year, and filled with sorrow the hearts of all who got within nose-shot of it.

THE REUNION ON THE 4th.

At a meeting of the Reunion Committee, held Wednesday evening, June 27th, it was announced that the Boston delegation of returning sons had expressed a desire to pay some compliment to the citizens of Portsmouth, and had offered the services of the Boston band for an open air concert on Haymarket square. The committee accepted this proposition, and gave the time for the concert at four o'clock in the afternoon, July 4th.

The previously-arranged route of the procession was changed, so as to admit of a passage through Vaughan, Deer and Market street.

The Boston Post of June 28th says: "The plans for the decennial return of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth, N. H., resident in Boston and vicinity, are progressing most satisfactorily. Arrangements have now been consummated which are likely to insure a large representation from this city. It is now certain that a special train over the Eastern railroad will be chartered by the Boston delegation, leaving Boston at 8:05 A. M. upon the morning of the Fourth, and running express to Portsmouth, where it is expected to arrive at ten o'clock. The delegation will be headed by a band of excellent music, and is expected to be strong in numbers. The badges to be worn in the procession at Portsmouth will be blue and gold, with scarlet for the marshals, and will form a marked contrast with the white badges worn in 1873; and it is understood that several gentlemen will march in the line wearing in addition to the present badge the blue and the white of the previous reunions. The unique character of these celebrations, which is a feature that Portsmouth may be claimed to have originated, when that municipality issued the first call for the return of its children resident abroad, in July, 1853, appears to have especially commended it to general favor, and it seems probable that the anniversary of 1883 will witness a demonstration worthy to rank with those of previous years. Particulars will be given at the second meeting, to be held in Wesleyan hall this evening, as to the issuing of the badges and the necessary proceedings to secure tickets by the special train, upon which only members of the delegation will be taken at the round trip price of $1.50, good for return by any train from July 4th to 9th, inclusive."

Mr. Andrews, the contractor for removing Gangway rock, has been served with notice of a suit for infringement of a patent on a tide-breaker, said patent being the property of Mr. Sylvester, who had the contract for work on the rock last year. Mr. Andrews denies having infringed Mr. Sylvester's patent.

THE LIGHT ARTILLERY.

Agreeably to the request of the Reunion Committee, a meeting for the reorganization of the Artillery Company was held in Franklin hall on Thursday evening. An unexpected number of active young men were present, and entered into the spirit of the occasion with enthusiasm. An hour was spent in drill, and the movements of a marching company were executed with remarkable precision. The state has furnished arms and uniforms to equip fifty men, and there is no doubt that the brilliant dress of an artillery company will add variety to the gay display with which the Sons and Daughters will be welcomed on the 4th.

The company will meet at Franklin hall this evening for drill. About twenty more young men are needed to fill the company.

Miss Georgianna Entwistle, daughter of City Marshal Entwistle, was on Thursday evening wedded to Mr. Oliver J. Goldsmith, Rev. Mr. Hovey of the Episcopal church officiating. A large concourse of friends gathered to witness the ceremony, and the tokens of regard were many and valuable. The young couple took the Pullman train for a trip to St. John.

Mr. Frank J. Stiles, a Portsmouth boy who learned the printer's trade in this office with the late Frank W. Miller, is now in charge of the Citizen office at Natick, Mass.

Col. Gustavus Lucke of Sherbrooke, Province of Quebec, was married at Walpole June 27th to Miss Helen Lane, daughter of Hon. F. F. Lane of Keene, Rev. Mr. Walkley of Keene officiating. After the ceremony the guests, numbering some 200, enjoyed a fine collation served by a Boston caterer. The presents were numerous and very rich, including among other things a fine testimonial from Col. Lucke's bachelor friends in Sherbrooke, and a handsome group of statuary from Ex-Gov. Weston of New Hampshire, on whose staff the bridegroom served. The newly-made husband and wife will pass the honeymoon at the Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quantity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

THE
6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS
— OF THE —
TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $46,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to

Daily Chronicle.

Sturbridge, Mass., people are wondering where Lafayettee Willard and Mrs. Henry W. Nichols have gone. A reward of $50 is offered for information concerning either. Willard is the father of several children, and Mrs. Nichols the mother of four boys.

*For years Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham has been contending with the terrible hydra known as Disease, with what surprising success many who were in the serpent's coils will testify. Often has the powerless victim been snatched from the open jaws of the destroyer. In smiting the heads of this monster Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is far more efficacious than the process of potential and actual cautery.

In Jacksonville, Fla., last Saturday, fireworks exploded in the store of L. A. McDonald, blowing out the entire front of the building and enveloping it in a sheet of flame. A. W. McDonald and Leonard Lott received severe injuries; Lott was overpowered by the smoke, and failed to escape. His dead body was recovered.

For all diseases of the heart Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator is peculiarly adapted, and a test of its remedial properties will show immediate results. The druggists everywhere sell it for $1 per bottle. Frank E. Ingalls, of Concord, N. Hampshire, is sole agent for it and will answer correspondents and send circulars when desired.

Mrs. Charles Bell of Rayville, Long Island, thirty-three years of age, and the mother of of four children, left home suddenly Monday morning of last week. Friday her husband received a letter from her, in which she made known the fact that she had run away with William Ellison, a resident of Rayville, and was going to Boston, never to return.

*Both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1, or six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, or lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Enclose 3c. stamp. Send for "Guide to Health and Nerve Strain."

John Ivers, an expressman, living in West Springfield, Mass., was probably fatally stabbed Saturday night. He was watering his house at a trough in the road, when two men drove up and roughly ordered him to unhitch the check rein of their horse. Ivers refused, whereupon they jumped from the wagon, stabbed him in the back and then rapidly drove off. It was too dark to identify them. Ivers' wound is three inches deep, and penetrated the lung.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, & etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

One hundred and fifty revolutionists attacked Chiautla, Mexico, and carried off two officials. The cavalry pursued, and the revolutionists being pressed, assassinated their prisoners. The revolutionists were overtaken by the cavalry, and cut to pieces. Thirty were killed.

Perfect health depends upon a perfect condition of the blood. Pure blood conquers every disease and gives new life to every decayed or affected part. Strong nerves and perfect digestion enables the system to stand the shock of sudden climatic changes. An occasional use of Brown's Iron Bitters will keep you in a perfect state of health. Don't be deceived by other iron preparations said to be just as good. The genuine is made only by Brown Chemical Company, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Joel M. Hawes of Rutland, Vt., is charged with fraudulently issuing 3000 or more shares of the Rutland railroad, while its treasurer.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

PLAIN WORDS
Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression Towards the Means that Afforded Her Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, sir, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Grateful patients are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your Liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The "Living Skeleton."

The man who was known as the "Living Skeleton," died and was embalmed, after having been exhibited at cheap museums. He is said to have weighed 46 pounds when he died, having been reduced to this dreadful state of emaciation by long continued dyspepsia. In his case dyspepsia meant money in his pocket, for it kept him thin. People who went to keep themselves so thin by dyspepsia as to exhibit for "Living Skeletons," ought not to take Perry Davis's Pain Killer, for it drives dyspepsia out.

The anniversary at Colby academy, New London, began Sunday evening. Rev. Elbridge Pepper of Bradford preached the baccalaureate sermon, and President James A. Dixon delivered the address to the class.

The building of the Topeka, Salina and Western Railroad is being vigorously pushed forward. The six per cent. gold bonds of this road are a safe and profitable investment.

Warren H. Morgan, while bathing in the Nashua river at Nashua Saturday evening, was drowned. He was seventeen years old.

Dr. E. B. Weathers, Elkton, Ky., says: "I regard Brown's Iron Bitters as a medicine of unusual worth."

A number of Concord prison convicts have presented the wife of Chaplain Barnes an elegant cross of mother-of-pearl and gold, valued at $100.

Would Like the Place.

A bitter contest has begun in the engineer corps of the navy for the place left vacant by the retirement of Commodore William H. Shock, chief of the bureau of steam engineering. There are four formidable candidates—Capt. Geo. Sewell, who stands number two in his grade of engineers; Capt. Benjamin F. Garvin, who stands number six in the same grade; Commander Charles H. Loring, who stands number one in his grade of chief engineers, and Commander Alexander Henderson, who is next below. Commodore B. F. Isherwood, who has been chief of the bureau, would like to have the position again, especially as he retires on Oct. 6th, 1884.

Capt. Sewell's friends are hard at work for him, and assert that President Arthur promised the place to Sewell through Hugh J. Hastings some time ago. They believe that the president would redeem that promise were it not for John Roach, who swings more influence in naval affairs than any other man, and demands the place for Commander Henderson, who is at the Washington navy yard. Capt. Sewell says that Henderson can afford to wait, as he does not retire until July 12, 1894. Sewell will be retired Dec. 17, 1887. But Roach will fight against Sewell because he has had experience with him before, and knows him to be as obstinate as a mule in opposing to anything that will benefit Roach alone. Capt. Garvin, who will retire Feb. 14, 1885, it is said thinks that Sewell can afford to wait and follow him. Commander Loring's friends are working quietly, and hope to bring him in as the dark horse, although he does not retire until Dec. 26, 1890.

The attention of our readers is called to an advertisement in this issue, headed "Florida Pinn Palmine." It is a new bedding material made of Florida fox-tail pine. Its discovery dates back to 1878, since which time it has come into popular use, largely supplanting the doubtfully healthful feather beds and hair mattresses. Chemical analysis proves it to be the driest bedding now in use, and the balsams and resins with which pine is known to be filled, render it fragrant and medicinal. As subsequent advertisements appear, we will all have a chance of noting some of the wonderful cures it has brought to those who have used it as a bed, and how well it is calculated to brace the system against disease.

The British passenger steamers Hurunui and Waitara, belonging to the New Zealand Shipping Co., left London together on the 22d inst., and that night came into collision off Portland, the Waitara going down in less than two minutes. Sixteen persons, including three saloon passengers, were saved; twenty-five were drowned.

C. L. Heywood, superintendent of the cattle-quarantine station at Waltham, Mass., was killed by a train Saturday afternoon, while trying to warn off the track a person who was in danger of being struck by another train.

The Life of Man.

Man, born of woman, is of few days and no teeth. And, indeed, it would be money in his pocket sometimes if he had less of either. As for his days, he wasteth one-third of them, and as for his teeth, he has convulsions when he cuts them, and as the last one comes through, lo, the dentist is twisting the first one out, and the last end of that man's jaw is worse than the first, being full of porcelain and a roof-plate built to hold blackberry seeds.

Stone bruises line his pathway to manhood; his father boxes his ears at home, the big boys cuff him in the play ground, and the teacher whips him in the school room. He buyeth Northwestern at 110, when he hath sold short at 96, and his neighbor unloadeth upon him Iron Mountain at 63 5-8, and it straightway breaketh down to 52 1-4. He riseth early and sitteth up late that he may fill his barns and storehouses, and lo! his children's lawyers divide the spoil among themselves, and say "Ha, ha!"

He growleth and is sore distressed because it raineth, and he beateth upon his breast and sayeth, "My crop is lost!" because it raineth not. The late rains blight his wheat, and the frost biteth his peaches. If it be so that the sun shineth, even among the nineties, he sayeth, "Woe is me, for I perish," and if the northwest wind sigheth down in forty-two below, he crieth "Would I were dead!" If he wear sackcloth and blue jeans men say "He is a tramp," and if he goeth forth shaven and clad in purple and fine linen all the people cry, "Shoot the dude!"

He carryeth insurance for twenty-five years, until he hath paid thrice over for all his goods, and then he letteth his policy lapse one day, and that same night fire destroyeth his store. He buildeth him a house in Jersey, and his first born is devoured by mosquitoes; he pitcheth his tents in New York, and tramps devour his substance. He moveth to Kansas, and a cyclone carryeth his house away over into Missouri, while a prairie fire and ten million acres of grasshoppers fight for his crop. He settleth himself in Kentucky, and is shot the next day by a gentleman, a colonel and a statesman, because, sah, he resembles, sah, a man, sah, he did not like, sah." Verily, there is no rest for the sole of his foot, and if he had it to do over again he would not be born at all.

THE RING'S MOTTO.

A lover gave the wedding-ring
Into the goldsmith's hand,
"Grave me," he said, "a tender thought
With the golden band,"
The goldsmith graved,
With careful air.—
"Till death us part."

'Twas she that lifted now his hand,
(Oh, love, that this should be!)
Then on it placed the golden band,
And whispered tenderly:
"Till death us does join,
Lo, thou art mine
And I am thine!

"And when death joins we never more
Shall know an aching heart,
The bridal of that better love
Death has no power to part.
That trill be
For thee and me Eternity."

So up the hill and down the hill
Through fifty changing years,
They shared each others happiness,
They dried each others tears.
Alas! alas!
That death's cold dart
Such love can part!

But one sad day—she stood alone
Beside his narrow bed;
She drew the ring from off her hand,
And to the goldsmith said:
"Oh, man, who graved
With careful art,
'Till death us part?"

Now grave four words for me
'Till death us join,' " she took
The precious golden band once more
With solemn wistful look,
And wrought with care,
For love, not coin,
"Till death us join."

IS IT WORTH WHILE.

Is it worth while that we jostle a brother,
Bearing his load on the rough road of life?
Is it worth while that we jeer at each other?
In blackness of heart that we war to the knife?
God pity us all in our pitiful strife.

God pity us all as we jostle each other;
God pardon us all for the triumph we feel
When a fellow goes down 'neath his load on the heather,
Pierced to the heart; words are keener than steel,
And mightier far now than for weal.

Were it not well in this brief little journey
On over the isthmus, down into the tide,
We give him a fish instead of a serpent,
Ere folding the hands to be and abide
Forever and aye in the dust at his side?

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

TAUNTON, MASS., Aug. 12, 1882.

C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen— * * * I have had ringworm humor and salt-rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and none of them could cure me. One day my mother was in the city of Taunton, and found one of your cook books, and in reading it I found many people testifying to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt forced to try it, although I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two small bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and used three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself cured. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim outlines of the sores. I shall take two more bottles, and then the cure will be complete.

I am gratefully yours,

EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,

HOMER B. NASH.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the south and East.

$150,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $460,000 in bonds and $300,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $650.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. — One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. WHAT MRS. BRUCE
Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him — Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or more than headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Poisoned Water to Drink.

When the fish died in the river forty miles above the water-works, many people were alarmed less the defilement of the water might extend way down. Happily there was nothing but what could be remedied by the use of something that everybody could procure at a few minutes' notice. This little "something" was Perry Davis's Pain Killer.

A coal train on the Rochester & Pittsburg railroad broke apart at Rasselas, Pa., June 30th, and the rear half, with a passenger car attached, ran down a heavy grade and collided with another train, killing six men, including the conductor and brakeman, and wounding nine others.

Lost--Five Dollars.

Nan Kendall held her pretty brown head one one side, and critically examined the picture which she had just finished.

The easel stood by the open window, through which the scent of lilacs was borne into the low, old-fashioned parlor. Her box of color tubes stood on the floor beside the easel, and the palette and brushes, with the paint still moist and odorous upon them, lay upon a small table near by.

"Yes," she said, with a self-satisfied, dimpling smile, using the mahlstick to aid her as she enumerated the good points of her picture, "I think it'll pass muster, mother, dear. Confess now that I manage those bits of sunlight and shade with the skill of an old master! And am I not represented 'as large as life,' only more so?"

"And what shall you call it, dear?" asked Mrs. Kendall, a fair brown-haired widow, who looked very like her daughter.

"'Under the Lilacs,' I think. It doesn't look very modest, I suppose, to paint oneself; but, in the dearth of models, I was compelled to do so."

"As if a prettier model could be desired!" exclaimed Mrs. Kendall, with motherly pride.

Yes, it was a pretty model, and a very pretty bit of painted canvas. Overhead hung great bunches of the fragrant lilac blooms, framing an exquisite, smiling, girlish face. Her hand was stretched upward, and the loose sleeve had slipped carelessly back, disclosing the white, rounded arm. Her apron was almost filled with great, odorous lilac bunches, while she was just in the of plucking another. Over all the sunlight streamed—warm, bright, golden.

"I shall go to New York with it myself," said Nan, "and make—oh, ever so much money on it, mother dear! Then we shall have a new carpet; for this one, though almost hidden by rugs innumerable, is undeniably shabby. And I shall get my piano tuned, and buy those new waltzes Hetty spoke about last week, and—and I'm sure I don't know what all. I thank the fates that they have decreed old furniture to be very stylish and 'nice,' for I'm afraid I won't get enough to buy anything new in that direction."

"Don't build too many air-castles, Nannette," said her mother, warningly, "for you may be disappointed after all."

But brave little Nannette's hopefulness was not dashed in the least. She had worked so long on this picture; had been so painstaking. Surely in the great city, ten miles away, there must be some one who would admire it and buy it.

Not quite a week later Mr. Curtis Van Tassels sauntered listlessly into one of the down-town cafes toward dusk, and settled himself, with a dissatisfied sigh, at one of the numerous tables, covered with whitest, softest damask, and glittering with silver.

Business had been unutterably dull during the past week, notwithstanding the fact that it was early in spring, and Mr. Van Tassel's affairs had suffered more than a little. Hence his unwonted perturbation of mind.

So preoccupied was he that he did not notice he had a vis-a-vis, till coffee and rolls had been brought him.

The cloud lifted suddenly from his handsome forehead, and he glanced with deep interest at the girl opposite him—Nannette Kendall herself. Curtis thought it was one of the most beautiful faces he had ever seen—exquisite in its modeling, perfect in its contour. Her eyes looked sad and disappointed, as if ready to drop tears.

Yes, Nan had met with a great disappointment. She had been unable to dispose of the picture round which her hopes had centered so long, and now she must return home even poorer than before.

She had walked about the city all day, not quite despairing of success, until the approach of evening. Then fearful lest her mother might be anxious she had left the picture at a kind-hearted bookseller's, who had promised to sell it for her if possible. She had decided to take the five o'clock train, but she had missed it; even her brave heart quailed a little at thought of riding home alone at night on the cars.

Faint for lack of food, she had entered the cafe, never dreaming she was guilty of extravagance unparalleled, as it was one of the most fashionable, expensive restaurants in the city.

Poor Nannette! her head was aching, her nerves tingling; her eyes were hot with unshed tears of mortification and disappointment. What a relief it would have been if she could have indulged in a good hearty cry! But even that little boon was denied her in this great, bustling, hurrying, noisy, selfish city. (The adjectives are Nan's own.)

Her repast finished, Nan put her hand into her pocket for her shabby little purse. The next moment she uttered an exclamation of terror and dismay.

The purse and money were both gone!

Her waiter stood beside her with outstretched hands, a faint smile of incredulity on his smooth countenance. People who couldn't find their purses were by no means rare.

"But I have lost it!" faltered poor Nan, pale and trembling with genuine terror and distress; "or else some one has stolen it from me—my purse with five dollars in it."

Curtis Van Tassels had heard every word. He looked at Nan critically, and at the same time sympathetically. The troubled look in the brown eyes was so painfully apparent that he did not for a moment share the waiter's suspicion.

A brilliant idea came to him. Stooping down, quick as thought he abstracted a five-dollar bill from his own wallet.

Nan had not seen the action, but the quick-witted waiter had.

"I beg your pardon!" Curtis said, quickly and courteously, "but I think this must be the missing bill. I found it beside your chair just now. Doubtless you have taken it out of your own purse, and laid it beside your plate, and then forgotten it. Very luckily I chanced to look down."

"How can I ever thank you, sir?" Nan exclaimed; while the servant gave Curtis a slight wink, and discreetly kept all knowledge of the little ruse to himself. So long as he was paid it was no business of his from whose pocket the money came.

But a diligent search on Nan's part, aided by both the waiter and Curtis Van Tassels, brought no purse to light, and she was compelled to go home without it. How the money could be there and not the purse was a mystery she was unable to solve.

Only a day or two later Curtis was passing Harrison's bookstore when a painting in the window attracted his attention. Its execution was graceful and vigorous, but it was the central figure in it that he noticed. It was the very girl whom he had met at the cafe.

"I am a fool!" he thought, as he entered and asked the price of the picture. But for all that he bought it, paying a hundred dollars for it, though Mr. Harrison declared that the artist would consider seventy-five a munificent sum.

"Very fine indeed," Mr. Harrison said volubly, glad of a chance to make a bargain, even if it brought no money into his own pocket, "and a perfect likeness of the artist, Miss Kendall, sir. If she wasn't poor as a church mouse the world would have heard of her long ago, I'll be bound."

Curtis thought so, too, and wanted very much to know Miss Kendall's address, but he did not say so.

"My mother has long wished to have her portrait painted," he said artfully; "But she wants it to be the work of a lady's brush. Do you think if I sent Miss Kendall her photograph, she would copy an oil portrait from it?"

"She would be only too glad, I guess, Mr. Van Tassels," said Mr. Harrison, effusively; "and you couldn't get a lady better fitted for the work than she."

And Nan worked diligently and happily on her first order, never dreaming by what chain of circumstances the loss of her shabby purse had brought all this good fortune.

She knew nothing about Mr. Van Tassels except that he had purchased "Under the Lilacs," and was so pleased with it that he wanted his mother's portrait from the same brush.

"I hope he will like it," she said, on the very afternoon when Curtis Van Tassels was coming for the finished picture. "I have certainly done my best."

Mr. Van Tassels did like it, and he liked the little artist, too, so well that he came again and again, on one pretext or another.

And before many months he had asked Nan Kendall to marry him, and she answered, "Yes!"

"Nan," said Curtis, quizzically, one day, "did you never lose five dollars?"

Nan started and laughed.

"What do you mean, Curtis?" she said. "No; but I thought I did, last spring."

"Thought you did? Curtis exclaimed. "Why, didn't you really lose it?"

"Curtis, you're are not the gentleman who—"

Nan stopped.

"Yes," nodded Curtis Van Tassels, with smiling lips.

"I have sometimes wondered where I have seen you before. Oh, it was monstrous of you to deceive me as you did! I don't think I ever forgive you."

"O, yes, you can!" said Curtis, confidently. "But how do you know I ever deceived you?"

"Mr. Harrison sent me my purse the very next day, with the five dollars intact. I had left it on one of his counters. I felt very angry with you, then, and if I had known you I would have sent the money you gave me right back."

"And now that you do know me, you are going to give yourself to me instead!" exclaimed Curtis, triumphantly. "It was only a loan, you see!"

GOSSIPS SAY

That a boy named Hoyt, of Kittery Point, was badly wounded in the hand last Saturday by the premature discharge of a blank-cartridge toy pistol.

That Mr. John H. Slater, at his residence on Cabot street, has one of the most varied and extensive displays of roses to be found in Portsmouth, over twenty varieties being in full bloom.

That the Portsmouth delegation in the legislature, to whom were referred the school bills introduced by Messrs. Laighton and Urch, have organized with Wm. S. Hadley as chairman and Major Urch as clerk.

That at the delegation's first meeting, Hon. James W. Emery, who happened to be in Concord, was present and spoke in favor of the bill introduced in the house by Major Urch.

That work was going briskly on, Monday, in the way of getting the city dressed in its best bib and tucker for the reception of the sons on the 4th.

That the streets—and there are none better in any city of its size in New England—were being put in the neatest possible condition, while arrangements were being made for elegant displays of floral and bunting decorations on many of the buildings, public and private.

That Mayor Treat was erecting an arch over the statute of Old Father Time on the roof of his marble works, the arch to bear the motto "May he deal gently with us all."

That not for many years has there been such a demand for carpenters, joiners and painters in this city as during the present season.

That one crockery store in this city has sold over fifty punch bowls during the past two weeks.

That nearly every housewife, in purchasing, remarked that they were excellent for chowder dishes.

CONSECRATION.

The consecration of Christ church will take place this forenoon, the doors being opened to the public at 10:30 o'clock, half an hour before the commencement of the consecration services. As the services will be necessarily long, and beyond the appreciation of children, the officers of the church most respectfully request that parents and guardians will not allow children under nine years of age to attend. For obvious reasons no tickets of admission can be issued, and it is hoped that the welcome extended to all may be responded to by the utmost decorum and reverence from all on the sacred occasion. The visiting clergy are requested to assemble at 10:30 in the choir room; the trustees and architect in the vestry room; the city government in the guild room; and the wardens and vestry of St. John's in the school room.

The granite steps in the sidewalk on Bow street, in front of Boynton's bottling establishment and the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s office, have been removed, and a sloping sidewalk of brick built there. The old "jogs" in the sidewalk were a dangerous annoyance, and have given many a man a lame back or bruised knee, according to which way he happened to be travelling.

The bell of the Middle street church was broken on Sunday, while being rung, and is said to be ruined.

Among the "sons" to arrive from distant points on Monday evening were Messrs. Winslow L. A. Nowell and Henry M. Carr, from Milwaukee, Wis.

The steamer Mystic made her first Sunday trip to the Shoals with mails and papers, this season, on the 1st inst., making the run out in an hour and five minutes. She took out about twenty passengers.

Mr. James R. Yeaton on Monday had on sale new potatoes, raised by himself at his place near Richards avenue.

Mrs. Frank Williams has been engaged as soprano at the Unitarian church, and sang on Sunday last, to the decided satisfaction of the congregation.

Edwin Stackpole, aged twenty-one years, son of W. W. Stackpole of Newmarket, was killed recently, about fifteen miles from Boston. He was a fireman on the New York & New England railroad, and while standing on the coal in the tender, talking to a brakeman, was struck by a bridge, his skull being fractured and his neck broken by the blow.

One of the most showy signs in the city is that of the Globe Grocery Co., over the door of their newly-opened store on Pleasant street, where the same business was so long conducted by the late Samuel W. Moses. Nobody can cross Market square or go to the post-office without seeing that sign.

The Eureka pool rooms, No. 31 Congress street, and the hair-dressing saloon at the same place, have been handsomely decorated by the proprietor, Mr. S. A. Preble, in honor of the return of the sons.

A steamer came around from Newburyport last Sunday, having in tow some fine spars for the new schooner at Freeman's point.

There will be a prayer meeting in the Pearl street church on the morning of the 4th, from six to seven o'clock; all are invited.

The steamer Startled Fawn, with a party from Newburyport, came into this harbor on Sunday, and sailed again after a brief stop.

Fifty men were discharged last Saturday from the League Island navy yard, and the others will be dispensed with as soon as possible.

There were 117 names entered on the police records during June. Of these forty-four were drunks, twenty-five were lodgers, and one person was arrested for the illegal discharge of fireworks in the street.

Staples' grocery store at Eliot Neck was totally destroyed by fire early Monday morning, with its contents; the post-office was located in the building. It is supposed the store was robbed and then fired.

At South Berwick, last week, Deputy Sheriff Towne of York county arrested Samuel W. Green, a man about thirty years old, on a charge of maintaining improper relations with the wife of Andrew J. Green of Kennebunk. Both the men claim to be married to the woman. Andrew says he married her in Nova Scotia about twenty-four years ago, and has raised a family of seven children; about a month ago she left him, and was found living in South Berwick with the other man, as his wife. Samuel says the woman told him she was never married to Andrew, and she and her new love went to Great Falls on the 23d ult., and were married. Samuel was committed to jail in default of $300 sureties for his appearance before the supreme court.

Mr. Ivory Simpson and wife, of the Scotland district, York, the former being eighty-nine and the latter eighty-one years of age, drove into this city with a spirited horse, marketing, June 28th, and after finishing their business drove home again, arriving all right.

An interesting case was argued at Washington yesterday before the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, the claim being for the capture of the bark Rowena, of this port, owned by Dallett Brothers, by the Confederate cruiser Dixie. The Rowena was bound from Porto Cabello for this city, laden with coffee, and was captured off Cape Hatteras July 31, 1861, by the Dixie, and taken into Charleston and condemned and sold as a prize. Captain Wilson, a native of this city, and crew, were placed in jail, but afterwards liberated and made their way north. The complainants were represented by Edward S. Sayres, Esq., of this city, and Frank W. Hackett, Esq., of Washington, and the government by Hon. J. A. P. Creswell and Hon. James G. Blaine.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Care of the Hair.

The care of the hair was the subject of a paper recently read to the Pennsylvania State Medical society by Dr. Shoemaker. His opinion is that the stiff hats, so extensively worn by men, produce more or less injury. The forms of hats that are least injurious are, for winter, soft hats of light weight, having an open structure, or pierced with numerous holes; for summer, light straws, also of open structure. As regards the head covering of women, the fashions have been for several years favorable to proper form. The bonnet and hat have become quite small, and cover but little of the head. This beneficial condition, however, is in part counterbalanced by the weight of false curls, switches, puffs, etc., by the aid of which women dress the head. In applying water to the scalp and beard, care should be taken not to use soap water too frequently, as it often causes irritation of the glands and leads to the formation of scurf. It is equally important to avoid using on the head the daily shower bath, which, by its sudden, rapid, and heavy fall, excites local irritation, and, as a result, loss of hair quickly follows. In case the health demands the shower bath, the hair should be protected by a bathing cap. After washing, the hair should be briskly rubbed with rough towels, the Turkish towel heated being particularly serviceable. Oil has not only a cleansing action upon the scalp, but it also overcomes any rough or uneven state of the hair.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to

Daily Chronicle.

Three years ago Mr. Walter S. Drake of Hampton, N. H., and his wife, adopted a girl as a daughter, and she has been known by the name of Mabel G. Drake, and she is now nearly fourteen years old. Two weeks ago last Thursday a stout woman of about forty-five years old called at the school house where Mabel attends in Hampton, and called for her, saying that she was wanted at home. The child got into the wagon which the woman had brought, and was driven away in the opposite direction from home and that is the last which has been known certainly about her. Mr. Drake came to this city and gave notice to detectives, and was advised that probably Portsmouth was the place and Sheriff Kent the person to find her. Mr. Drake took the advice and applied to Sheriff Kent, and on the same day an application was made to the sheriff by certain parties in Hampton for a writ upon Mr. Drake and his wife on a charge of cruelty to Mabel, and the preliminary hearing is to be had in Hampton on Thursday, the 9th of July. Mr. Drake is a man in good standing, and the kidnapping is a very suspicious circumstance in the charge against him, being itself a crime in the laws of every state.—Newburyport Herald, 2d inst.

There were only four bidders for each vessel.

"Not at present," replied the druggist, genially, "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capcine and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlight you, however, when I say that sometime ago I was cured by another disease, of which the Capcine has once cured me. I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this: that they make imitators with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPCINE cut cleanly in the middle of the plaster.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

THE CHARTER CHANGE.

Mr. Editor: A recent issue of the Times gives what is termed a bill to amend the charter of the city, with great head-lines terming it an outrage upon the citizens of Portsmouth. Having read the bill carefully, I fail to see where the "outrage" comes in. The bill, if such has been or is to be proposed, seems a good one, and continues in office for a short time certain officers who have been elected by the people, and therefore, in my mind, is not an outrage when compared with the gerrymander practised in 1874, when the democrats, in their indecent haste to partake of the spoils of office, entirely regardless of the people, turned out of office many persons who had been elected for one year by the people, after they had served but six months; and yet they claim to have regard for "the People." At that time the election, which was to be held in November, was changed to August; and ever since the city has worked under the disadvantage of having two sets of officers in each and every municipal year, thereby dividing the responsibility, and if any blame is attached to anybody it is always laid to the other fellow. This bill puts the election back to the former date, and makes our municipal elections biennial instead of annual—a thing which can be done at this time without a look of anything partisan, because we have a democratic mayor with a republican city government. It also allows the election of all minor officers to take place in January, which certainly is something to be desired. I find it also makes some desirable changes in the board of assessors; an improvement in that branch of our city government is certainly wished for by many. I say by all means give us biennial elections, and thus men of experience to run our municipal affairs. CHANGE.

The consecration services at Christ church took place Tuesday morning, July 3d, at eleven o'clock. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity church, New York city. The usual consecration services were gone through with, Mr. John [illegible] reading the writ of donation, Rev. BOYNTON'S SUMMER DRINKS.

Mr. C. E. Boynton has for a number of years been engaged in the manufacture of tonic, birch, pine apple, and ginger and lemon beers, and soda and mineral waters, and it is acknowledged that none better are produced. He has made a speciality of bottling the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s lager beer, and also bottles the Portsmouth porter, which is held in high repute as promotive of health and strength of invalids. The light drinks furnished by this establishment are very enticing, and undoubtedly promotive of temperance. From a small beginning Mr. Boynton has built up a large business, a considerable portion of which is due to the large summer travel to the hotels in this vicinity. His sign on Bow street attests his long establishment in the occupation in Portsmouth, and the deserved popularity of his beverages proves his attention to his business. For the present hot weather, nothing is more refreshing than a drink of some one of Boynton's beers.

NEW BANNER.

Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., will appear in the procession to-day with a new silk banner, and a very handsome one. The silk was procured from New York by Ayers & Locke, and the really artistic painting was done by W. J. Sampson & Co. The Grand Army badge adorns the centre, with the name and number of the post on one side, and of the department on the other, with the name of the city at the bottom.

That on the 3d inst. a returning son on getting off the cars at the Eastern depot recognized an old friend, and exclaimed, "I am glad to see you, Colonel," when to his utter consternation, seventeen hands by actual count were cordially extended for his grasp.

That if there are any deviltries committed during the festivities attendant upon the reunion, they will be charged generally to the numbers of "bad boys," Ex-Mill-dam Rangers, and Ex-Christian Shore Flat-Foots, that are at present in this community.

That the guardians of the night should keep strict watch of the buildings containing ancient family carriages, spinning wheels, and looms, for there are several fire boys around.

That the depots were crowded on the 3d on the arrival of every train, and many were the happy greetings as the incoming guests stepped from the cars.

That Gerrish island contributed liberally of the evergreen used in the decorations.

That the Portsmouth Shoe Factory shut down on the third inst., to start up again next Monday.

That thirty wind bound vessels, generally lumber laden, which were in the lower harbor on Monday night, sailed on Tuesday.

That the "Flying Yankee," which train runs through this city every afternoon, generally with three passenger coaches—on the third inst. had eleven, including three Pullmans.

Among the arrivals the first of this week were the schooner Clara E. Simpson, Swett master, with 566 tons of coal, the Kate Walker, Fernald master, with 205 tons, and the W. B. Cargill, Haskell master, 223 tons, all to J. Albert Walker.

Grand Army hall is decorated with twenty-seven flags bearing the corps badges of the army used during the war of 1861-'65. The large national flag displayed was the one used on a recruiting tent located on Market square in 1862, to enlist men for the war.

A fire on the roof of Mrs. John McEvoy's house on Hancock street, near the chimney, caused an alarm about two o'clock in the afternoon on the 3d inst., but was put out by a few buckets of water without the services of the department being required.

Circumstances strongly indicate that the store of Walter Staples, grocer and postmaster at South Eliot, which was burned at 3:45 A. M. on the 2d inst., was robbed and then set on fire. The first person to arrive at the fire found that a rear door had been broken from its hinges, and kerosene barrels put against it to keep it in place. One barrel of flour and a platform scale were all that was saved from the flames, between forty and fifty dollars in stamps being lost. Mr. Staples was doing a good business, and has the sympathy of the neighbors in his trouble. The loss was about $1500, on which there was $700 insurance. The selectmen of Eliot have offered a reward of $300 for the conviction of any person who has committed burglary or arson in that town within three years past.

Among the many natives of Portsmouth, N., who will join in the grand reunion ole sons and daughters of that old and hi[illegible] town on the 4th inst., is William A. Cromwell, Esq., of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway. Mr. Cromwell has lost none of his love and veneration for that good old town since he participated in a similar reunion thirty years ago.—Boston Post, 3d inst.

From the Registrar of Deeds for Middlesex County, Northern District.

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,

J. P. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a ravening appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. Allen has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vinality and luxurious quality as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer. It is not a dye.

Among the first "sons and daughters" to arrive from distant points were Mr. Henry Works and wife, from San Jose, Santa Clara county, California, who reached Portsmouth several weeks ago, and will spend several months in the east before returning home. When in California, Mrs. Works did not forget that there are excellent people in Old Strawberry Bank, and brought across the continent with her some very beautiful specimens of the "pampas plume" for Hon. Frank Jones, His Honor Mayor Treat, and the editor of this paper. Mr. and Mrs. Works have been in California six years.

Laughton, were highly successful and interesting, giving much pleasure to the audience. A small admission fee was charged, the proceeds of the entertainment being for the purchase of an unabridged dictionary and stand for the use of the school. Miss Laughton, who has taught the school several terms, is very highly spoken of as a capable and thorough instructor.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOYE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

SALT RHEUM.

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians of all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. I got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.

Yours truly, B. WILSON, LORD.
AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the great[est] medicines on earth. I had the worst case of Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally.

J. W. ADAMS.
NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, head and some parts of my body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he could rather not treat it, and some of them thinks I now I am only cured temporarily. I think no more for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES.

MRS. S. E. HIPPLE.
DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that truthfully cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin diseases.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample free. Send now.

Rear Admiral Benjamin F. Sands, U. S. N., retired, died Sunday, July 1st, at Washington, D. C., in the 72d year of his age. He was born in Maryland and appointed from Kentucky, and passed thirty-five years of active service in all parts of the world. In 1865 he was placed in command off the coast of Texas and on June 2d of that year took formal possession of Galveston, the last foothold of the rebellion. In 1865-6, having been made a commodore, he was in command of the Boston navy yard, and from 1867 to 1873 was superintendant of the naval observatory in Washington.

A low condition of health is common with many who allow themselves to worry. Mental anguish causes bodily sufferings. Anxiety and care has broken down many constitutions. A train of disorders usually follow mental distress. Heart affections, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney troubles, etc., are among the list. A sure remedy for relieving all mental and physical distress is Brown's Iron Bitters. It at once strengthens every part of the body making work a pleasure and care unknown.

Jenaie Higgins of Plymouth, Mass., the girl reported missing, with fears of having committed suicide, appeared to the family of B. A. Hathaway on Sunday night, the 1st, having been hiding in the cellar all the time—six days. She concealed herself in a cellar-closet behind barrels and other lumber, and came out nights when all was still. The explanation of this strange action is that she had been drinking hard before secreting herself, and was doing the act in drunken cunning. In the closet in which she was hidden was a small lot of cider, porter and fruit wine, of which she consumed the whole. The house was searched twice, once by the chief of police, from garret to cellar.

A sensation has been created in Hampton on account of the arrest by Sheriff Kent, at the instance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of two well known residents of that town, Walter Drake and his wife, Ann Maria Drake, charged with gross and habitual cruelty to an adopted child, now called Mabel Drake, but formerly Mabel Stevens of Newburyport, aged twelve years and nine months. The preliminary examination commenced Thursday at the town hall in Hampton before Justice Lamprey; T. E. O. Marvin, the agent of the society, appeared for the prosecution, and Judge Page for the defendants. The hall was packed with people, among whom were one hundred and twenty-five ladies. Ten witnesses were examined. The case was adjourned to July 12th. This is the girl reported some weeks ago as having been abducted from a school in Hampton.

A mob of 100 men went from Louisiana, Mo., to Bowling Green early Sunday morning, July 1st, took Bill McDowell, a negro charged with outrage on a white woman, and hang him to a tree a mile out of town. The body was left hanging until about ten o'clock, when it was cut down, and Coroner Campbell held an inquest. The verdict of the jury was death from hanging by unknown parties. The body was put in a plain box and carried to Louisiana, where it was again hung up to a tree, and a photograph of the corpse taken. The head was then cut off and the body mutilated.

Human Blood.—On the purity and vitality of the blood depend the vigor and health of the whole system. Disease of various kinds is often only the sign that nature is trying to remove the disturbing cause. A remedy that gives life and vigor to the blood, eradicates scrofula and other impurities from it, as Hood's Sarsaparilla undoubtedly does, must be the means of preventing many diseases that would occur without its use. MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Poisoned Water to Drink.

When the fish died in the river forty miles above the water-works, many people were alarmed less the defilement of the water might extend way down. Happily there was nothing but what could be remedied by the use of something that everybody could procure at a few minutes' notice. This little "something" was Perry Davis's Pain Killer.

THE SHOWERS ON THE 4th.

The afternoon of the 4th was noted for the heaviest thunder showers of the season, over a wide extent of territory, accompanied in many instances with very much wind. Much damage was done to trees, fences and buildings, by wind and lightning, though but one life is reported as having been lost in this vicinity.

In this city the dwelling of Mr. Benjamin Russell, on State street, was struck by lightning, but no serious harm was done. A large willow tree in the Raynes shipyard was split from top to bottom, but whether by lightning or wind is not known.

In Kittery the house of Waldo Hanscom was struck by lightning and set on fire, the damage amounting to about fifty dollars. In another house a puff of wind came down the chimney, threw every cover off the kitchen stove, and sent clouds of soot and ashes over everything in the room, including the man of the house.

In York the showers were very severe, considerable hail falling in some places; growing crops were injured, and much window glass broken. Mr. G. W. S. Putnam picked up hail-stones of oblong shape measuring nearly two inches the longest way. The Whiting house on the Norwood farm was struck by lightning, about three o'clock, and Mr. Perkins and daughter, two of the boarders, were prostrated, about thirty other persons in the same parlor at the time being slightly affected. In Walker's store and post-office, across the street, Mr. Walker and Albert Bragdon were staggered, and John Goodwin was thrown against the counter, without any serious harm being done.

In Eliot the house of Martin P. Frost was struck, and Mr. Frost killed. He was sitting in the open doorway, with his dog by his side, and the dog also was killed. A little child had but just stepped from the place when the fatal flash struck.

Edward Morrill's house in Dover was somewhat damaged, and Frank Brooks was hurt, by lightning, and other places were struck. The house of Harrison Twombly, in Strafford, was struck and damaged.

From Contoocook, Concord, Nashua and other places in the interior of the state, come reports of very heavy showers, and many instances of lightning striking; also of much damage to grass and other crops.

The mills at Amesbury, Mass., were struck by lightning and burned on the evening of July 5th.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, July 5th, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board, except Ald. Stavers and Atwell.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

E. P. Kimball, Esq., appeared before the board to ask exemption from taxation for the proposed Harvard Clock Manufacturing Co.'s establishment in the Nowell shoe factory on State street. He described the proposed industry and the persons connected with the enterprise, and the exemption was voted.

Proposals for loan were read—from the Mechanics & Traders' bank, 2 1-2 per cent for deposits, six per cent for loans; Rockingham National bank, 2 1-2 per cent for deposits, 5 1-2 per cent for loans; New Hampshire National bank, three per cent for deposits, 5 1-2 per cent for loans. Voted that the New Hampshire National bank have the deposits.

The resignation of Ira C. Seymour as assistant engineer of the fire department was received and accepted.

GOSSIP'S SAY

That the rain on the 4th was due to the reckless action of somebody in cutting the grass in the "Universalist field" on the 3d.

That they might have known how it would be, as this is one of the signs that never fail, no matter how dry the times may be.

That it was a deluge.

That fifteen hundred dollars' worth of bunting was ruined by the angry zephyrs.

That six hundred boats of all descriptions were between the Portsmouth bridge and the narrows at the time of the aquatic races on the 4th.

That it was a good day for the Tetherlys.

That the racket on the night of the third inst. was joined in by the Christian Shore bell, although the authorities had strapped it down and removed the clapper.

That by the aid of lightning rods, several "Flatfoots" ascended to the belfry, and with sledge hammers taken from a neighboring smithery played gentle tunes on the tongueless bell.

That in the calithumpian band at Kittery Point on Tuesday night, the 3d inst., were counted nineteen old wash boilers.

That several down-river chowder parties on the fourth were badly deluged before arriving home.

That the Wentworth house steamer Swan had just got outside of Fort Point on Wednesday afternoon, the 4th, when the second and heaviest shower struck her, and she was driven about two miles outside of Whalesback, and rained nearly full of water, but managed to work into Little harbor before the last shower of the day came on.

A portrait of the late Daniel M. Christie of Dover, painted by Tenney at his studio in this city, has been presented to Dartmouth college.

The indications are that the Harvard Clock Co. will establish their manufactory in this city.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.[illegible] cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was [illegible] less introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my case as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,

J. P. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a ravenous appetite, and it did her everything good. I took three bottles, and it was the best $5 dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE REUNION.

JULY 4th, 1883.

The third return and reception of the Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth passed off very successfully, the number of returners being much larger than anybody had anticipated, nearly 900 arriving from Boston in the special train, and being met at Frenchman's lane by the procession, as per the programme previously published. On the arrival of the train a salute was fired, and Col. Sise, chairman of the general committee of citizens, welcomed the visitors with an address, as follows:

Mr. President, Sons and Daughters, and former Residents of our Dear Old Home.

I have been selected by the "Old Folks at Home" to welcome you back from your wanderings. This is indeed a great honor they have conferred upon me.

Thirty years ago on this the anniversary of our nation's independence I stood here to welcome another generation of our boys and girls. How few of them are here to-day. And again, ten years ago, it was my privilege to perform the same duties for another generation.

These years have rolled on, and brought many changes. 'Tis sad to think what time has done; how few, very few of those who participated in our first reunion are with us to-day. Yet among the glorified host those absent ones are here, with their unseen presence and their benediction. We remember them with a firm faith in a glorious reunion above.

Brothers, sisters of one common hearthstone, we welcome you to the old home. You went out from us, and have again come back, with your banners covered with the honors you have won for old Strawberry Bank.

And we who have remained at home are gathered here from South Mill bridge—the Bunker Hill of South enders; from Liberty bridge, with its patriotic associations; from Puddle Dock—that inland sea; from the Parade, where we all first knew the true meaning of Fourth of July, and too, from Spring Market, the dream-land of our youth, when, with pennies in our pockets, and pollock plenty, we gathered there on Saturday afternoons; and lastly, from the sacred neighborhood of Christian Shore.

We, to-day, have come here to bid you hearty welcome. A welcome which no words can express, but the bright glance of the eye, the firm clasp of the hand, and the wide open doors, will speak to you all of the heart-beat of Welcome with which we said to you "Come Home."

Hon. W. H. Kennard, of the Boston delegation, responded feelingly in the following words:

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Reception Committee:

It is difficult to believe that another ten years have rolled away since we last had this pleasure, and on this, the anniversary of our National Independence, in response to your kind invitation, the Sons of Portsmouth have come once more to visit you, to receive your welcome and to thank you for this magnificent reception. Many delegates who were present at our former gatherings, in consequence of other engagements, are prevented from being with us, but their places are being filled by a younger generation. There are many in our ranks to day who were with us in 1873 and also in 1853, who are proudly wearing upon their breasts these badges as souvenirs of those memorable occasions. We have come, representing every Profession, Trade and Station in life, to revive once more those hallowed memories of our boyhood days, amid the familiar scenes of this dear old town, which we all gladly call Home. We realize that it is indeed an honor to be a son of Portsmouth. There is a charm which seems to attract us hither which we do not experience elsewhere,

"Where'ere we roam, whatever realms we see,
Our hearts untravelled fondly turn to thee."

These reunions, it seems to me, are of great value and importance to us, for while they serve to unite us more closely, they also tend to keep alive that deep love and interest which every true son should feel for his native place.

You will miss from our ranks to-day the forms of those illustrious sons whose genius have added luster and character to our earlier gatherings but who have preceded us into the silent land. We should be lacking in filial duty to-day did we not refer to those of sacred and precious memory, whose faces many of us will look for in vain, but whose good counsel during our wanderings have been to us an ever present talisman. But I must not detain you longer. We have come home as children to our common mother, and for one day, at least, we place ourselves under your guardian care and protection.

The procession, escorting the visitors, then marched over the prescribed route to Market square, where the parade was dismissed. Many very creditable displays of decorations were to be seen, and spectators were numerous all along the line of march.

RACES AND SPORTS

The boat races on the river attracted large numbers, and the wharves along the river front were crowded with spectators. A band was located at the North End at a good point of observation. At Walker's coal pocket, thanks to the thoughtfulness of the proprietor, seats were provided for ladies. The wherry race failed to excite a great deal of enthusiasum. The double-scull was a very interesting race, and the barge race was a closely contested one, and was watched with closest interest. The tub race was not very exciting. The prizes were awarded as follows:

THE SIX OARED RACE.—Sabine's gig, James Leary, coxswain, $25; time 14 minutes 15 seconds.

Constitution's gig, A. R. Goodwin, coxswain, $15; time 14 minutes 45 seconds.

Marion's gig, Jones, coxswain. $5; time 15 minutes 45 seconds.

WHERRY RACE.—Three entries. Henry Tetherly $10, Charles Tetherly $5, Thomas Tetherly $3.

DOUBLE SCULL RACE.—Three entries. Dixon and Swain $10, Kingsbury and Kelly $5, Crowley and Geddy $3.

TUB RACE. — Two entries. Lee $5, Shields $3.

The sports on the parade were delayed somewhat on account of the heavy thunder shower, but a great crowd of people, which filled every available position about the Parade, witnessed them. The results are given below:

Under direction of William H. Muir. John P. Tibbetts and John E. Rider, judges.

2-mile go-as-you-please race.—1st prize, Hennessey, 2d Hurley, 3d Quinn.

Potato race—1st prize, Quinn, 2d Wilson, 3d J. H. Reddy.

Running race, 150 yards.—1st prize, Abbott, 2d Quinn, 3d Linton.

Sack race—1st prize, Barrett, 2d Otis, 3d Boyle.

Walking match, 2 miles—1st prize, Quinn, 2d Lynch, 3d no award.

Jumping match—1st prize, Abbott, 2d Hurley, 3d Hennessey.

THE EVENING EXERCISES.

Franklin hall was well filled in the evening to listen to the literary exercises. James P. Bartlett, Esq. presided, and opened the meeting with the following introductory remarks:

We feel to-night, as the Psalmist says, "How beautiful a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." But it is our fortune, that of the boys and girls who claim a nativity here, nine-tenths of them, when they arrive at the age from fifteen to twenty, to leave their home for other fields of life labor. If it were not for this fact we should not be here. We find our compensation for their departure in their return, as they come to-day to once more greet the old folks at home. It is said that home is where the heart is. It is also true that the heart is where the home is, and I know of no more powerful influence for keeping the young who go out from us in the paths of rectitude than the presence of this home which they carry in their hearts. They know that loving eyes are watching them, loving hearts are following them, hearts that will grieve if they go estray, or rejoice in every virtuous success. It is a more powerful agent of restraint than the fear of punishment, or even the fear of our efficient and tender hearted Brother Kent. It is to this home, the shrine on which you cast whatever success you attain, that we welcome you to-day. The demonstrations of gladness which have saluted your ears to-day bear a double significance, inasmuch as they give voice not only to the joy of a free and happy people, but to the joy with which we hail your coming. We celebrate not only the ties which bind us to the great brotherhood of mankind, bands which are growing stronger and stronger day by day, not only those which bind us together as a nation, under the dear old flag which has waved its protecting fold over us since our birth; no, we celebrate a nearer and closer tie which binds us to each other as children of one common mother, dear old handsome Portsmouth. We who have stood by the old place here give you the right hand of fellowship with assurance that warm hearts beat behind the hands. Since our last gathering of the sons and daughters some who were with us then have passed away to their rest; we recall those whom we would gladly have with us, but we can now only cherish their memories and emulate their excellencies. But while we have the breath of life let us rejoice in the welfare and success of every son or daughter of Portsmouth.

Mayor Treat was then introduced, who extended in behalf of the city to the visiting sons a hearty welcome, in well chosen words:

Sons, and more especially Daughters of Old Strawberry Bank, in behalf of its citizens I cordially welcome each and every one of you back to the maternal nest, knowing full well that all who have wandered from it are ever glad to return and visit the scenes of their childhood and early man and womanhood, for I myself have enacted the role of an absent citizen for the term of eleven years, though through the vicissitudes of fortune I find my lines recast in the familiar places; and although the old home does not seem so grand as it appeared in my youthful days, the remembrance of which all of us carried in our pilgrimage, yet I have found the hearts of our citizens much larger than our fondest imaginings could have dreamed of or the most enthusiastic tongue have told; and to-day I would rather live in the old home, with if need be two meals per day, than anywhere else on three.

All of us have ever been enthusiastic in describing its beauties and numerous attractions; proud of our grand old city, with its history extending back for more than two and a half centuries; ever cosmopolitan, never bigoted; the first to throw off the yoke of British tyranny, the first to strike the blow which finally terminated in the independence of the thirteen original colonies—doing all that it could to make that struggle the grand success which we to-day celebrate; and I don't think the poet had old Portsmouth in his mind when he wrote that other lands may be fairer, other suns may be brighter, for those who have wandered know full well, after years of absence, how dear is the old town, with its old landmarks, each filled with pleasant memories of the long ago. Whether we belonged to the "Christian Shore Flat Foots" or the "Mill-dam Rangers" we have no desire to fight the battles over again, except in memory. All of us glory in old Portsmouth, the beautiful city by the sea, and we who are here still holding the fort glory as well in its many sons and daughters who abroad have made themselves and it famous throughout the civilized world. It affords me I assure you great pleasure to welcome you to the home of your birth, and I trust that your stay will be one of pleasure and satisfaction.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury was the first speaker among the invited guests, and of course spoke well, as he always does, being particularly complimentary to the ladies of Portsmouth. He was followed by B. P. Shillaber, who read a poem; and an ode of welcome, by Albert Laighton, was read by Henry C. Barnabee, who was loudly applauded on appearing. [These poems we print on another page of this paper.] Mr. Barnabee also read the following letter:

BOSTON, July 2, 1883.

Dear Mr. President: When a mother has so large a family as Portsmouth has, a son more or less scarcely counts; but keenly sensible of their own loss are the sons who find themselves unable to join the other children, when the impulse seizes them to fly back for a moment to the dear old lady's apron-string.

I write in behalf of one of those unavoidably-absent sons—a prodical who would be as glad as he of the parable to get home again. His loyalty to that spot of earth where his eyes first opened on sea and sky, and where, upon his arrival, he lost as little time as possible in rigging up a fishing-rod for the smelt at the end of Long Wharf—his loyalty, I repeat, is not to be challenged. Though he has been more or less known as a Bad Boy, he has never been known as an ungrateful one. So far as his slight gift went, he has sung the praises of the Old Town by the Sea; in prose and verse he has sung them, until he was sometimes afraid that good folk might weary of the strain. Now and then he has veiled Portsmouth in a fictitious name, but his affection for her never went veiled; and nothing has even touched him more nearly than when some book or page of his has caused the stranger to turn aside from his route of travel in order to take a stroll through the streets of Rivermouth.

The beautiful old town in which we all passed our childhood! How her loveliness deepens and freshens year by year, as if the waters of the Piscataqua, sparkling at her lip, had their rise in those Fountains of Perpetual Youth which Ponce Le Leon sought! How our purest memories have crystalized about her! What a strong sentiment it is that periodically impels us to flock back to her from every point of the compass—making her the Mecca of loving pilgrimages! We who are Portsmouth born and bred never get wholly away from the glamor of early association. One night, a year ago, lying half awake in a hostelry in Russia, I fancied that I heard the nine o'clock bell tolling in the steeple of the Old North Church, and was conscious of being out rather late!—Just as it used to be!

I am calling upon a great many words to express my regrets that imperative engagements prevent me from visiting Portsmouth on the Fourth. While expressing this regret, I think of one who can send you no message. Very dear to him was this town of his boyhood—its elm-shaded cemeteries, its old-fashioned streets with flavors of the ocean, its myriad refined homes informed with that restful social life which has fled most New England seaports. In the past, on occasions like this, the right word took unpremeditated flight from his lips. His was the cheerfulness that never grows old, the ready humor which has no edge of malice to it—a man of affairs, a genial gentleman, a lover of books and flowers and children! Without his bright presence the notable re-unions of the Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth in '53 and '73 would have lacked something of their sunshine. Other voices shall not compensate for the silence of his to-day. In the hour which you have chosen for the interchange of familiar greetings and old-time reminiscences, surely many a heart will be tenderly touched with the memory of James T. Fields. Yours very truly,

THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

Remarks were also made by Rev. W. G. Nowell of New York, Weodard Emery of Cambridge, Rev. E. A. Rand of East Boston, and Hon. E. A. Stevens of Malden, who said;

Mr. President, Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth:—This has been a red letter day in our history. For the third time within a generation our mother town has called home her absent children to stand again beneath the old roof tree, and they have returned with music and banners. It has been a rare pleasure to renew old friendships and greet once more the companions of our youth, though we have sadly missed the faces of many loved ones. The dwellers in the old homestead have extended a hearty welcome to the returning Sons. The chimes of "Home, Sweet Home," that greeted our ears on our arrival this morning touched a chord in every heart.

We are justly proud of our native place. Her record for 260 years is without a stain. The patriotism of her citizens has been conspicuously shown in their ready response to every call of their country. Among her distinguished Sons we read the names of merchants, statesman, scholars, poets, and divines of more than national reputation.

Beautiful for situation, environed by river, field and grove, and within sight of the ever sounding sea, she sits a very queen. Her tree shaded streets and well kept buildings are a pleasure to look upon, and we trust that ere long the busy hum of many industries will restore her ancient commercial prestige and retain more of her Sons at home.

Mr. President, there are many reasons why my attachment to this good city should be specially strong. It was my birthplace, and, until within a few years, my home. All my children were born here, and the ashes of my kindred rest in her beautiful cemetery. The Portsmouth High School was my alma mater. It was from her citizens that I received the generous sympathy and encouragement which every young man needs when entering upon life's duties; it was their kind hands that placed me in positions of honor, trust and responsibility.

New scenes now surround me, new ties and new friendships have been formed, but I should be ungrateful indeed not to cherish a kindly regard for those of earlier years. I am sure, sir, that no absence will dim the remembrance of affection for my Portsmouth friends. The words of the sweet singer of Israel, slightly changed, express fully the feelings of my heart: "If I forgot thee, O Strawberry Bank, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth."

A letter from Rev. John G. Adams was also read:

To the committee of arrangements for the Reunion at Portsmouth, N. H.:

Gentlemen: As in view of the engagements which I have to meet during the week of the "glorious Fourth" it will not be practicable for me to be with the sons and daughters of my native town on that day, permit me to send in this form my heartfelt congratulations to the goodly company who may have the privilege of enjoying that occasion.

My remembrances of Portsmouth are fresh and strong. Here my earliest life impressions were received. The old localities of my boyhood time are singularly sacred. Austin and Rock pasture, Christian Shore, Spring market, Wibird's hill and Liberty bridge.

It was at Wibird's I first heard the Declaration of American Independence read, by Master Harris, followed by the never-to-be-forgotten oration by John Seaward Cutts. "Glory enough for one day," as I then thought. And at Liberty bridge when the new flag staff was dedicated there was burned into my memory by the orator Esturck Evans, Esq., these expressive words descriptive of that world renowned bird, the American Eagle:

"No bands can hold her when she upward springs,
No storm can stay the thunder of her wings."

I need not say that my patriotism has suffered no diminution since that hour! For my mental and religious training in my native town, I have reason to be grateful alway.

It is true that many of the children of Portsmouth go away and seek and find their fortunes elsewhere. This is in accordance with the spirit of that indomitable "push" so strongly expressed by a Portsmouth poet in that well known couplet:

"No pent up Utica contracts our powers,
But the whole boundless continent is ours."

But in all their wanderings from the old "Strawberry Bank" hive not one is there whose heart will not warm at the thought that he was born there, and nowhere else. So feels your friend and fellow townsman as he pens these lines.

I close with this sentiment, "The Portsmouth of the past, the Portsmouth of today, and the Portsmouth increasing in the best boys and girls, the best men and women to the end of the ages."

Fraternally yours, JOHN G. ADAMS.

The exercises of the evening closed with singing of Auld Lang Syne, by the audience. The audience then repaired to the other hall, where there was a promenade and social gathering for about an hour.

NOTES.

Owing to the death of Chief Marshal Kent's brother-in-law, Col. Kent did not appear mounted in the procession, though his efficient supervision was quietly given.

The fire department made a fine appearance in the procession, a little girl who rode on top of Kearsarge engine attracting special attention. The members of Col. Sise company each wore bouquets presented by the gentleman for whom the machine was named.

Mr. John H. Slater and Dr. Potter supplied water to the procession.

There was a cricket match at Frenchman's lane, between the Portsmouth club and a club from Chelsea, the former winning by a score of forty-six to eighteen.

The steamer Mystic made forty-one trips during the day, carrying 1500 passengers.

Storer Post, G. A. R., kept "open house" at their hall during the day for all members of the G. A. R., and other veterans of the war, wherever from, ice cream, lemonade and cake being supplied in abundance to all; and still the boys had some of their stock of refreshments left when the hall was closed for the night.

The fireworks intended to be burned in the evening were postponed on account of the rain, to the evening of the 5th, when an attempt was made to fire them, and a number of pieces were set off before the people were driven home by a drenching shower. The last piece fired was a bomb, and the mortar from which it was sent off was capsized, hitting a boy and knocking him over in the mud, but not seriously hurting him. The further display was postponed to Wednesday, July 11th.

Among the arrivals the first of this week were the schooner Clara E. Simpson, Swett master, with 566 tons of coal, the Kate Walker, Fernald master, with 205 tons, and the W. B. Cargill, Haskell master, 223 tons, all to E. F. Sise & Co. The schooner Henry Sutton, Manson master, arrived on the 5th with 993 tons of coal to the same firm.

Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago is at the Rockingham.

The Return—1883.

BY B. F. SHELLNDER.

Though lacking its primeval fire,
And trembling falls its every string,
Still, with old love, the ancient lyre
With truthful melody would ring—
To welcome such a scene as this,
Where every Portsmouth heart, aglow,
Is aching with a present bliss,
Reflected from the long ago.

The flight of thirty busy years
Has borne us on o'er life's broad plain
Through varying fates, through joys and tears,
Back to our mother's knee again.
Her tones of welcome prove a spell
To draw us to her fond embrace,
And new delights our bosoms swell
As beams on us her loving face.

No wrinkled crone, with aspect sour,
She sits, serene, that stream beside,
That still asserts its queenly power,
Our earlier, and our later pride;
She smiles to see her "Boys" return
And gather thus about her chair,
While the old fond emotions burn
That for their youth enkindled there

Her boys, indeed, for mother love,
Howe'er disturbing time may press,
All care, all space, all change above,
Can ne'er in tenderness be less.
Although our locks be hoary white,
And life's last burden stoop our form,
We're still her "boys" in Time's despite,
Still live in her devotion warm.

Yes, three decades have taken flight,
Since first we to her presence fled;
And though like silent snows at night,
They've piled their tokens on our head,
Like Arctic flowers, by frost encased,
Defying storms, and still survive,
The ice-that hath our form embraced,
Has kept the filial germs alive.

Though like the storks of German land,
She drove us forth our fate to meet,
She never quite released our hand,
And held to us with love replete.
We now, as then, confess the bond,
Beneath our blanched and fleecy crown,
And, with the old emotion fond,
Like sister Blaisdell's cow "give down."

And now, what of it? What doth mean
This "coming home" that we're about?
This joyousness of sense and scene,
Of roar and rattle, and rend and rout?
What gives yon bell more silvery tone?
What gives more fervor to the day?
What sends the river brighter on?
What lends the airs a softer play?

Because we've met; because again,
As children met, heart beats to heart;
Because we join in the refrain
Which cheered our early morning start;
Because a love the hour controls,
Reanimating scenes long fled;
Because, as brethren, mingling souls
We live anew in seasons sped.

The world may rise and separate,
Till we almost ourselves forget,
But some touch of congenial fate
Will show love's embers living yet.
Banked up, perhaps, but let the air
To their dull fires, long smouldering, come,
When burning bright, as erst they were,
They light the way that leads to home.

What though scenes fade and pass away,
And grave stones mark the passing years,
The memory of life's early day
Still to the loved precinct adheres.
And maugre all the age that bends
The failing form with grief or pain.
Inherent retrospection tends
To make the aged young again.

'Tis thus we've met; our brother's smile
His words of welcome in our ears;
Dispelling time and worldly toil,
The past in old time truth appears.
Unheeding changes of our own,
We feel no touch of Time's foray,
And all our glances, backward thrown,
Reveal but things of yesterday.

The river hurries to the sea
As 'twere a new created thing;
That robin there upon the tree
Sings the same song it used to sing.
That ancient dial's honest face,
Still occupies its lofty climb;
The old Parade's primeval grace,
Doth yet appear unchanged by time.

The same! Of course the scene's the same,
Except where ruthless fire has swept,
And, with a broom of mighty flame,
Has proved a sweeper most adept—
Moving old landmarks that we knew,
Which we in memory restore,
And, to the old affection true,
Make all exactly as before.

We are the same in sportive bent,
We see obstrude no thought of care;
With Mistress Raynes we spend our cent,
And our one "Gibralter" spare.
We plunge anew in Walker's creek,
And roam the alleys of the woods.
We fun's perpetual presence seek,
Through all youth's impulses and moods.

And then the Fourth! Oh, glorious time!
The gun at morn on Mason's hill,
Awakes the town by sounds sublime,
That make the breast of Boyhood thrill.
I hear the Chinese crackers snap,
That timid early risers shock,
When each heroic little chap
Is clean dead broke by eight o'clock.

There belching forth its smoke and fire,
The old horse pistol bangs away;
There Ma'am Hoyt's beer excites desire
And great Peduzzi rules the day.
And then the night, with squibs bedight—
Domestic made—and tubs of tar
(Better for being stolen) whose light
Pales the faint beams of every star!

Ah, halcyon hours! how fleet ye flew,
Cheered by the sun of vernal youth;
I draw no cloud to hide the view,
But leave it in its pristine truth.
And on this platform of the past,
The old and young may happy meet,
And back and forward glances cast,
With pleasant images replete.

No line is drawn 'twixt young and old
To make suggestiveness of caste;
And through the joys that here unfold,
The future fuses with the past.
One feeling consecrates the scene,
And gives an unction to our joys,
We all are parts of one machine,
And all of us are PORTSMOUTH BOYS!

A title we may claim with pride,
Undimmed through waning time's decay,
And sink beneath life's moving tide,
With this emblazoning the way.
But the dear girls can't share this claim,
Unless, as in the rubric fixed,
They're classed beneath the generic name,
And are, as "brethren," rather mixed.

Yet here both sexes can unite
In such community of soul,
That sex may be forgotten, quite,
In unison of home control;
And girls and boys, as one complete,
With this prevailing sense of bliss
Through tenderness, as they compete,
May all be BOYS and not amiss.

O fair reminders of the past
All redolent of youth and bloom,
When brightest eyes upon us cast,
Like meteors, lighted up our gloom!
Sweet faces, wreathed with radiant smiles,
Made us all thought of care forget,
And spite of earth's succeeding wiles,
And absence, we do love them yet.

But in the past is many a grave
Of "Sons" who've fallen by the way,
Whom no immunity could save
From the drear burden of decay;
Whose forms we miss, but fondly trust
Their spirits still may meet our own,
And here, in unseen presence just,
Feel keener joy than they have known.

God bless them in that high estate
To which their loyal souls have fled,
Where dwell the pure, the true, the great,
In happiness unlimited,
And when the time shall haply come,
That we rejoin them in that sphere,
May we there feel the ties of home
Like those which draw us gladly here.

Brothers and sisters of the "Sons,"
Your hard withholds his further rhymes,
Though willingly their current runs,
To celebrate this best of times.
The whitened head, the falling eyes,
Give small hopes for a new decade,
But may far generations rise
To keep the bond that we have made.

Joyous the fervors of this hour
Which animates our presence here,
May like events with grander power,
Occur when we shall disappear,
And may to future scenes be brought
A plenitude of social bliss,
With pure fraternal feeling fraught,
Caught from the blessedness of this.

I lay this tribute of my heart
On the dear old ancestral shrine,
No trick of words, no studied art,
No product of a muse divine.
And feel within my soul a spell,
Wrought from this mingling with the past,
Which prompts the solemn word farewell!
To all, and these loved scenes—THE LAST.

But not yet a ghost,
I will give you a toast,
That may follow us when we shall sever
Drink deep, happy hearted,
From the joy here imparted,
To glorious old Portsmouth forever!

Though wide we may roam,
We will prize our old home,
Her good be our constant endeavor.
We will reckon her love,
All other above,
And say good old Portsmouth forever!

By the side of that stream,
Which glides like a dream,
Our grand old Piscataqua river,
With a love like its tide,
As pure and as wide,
We pledge dear old Portsmouth forever!

Exalted her fame,
And extended her name,
Her sons of both sexes right clever.
We'll drain off joy's can,
Every woman and man,
To darling old Portsmouth forever!

While floating along,
With merry's busy throng,
This scene shall depart from us never.
And our toast shall still ring,
While to being we cling,
Here's to precious old Portsmouth forever!

WELCOME ODE.

THE MOTHER TO HER CHILDREN.

Return again! I said,
To your home beside the sea;
Come back, O children to me
As in the years that have fled.

Gather once more at my side,
As the mountain streamlets run
Onward in shadow and sun
And mingle at last with the tide.

The magic of my words
Brought visions of childhood sweet;
The tumult of the street
Was changed to the song of birds.

Green valleys stretched away
Cool with the ocean breeze;
Shadows of waving trees
On the meadow grasses lay.

Woodland and hill and stream,
Bathed in the rose-ate glow
Of the summers of long ago,
Ye saw again in your dream.

No more a dream to be!
This is your native sky;
Your own blue river hurries by
To meet the waiting sea.

Ye walk familiar ways;
Each treasured spot is here;
In this glad hour as dear
As in the vanished days.

A joyful throng ye come!
I see your banners float,
I hear the bugle's thrilling note
And the roll of the stirring drum.

I list to the silver chime
Of the bells, as their lips repeat
The song to whose music sweet,
The heart of the world keeps time.

Ye answer my loving call;
From wanderings far away
Ye are with me here to-day;
A welcome I give to all!

Ah, many since last we met
Have passed to the silent land,
We miss the clasp of the hand,
But their memory lingers yet.

And "thou, who in days of yore
I fondly cherished, whose name
On the scroll of honor and fame
Is written forevermore,—

My Poet-child, whose love
Was ever tender and true,
To-day I am thinking of you
In your beautiful home above.

It may be you still are near;
That you greet us with fond caress;
That the mother once more you bless
With the old time love and cheer.

"For no bond of love ever dies,"—
Come your words to me again—
"The links are unseen, but the chain Reaches down to the earth from the skies."

O children, soon to depart
From the hallowed scenes of home,
Wherever again ye roam
Keep my memory green in the heart.

While in fields where once ye played
The wildbirds sing; while flowers
Wherever again ye roam
Keep my memory green in the heart.

While in fields where once ye played
The wildbirds sing; while flowers
Bloom in the woodland bowers
Where ye so oft have strayed;

As long as the river runs,
And the billows of ocean roll,
While a love that is deep in my soul
I will welcome my daughters and sons.

—ALBERT LAIGHTON.

The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 161 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $440,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story with a Large Moral—One Man Who knew his own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hitting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist, genially, "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago, for another disease, of which the Capcine has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this: that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPCINE cut cleanly in the middle of the plaster.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

A QUEEN OF THE STAGE.

"Her Second Love," and the Important Secret She Reveals for the Benefit of Women.

(New York World.)

Several years ago the American public were aroused by the entree upon the stage of a little lady who had been previously but little announced. She was one of an innumerable number of aspirants for public favor and had no instrumentality, aside from her own talents to cause recognition. In spite of this fact, however, she quickly achieved a warm place in the heart of the public which she has continued to hold ever since. When it was announced, therefore, that Miss Maude Granger would star the coming season in the play "Her Second Love," written by Mr. John A. Stevens, it was only natural that unusual interest should be manifested not only in theatrical circles, but in other branches of the community. This was specially the case, as it was known that Miss Granger had, for the past year, been in exceedingly delicate health, and the determination to star in a strong emotional play was the more surprising. One of the staff of this paper was accordingly deputized to see the popular lady and verify the rumor or announce its incorrectness.

Miss Granger's countenance is familiar to nearly every one in the United States. It is a face once seen never to be forgotten. Features remarkable in their outline and contour are surmounted by a pair of large and deep eyes indicative of the greatest soul power. It is easy to see where Miss Granger obtains the ability to portray characters of the most emotional nature. She possesses within herself the elements of feeling without which no emotion can be conveyed to an audience. The man of news found the lady at her home in this city and was accorded a quiet welcome. It was evident at once that she was in greatly improved health, which the expression and color of her countenance both indicated.

"Is it true Miss Granger that you contemplate a starring tour the coming season?"

"Yes, indeed. My season begins in Chicago on the 16th of July. From there I go to San Francisco and then play the remainder of the season through the eastern and western states."

"Are you confident your health will permit such an undertaking?"

A ringing laugh was the first reply to this question, after which she said:

"Certainly. It is true I have been ill for the past two years, but now I am wholly recovered. Few people can have any idea of the strain a conscientious actress undergoes in essaying an emotional part. It is necessary to put one's whole soul into the work in order to rightly portray the character. This necessitates an utter abandonment of one's personality and an assumption of the character portrayed. If this is an emotional part it is necessary to feel the same emotions the part is supposed to feel. For more than a year I actually cried each night in certain passages of a part I was playing. The audience considered it art. Probably it was, but those were none the less real tears and the effect was none the less trying upon my health."

"But do you anticipate avoiding this in the future?"

"Not in the least. I expected to have just as great a strain as before, but with restored health and a knowledge of how to retain it I do not fear."

"You speak of a 'knowledge of how to retain health.' Will you please explain what you mean by that?"

"You must be aware that women by their very natures are subject to troubles and afflictions unknown to the sterner sex. The name of these troubles is legion, but in whatever form they may come they are weaknesses which interfere with every ambition and hope in life. I believe thousands of noble women are to-day suffering agonies of which even their best friends and relatives know little or nothing, and when I reflect upon it I confess it makes me sad. Now all this misery arises largely from an ignorance of the laws of life or a neglect to carefully observe them. I speak from the depths of a bitter experience in saying this, and I am thankful I know the means of restoration, and how to remain in perfect health."

"Please to explain more fully."

"Well. I have found a remedy which seems specially adapted for this very purpose. It is pure and palatable and controls the health and life as, I believe, nothing else will. It is really invaluable and if all the women in America were to use it I am quite sure most of the suffering and many deaths might be avoided."

"What is this wonderful remedy?"

"Warner's Safe Cure."

"And you use it?"

"Constantly."

"And hence believe you will be able to go through the coming season successfully?"

"I am quite certain of it."

"A few questions more, Miss Granger. Will you please give me a list of the parts you have created and the plays you have taken part in since your first appearance in public?"

"I first played for some time with the amateurs in New York and Brooklyn. I then went to the Union Square theatre for two seasons, after that to the Boston Globe for one season and then to Booth's theatre in this city. Next I supported John McCullough and afterwards starred in Juliet, Camille, Rosalind, etc. Subsequently I created the part of Cicely Blaine in the Galley Slave, and also starred in Two Nights in Rome, playing the part of Antonia. The past year I have been playing in the Planter's Wife, and the coming season, as I have said, will be devoted to Her Second Love."

As the writer was returning home he fell into a train of musing and wondered if all the women in this land who are suffering could know Miss Granger's experience and the remarkable results achieved by the pure remedy she uses, how much suffering might be avoided and how much happiness secured.

It is said that the real beginning of the consolidation of the railroad question in the legislature will be about the 10th inst. At present the consolidationists have the most lawyers, and the anti's the most votes. The former are well organized outside; the latter have the ablest men in the senate and house of representatives, to talk upon the question when it comes up. The fate of the measure will depend upon the number of adherents made before the vote is reached, admitting of course, that the committee reports a bill. The sections of the state traversed by the Boston, Concord & Montreal and Northern railroads send representatives who, of course, are favorable to the plan of consolidation. In Hillsborough and Rockingham counties, a different aspect greets the eye, and the syndicate that can produce fifty votes from the southern and eastern sections of the state, will be welcomed by the advocates of the measure.

Chicago's latest boast is that one of her national banks has a larger sum on deposit than any national bank in the country outside of New York. The bank referred to is the First National, whose deposits amount to almost $19,000,000, a sum nearly four times greater than that on deposit in any national bank in Boston. Chicago has two other banks with nearly $10,000,000 each on deposit, one with over $6,000,000, two with about $5,000,000 each, and several more with from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000. It should be borne in mind, however, that Chicago has but eleven national banks, while Boston has sixty.

FOURTH OF JULY NOTES.

The Antiques & Horrible display in the morning was not extensive, quite a number of persons who had entered failing to appear, and several footmen who did show up on Richards avenue at the appointed hour declining to make the march on account of the generous quantity of mud which had been produced by the heavy shower of the previous night. There were no personal hits, and no displays of broken-down, worn-out, suffering horses, such as have sometimes pained humane people to see in fantastic processions. George E. Hodgdon, Esq., and Lieut. John S. Perry, officiated as judges, and awarded the second prize, $8 for the best "hit" not personal, to the "Union relief valve," a good burlesque on the alleged Knibbs patent valve, of which so much has been said in the papers for a year past. The first prize, $10 for the worst looking team, was awarded to "Emigrants bound west;" and the chief marshal, who was "just-in," took the $5 promised to the worst looking horseman. The fourth prize, $2 for the worst looking footman, was taken by a colored damsel (?) who was following up the procession with a baby carriage—a pleasant conceit very amusingly carried out, and at which everybody laughed who saw it.

The Light Artillery, which was revived for this anniversary, made a very soldierly appearance in the procession. The officers were: Col. T. E. O. Marvin, commanding; Caleb Lord, 1st Lieut.: Albert Sanderson, 2d Lieut. Lieut. Col. George E. Hodgdon, Hon. John S. Treat, Col. J. Horace Kent, and Commander M. M. Collis of Storer Post, G. A. R., have been elected honorary members of the company.

Truthful James.

One New Year's day James Gordon Bennett arrived at the Union club towards night, having made many calls. He sat down in a chair, and observing that some members of the club were presenting Peter, the venerable porter of the club, with $5 bills as New Year's presents, he called him over, and fishing down into one of his pockets, brought up a bill.

"Peter, my friend," he said, without looking at the bill, "take that."

"Thank you, sir," said Peter, his eyes glistening at the sight of a $20 bill.

Bennett gazed at him for a second, then said sleepily, "Wait, Peter," and diving down into another pocket brought up another bill.

"Take that, Peter."

This performance went on for fully five minutes. Every time the astonished Peter attempted to retire he was called back, and the presentation of every kind of bill from $1 to $50 went on, to the amusement of the spectators. When no more bills came forth, Bennett stopped and went away.

Peter asked some of the members what he had best do with his hat full of money. He was advised to ask Mr. Bennett the next time he came whether he had not given him by mistake more than he intended. So the next day when Bennett appeared Peter said to him:

"Mr. Bennett, I think you gave me more of a New Year's present than you intended last night."

Bennett looked at him for a few seconds, not having the glimmer of an idea how much he had given, or whether he had given anything at all.

"How much did I give you, Peter?"

"Eight hundred dollars, sir."

The position was delicate, but not so much so to a man with an income of a million a year as it would have been to an ordinary mortal. "That was the amount I intended for you, Peter," said Bennett, without any sign of annoyance.

A Four-Legged Cannoneer.

The King of Dahomey received an invoice of Krupp cannon not long ago, and conceived the idea of having them mounted on elephants' backs for use in the field. With much difficulty this project was carried out, and at the next military review the King ordered that one of the guns be fired immediately in front of the royal position, first taking the precaution to place a couple of thousand prisoners about where it was calculated the ball would strike so as to judge of the effectiveness of the shot. When all was ready, one of the biggest elephants was backed round and sighted. Just as the lanyard was jerked, however, the animal turned half round to reach for a peanut or something and the shell took off the Prime Minister's head and knocked a hole as big as a sewer through the royal palace. His Majesty wouldn't have cared so much if the matter had ended there—as the Minister wasn't very prime and the palace needed ventilation—but it didn't. On the contrary the elephant, which had been stood on its head by the recoil, picked itself up in a fury and started on the down grade ahead of its ticket. It upset the grand stand the very first rush, slung the Grand Chamberlain and past Grand Carver of Missionaries into the next street. It then jumped into the brass band with all four feet, and if it hadn't gotten the big drum over its head so that it couldn't see, would probably have cleaned out the entire congregation. The King was not found until the next morning, and then, as he slid down out of a banana tree, he was understood to remark that there was only one thing needed to render his new artillery system an entire success—that was to get the enemy to adopt it.

Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

WHAT WILL convince you of the wonderful curative properties combined in HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, if the remarkable cures that have been effected by its use fail to impress upon your mind this repeatedly proven fact? Thousands are using it, and all declare that it is a medicine possessing all and even more than we claim for it. My friend, if you are sick or in that condition that you cannot call yourself either sick or well, go and get a bottle of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and realize yourself how this medicine hits the right spot, and puts all the machinery of your body into working order. WILL CONVINCE

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,

J. P. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

THE THUNDER STORMS.

Reports of damage done by lightning and wind, during the heavy thunder showers of the 4th and 5th insts., continue to come in.

All through this section the telegraph and telephone services were deranged, and many poles damaged; in York scores of poles were splintered, and some thrown down; and all around, trees were shivered by lightning or uprooted by the wind.

On the 4th, in Rochester, the house of Jonathan Jenkins was struck; no great damage was done, but a fresh codfish that was in the cellar, and which was raw when the shower commenced, was found to be thoroughly cooked when it was over, having been done to a turn by the lightning. Mr. Jenkins would prefer to have the lightning mind its own business hereafter, and let the ladies of his household look after the cooking in their own way.

In Dover, on the 4th, more houses and trees were struck than ever before in one day. The houses of Eleazer Davis, Augustus Richardson, Edward Morrill, L. D. Lathrop, Mrs. Wm. Seavey, Mrs. Samuel Ham, and others, were struck; and Joshua Converse's barn at Garrison hill, containing twenty tons of hay, was lifted from its foundation by the wind, and swung around four feet.

In Durham, Oliver Knowlton and another man were standing in the doorway of a barn when the building was struck, and Knowlton instantly killed, the other man being unhurt. A number of telegraph poles in Durham were destroyed by lightning.

In Madbury the house of Nicholas Meserve was struck, but not much damaged.

Charles Thompson of Lee had a valuable horse killed by lightning in his pasture.

In Barrington many hundred panes of window glass were broken by hail, and corn and other crops badly cut to pieces; some of the hailstones measured over four inches in circumference.

In Newcastle the lightning struck in a number of places, but no damage was done to persons or buildings.

A number of telephone poles between this city and Greenland were damaged by lightning.

In Newmarket and vicinity a very large number of trees were struck or blown down, and the roads badly washed; many windows were broken by hailstones, and considerable damage done to crops.

The Freewill Baptist church in Epsom was struck on the spire, but not seriously damaged.

The barn of A. H. Talpey in York was struck on the ridgepole by a flash of lightning, which ploughed a line through the shingles to the eaves, as straight as though drawn by a chalk-line. Alexander Thompson's barn was also struck and set on fire, there being at the time within it, for shelter, four teams; no person was hurt, and the fire was soon extinguished.

During the heavy shower on the afternoon of the 5th, the barn of Horatio Perkins at Kittery Point was struck, but no damage was done beyond the ripping off of a few shingles and the breaking of one beam.

During the same shower the large woolen mills of Robert Blakie & Co., at Amesbury, Mass., employing 150 hands, were fired by lightning, and totally destroyed. Loss $125,000; insurance $93,750.

On the morning of the 5th it was found that one storehouse of the Cocheco Print Works at Dover had been flooded, and 140 cases of goods, valued at $30,000, very much damaged. Some thousands of dollars' worth of British gum, and a large stock of colors in other storerooms, were also damaged. The flood was caused by the collapse of a city sewer, and it is said the city will be sued for damages.

The Bates house at Biddeford, Me., was struck; also a barn on the Pool road, in which a party had sought shelter, and of whom Alvin Tarbox and a man named Redman were seriously if not fatally hurt.

REALLY WRECKED THIS TIME.

Mr. Grover of this city, who was one of the crew of the sloop yacht Wayward when she left here, arrived home at three o'clock Friday afternoon from St. John, N. B., and reports that the yacht was totally wrecked in the St. John river on the 4th of July, while in charge of a pilot, being swept on the rocks by the current, and left high and dry at low tide, with her bottom badly stove in. The wreck was sold for a small sum. It would have been money in her owner's pocket if she had gone to pieces when she struck on Sea point last fall.

Business men and others can now for the first time since the war draw a check on a bank where they may have funds on deposit, without affixing a two-cent revenue stamp. If there is nothing to their credit in the bank, however, they are no better off than before the stamp tax was repealed.

A man is canvassing the state in procuring subscribers to a book to be called "The Poets of New Hampshire." Over a thousand persons have promised to pay for a copy. The number who are to read the work is carefully omitted.

The steamship Waesland, with Miss Morgan's party, has arrived at Antwerp.

The steamer Naumkeag came off the marine railway at Kittery on the 6th inst., and hauled alongside of Stover's wharf.

Friday was a hot day. The thermometer stood at ninety in the shade on the navy yard, and is reported to have climbed to over a hundred in some places in this city.

The steamers James Sampson and Fearless at slack water on Friday towed the anchor-boy to the lower harbor, where she brought up awaiting a tow to York by the steamer City of Portsmouth.

The training ship Constellation sailed from Delaware breakwater on the 5th inst. for this port.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Predicament of a Mohawk Youth.

A tall young man went bathing in the Mohawk river at Schenectady last Sunday with several other Sabbath-breakers, in spite of previous protests against their selection of such a conspicuous place for their abluitions. While they were in the water a Mr. Van Voast appeared upon the bank and carried off an armful of their clothing. All of the bathers, however, had enough apparel left to get home without undue exposure except the tall young man, whose only remaining raiment was a collar and a pair of shoes. But as luck would have it, he found near the river an empty barrel, out of which he knocked the heads and into which he stepped, and thus apparelled he made his way home across the fields, painfully holding up the barrel as he walked, but dropping and sinking into it whenever anyone appeared in sight. Before he reached the paternal mansion half the dogs in the town had detected his predicament, and united to form a howling escort.

SALT RHEUM.

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicine for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.

Yours truly, B. WILSON LORD.

AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case of Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally. J. W. ADAMS.

NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. Had covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he would rather not treat it, and none of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.

DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases for which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that infallibly cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin disease.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold misery that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

250th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of disease, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample 6c. cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

Large Order for Newspaper Advertising.

The Philadelphia Times says: "Colonel Taylor, the manager of the Boston Globe, yesterday closed a contract with Frank Siddalls of Philadelphia, the manufacturer of the widely-known Frank Siddall's soap, for $20,000 worth of advertising in his paper. This is among the largest orders ever given to any one newspaper by a single advertiser. It forcibly illustrates the enormous power of advertising, which has been wholly depended on for the introduction of this soap, and which has resulted in a wonderfully rapid development of business. In a single week as many as 10,000 letters have been received by this permanent advertiser from intelligent women in all parts of the country inquiring about his new idea, which does away with the steam and slop of washing day. The short space of three years has sufficed to make the business equal, if not exceed, that of the oldest and largest soap manufacturers in the world, and all through pure, simple newspaper advertising."

Poisoned Water to Drink.

When the fish died in the river forty miles above the water-works, many people were alarmed less the defilement of the water might extend way down. Happily there was nothing but what could be remedied by the use of something that everybody could procure at a few minutes' notice. This little "something" was Perry Davis's Pain Killer.

A year-old child of John Darly was beheaded by the cars at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., July 2d, fifty cars passing over its neck. The mother carried the head home in one hand and the body in the other.

Positive Cure for Piles.

To the people of this County we would say we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchisi's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to Cure or money refunded—internal, external, blind, bleeding or itching piles. Price 50c. a Box. No cure, no pay. For sale by Andrew P. Preston, Druggist.

Twenty-one soldiers of the 13th regiment of New York militia, in camp at Peekskill, were prostrated by the heat July 4th.

Much distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia and chronic diarrhœa is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy.

In Chicago, July 4th, Peter L. Groot, proprietor of extensive iron works, blew out his brains because he could not get a boat in which to go sailing on the lake.

Rev. J. N. Beck, OWENTOWN, Ky., says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters and consider it one of the best tonics sold."

Secretary Chandler has issued an order that naval officers attached to cruising war vessels, especially commanding officers, are expected to leave their families at their usual or fixed places of abode, and not attempt to transfer them to more convenient visiting points. Officers disregarding this injunction will be liable to be relieved from duty.

Consumption.

To prevent night sweats, to ease the cough and arrest emaciation and decline, no other form of malt or medicine can possibly equal Malt Bitters. This original Nutrient and Tonic is rich in nourishment and strength. It tides the patient over the most critical stages of the disease, digests and assimilates food, enriches and purifies the blood. It builds up the system by stimulating into new life the entire process of digestion.

—It is all well enough to say with the poet that truth, wherever found, will draw forth homage from the pure heart; but just go and tell a woman once that her little boy is one of the dirtiest imps in town, and see how much homage you will drew from her heart, no matter how pure it may be.

It Is Useless

for young ladies who are troubled with freckles, pimples, moth and tan and a bad skin generally to use liquid paints or dry powders, for they only make the skin look well for the time being. To have a good complexion you must have pure blood. Use Sulphur Bitters and your skin will be fair and complexion rosy.—Young Lady's Magazine.

Bishop Pinckney, of the Episcopal diocese of Maryland, died very suddenly July 4th.

Decline of Man.

Nervous weakness, dyspepsia, impotence, sexual debility, cured by "Wells' Health Renewer." $1.

Henry Krack, his wife and four children, were killed by a railroad train near Cincinnati on the 3d inst.

"Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills, are worth their weight in gold in nervous and sick headache."—Dr. H. H. Schlichter, of Baltimore.

Archbishop Purcell, of the Catholic diocese of Cincinnati, is dead.

From Messrs. E. G. Honors & Son, 222 Chestnut St. Lynn, Mass., comes the following: "Ellis's Spavin Cure cured one of our horses of a large Bone Spavin.

There were 116 deaths from cholera at Damietta, Egypt, July 4th.

A low condition of health is common with many who allow themselves to worry. Mental anguish causes bodily sufferings. Anxiety and care has broken down many constitutions. A train of disorders usually follow mental distress. Heart affections, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney troubles, etc., are among the list. A sure remedy for relieving all mental and physical distress is Brown's Iron Bitters. It at once strengthens every part of the body making work a pleasure and care unknown.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for his a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Maud Muller and the Apples.

Maud Muller stood one summer day.
Quietly raking the new-mown hay.
In the apple orchard, plain to be seen,
Was plenty of fruit, both hard and green
Rashly she ate green apples, till she
Was doubled up like the letter V.
With pains in her stomach and tears in her eye,
Maud Muller thought she would surely die.
But soon came an end of her woeful grief,
For Pain Killer brought sweet relief.

Dr. T. J. Casper, Springfield, Ohio. says: I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters.

In Grand county, Colorado, July 4th, the four county commissioners and county clerk were all shot by a masked mob, three being killed and the other two mortally wounded. The cause of the murder was an old feud, due to the division of the county into two some years ago, and the proposed removal of the county seat.

The New Naval Cruisers.

A Washington correspondent says that as the proposals of Roach & Sons are regular in form and lowest in amount, it is probable that they will receive the contracts. The Gorringe company, Pusey & Jones, and several other shipbuilders contemplated competing for the prize, but when Secretary Chandler announced the amount that would be allowed for the construction of these vessels, they concluded that there was no money in them at that price. The amount appropriated by Congress for building these vessels is $1,300,000. The total amount of Roach's bid is $2,440,000, thus making a deficiency for the next Congress of $1,140,000. There is some curiosity among shipbuilders to know how Roach can make anything out of his contract. The explanation given is that he will be able to convince the secretary that some special feature of the plan designed by the advisory board, and which he agreed in his contract to carry out, could be changed to advantage. The alteration, of course, will necessitate an extra cost. Mr. Roach will name his own price, and receive his money. This is in substance the opinion of a shipbuilder who was present when the bids were opened.

War in Vermont.

The little village of Ely, Vt., or "Vershire," as we believe its name is now, comprising about 250 tenements and 1000 inhabitants, is wholly dependent on the Vermont Copper Co., nearly all the men in the place being in the employ of that corporation, which owes its 300 hands about $20,000, the miners not having been paid since April. The suffering miners the first of last week seized the corporation property, including the store, which was gutted; they also got 150 kegs of powder, and announced if they were not paid by the 7th inst. they would on that day blow up the mine, mills and other buildings.

Gov. Barstow was appealed to for aid, and on the 6th ordered five companies of state militia (from Rutland, Northfield, St. Albans, Bradford and Montpelier,) to proceed at once to Vershire to restore order. The detachment was under command of Col. Greenleaf of the 1st regiment, and was accompanied by Gov. Barstow. The troops arrived at a railroad station nine miles from Vershire on the morning of the 7th, soon after midnight; rode seven miles in large wagons, marched two miles, and arrived at the village before the people were up. One company surprised four men who were guarding the corporation magazine, which had been seized by the miners, and a sheriff and deputies who accompanied the troops arrested twelve of the miners' leaders, for whom warrants had been issued. The surprise was complete, and the revolt was ended.

News and Notes.

A small cannon exploded at North Pownal, Mass., July 4th, fatally wounding Willis Cleghorn, son of the superintendent of the mills there.

In Somerville, Mass., on the 4th, a party of young men celebrated the day by a game of base ball, with beer attachment. A barrel of beer was placed at third base, and every player who reached that point could take as heavy a swig as he wished. The consequence was that before the game was finished each player could see a dozen balls, and the affair ended in a go-as-you-please fight, in which the combatants were too drunk to do each other harm. A large number of people witnessed the "sport."

The last dollar of Iowa's war debt has just been paid, and there is cash enough in the treasury to pay all other debts of the state.

Despatches of July 6th represent the ravages of cholera in Egypt as frightful.

At Southbridge, Mass. July 6th, a boy named Deagon, fourteen years old, was drowned while bathing.

At a barber's shop in Gloucester, Mass., last Thursday evening, while a female barber was shaving a customer, the lightning knocked the razor out of her hand, and cut a piece of the man's ear off.

Mrs. Leonard Pike of North Adams, Mass., on account of domestic trouble took poison last Thursday morning, and will probably die.

At the picnic grounds in Dalton, Mass., July 4th, Lewis, the nine-years-old son of David Evans, was almost instantly killed by being stepped upon by a horse. The father and his oldest daughter were also injured.

A young man named Lambert was fatally hurt at Brunswick, Me., July 4th, by being struck with a base ball during the progress of a game.

Four men and two women (negroes) were drowned at Wortham's bridge, Whiteville, N. C., on the 4th.

Fitzgibbon, a noted pugilist, who was shot by a bricklayer named Joyce while engaged in an altercation, died Thursday at Salt Lake City.

Nelson Howard (colored), who killed John Kane on the Fourth at Mound City, Ill., was taken out of jail by a mob and hanged, Friday morning, the 6th.

Joseph Brewster, a soldier, guilty of rape on Mrs. Davis, at Fort Davis, Texas, was hung at Ysleta, on the 4th inst. He made no confession, but delivered a speech of twenty minutes, during which he took two big drinks of whiskey.

Rev. Lewis Bundick, pastor of a Methodist church in Brooklyn, N. Y., has been arrested on a warrant charging him with seducing Josephine Harrington, a girl sixteen years old. Mr. Bundick denies the charge.

Mrs. Langtry on the 4th delighted a crowd of 400 or 500 persons at Long Branch, by her skill as a swimmer. One of the most delighted spectators was Freddie.

A Great Marriage Scheme.

The grand jury of Erie county, Pa., recommended that married paupers in the almshouse be permitted to occupy joint quarters, instead of being separated. The poor directors were altering the building to meet the recommendation, but the work was stopped owing to the discovery of a scheme among about one hundred unmarried inmates to marry each other according to Pennsylvania laws, which recognize simple declaration before witnesses a legal marriage. The ages of the parties ranged from eighteen to eighty.

—The Galveston News says a German has invented a safe that, on its lock being tampered with, throws open its doors, seizes and drags and locks in the burglar, and handcuffs and holds him in readiness to be conducted to the police court in the morning. A Yankee is experimenting with a set of books for the use of county officers, which, as soon as a fraudulent entry is made in them, will, by means of a clever electrical contrivance, sound an alarm on the court house bell.

—"Is this seat engaged, Miss?" asked a young swell of a bright looking maiden on the train the other day. "No, sir, but I am," was the tart reply. The masher caved.

—The newspapers often print the "last words" of men, but never those of women. The latter would take up too much room and crowd out all the advertisements.

—"In choosing a wife," says an exchange, "be governed by her chin." The worst of it is that after choosing a wife one is apt to keep on being governed in the same way.

—It took young Parsonby all aback, when at the theatre the other evening, he whispered to his girl that he guessed he would step out a moment to take the air, and she quickly responded: "It is very oppressive, George; I'll go out with you."

Happy Once More.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—A Chronicle reporter was told by Mr. Alfred J. Papin, of this city, that his nephew had the most obstinate case of inflammatory rheumatism, which baffled all kinds of treatment until St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain-conqueror, was used. It cured the young man, and he recommends it as the greatest cure for pains in the world.

Mr. Edwin C. Fowler, Postoffice Dept., Washington, D. C., says that one application of the marvelous pain-conqueror, St. Jacobs Oil, cured him of Rheumatism.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

IMPROVED RAILROAD ACCOMODATION.

Passengers arriving in Boston at 1:15 o'clock P. M. by way of the Eastern or Boston & Maine railroads can now take a train leaving Boston at 1:50 P. M. over the New York & New England railroad for New York, instead of being as heretofore obliged to wait until 4:30 P. M., at which time the train starts from the Boston & Albany station. The close connection so long disregarded by the Albany road will be appreciated by the travellers from east of Boston, who now go largely by the New York & New England line.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the elements last week thwarted the endeavors of the city to "pyrotechnic" its welcome to the returning sons.

That as the most of them had seen fireworks elsewhere, they might have been willing to compromise on shrimp salad, sandwiches and iced lemonade instead.

That the printer's craft in the sons' column numbered over thirty representatives, pilgrims from eleven states.

That members of the local brotherhood invited themselves to take something with each pilgrim.

That last week was a harvest time for the stable keepers, nearly everything on wheels having been monopolized for four days by the visitors bent on enjoying the beautiful drives in this vicinity.

That the displays of fireworks at the seaside resorts in this vicinity have been very meagre thus far, owing doubtless to the unfavorable weather prevailing.

That a large party of Nashuans are enjoying themselves for a few days at York beach.

That thirty telegraph poles between this city and York were shivered by lightning on Thursday evening of last week.

That the attar-of-rose bottles and the "genuine" Turkey attar contents which fashionable young ladies affect, are the product of the Nutmeg state.

That an honest strawberry box is the noblest (and rarest) work of man.

That Newcastle wishes to extend its town wharf.

That Representative Gardiner has introduced a bill in the legislature in relation to fines imposed for cruelty to children.

That Representative Urch is trying to protect the smelt fisheries of the Piscataqua and its tributaries.

By a despatch received on the evening of the 6th inst. it was learned that Mr. A. Q. Wendell, formerly of this city, senior partner in the firm of Wendell & Phillips, shipping and commission merchants at Boston, was at St. John's, Newfoundland, July 4th, seriously ill, on his way home from a business tour in that section of the east.

Engagements to this port reported last week were, from Perth Amboy one schooner with 474 tons coal at $1.35 per ton; one from South Amboy, same rate; one from Perth Amboy, to discharge at Dover, $1.20 net; one other, to discharge at railroad wharf, $1.35; one from Hoboken, coal at $1.30.

Four thousand dollars in Portsmouth city sixes of 1893 were sold at auction in Boston on Saturday, bringing 115 1-4. Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad stock sold at 112 1-4, and Eastern railroad at forty-three. Eastern railroad sixes sold at 110 1-8.

Among the passengers from Europe by the Cunard steamer Pavonia, which arrived at Boston on Saturday last from Liverpool, were Mr. J. B. Stearns, Mrs Stearns, child, and maid. Gen. George Thom, U. S. Engineers, retired, formerly in charge of harbor improvements in this district, also arrived by the Pavonia.

Two small yachts which came into this harbor on Friday took away with them twenty-four cases of Portsmouth lager.

The thermometer at Mr. Hutchinson's jewelry store, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, indicated ninety-three degrees above zero; on the previous day at the same hour the temperature was ninety, by the same thermometer.

Hon. George M. Robeson, who is at Little Boar's head for the season, is one of the incorporators of the new railroad from the Philadelphia & Atlantic City railroad to the Delaware water front at Camden, N. J. This is to form a connection with the Philadelphia & Reading railroad.

The Shoals steamer Appledore was crowded on both her outward trips Saturday.

At the annual meeting of the Newmarket savings bank the following-named persons were chosen trustees: Napoleon B. Treadwell, Benjamin F. Haley, A. L. Mellows, John F. Chapman, Benjamin Mathes, Jr., Addison D. Wiggin, Timothy M. Joy, Samuel A. Haley, Ambrose J. Nichols. At a subsequent meeting of the trustees Timothy M. Joy was chosen president, and Samuel A. Haley treasurer and clerk.

The Four Corners schoolhouse in Newmarket was struck by lightning on the 4th, and slightly damaged.

The Catholic societies of Exeter and South Newmarket had a picnic in Kelly's grove at Newmarket junction on the 4th, and enjoyed themselves much until the big shower came; about a hundred of the merry makers got thoroughly drenched.

The buildings of Charles Clark and John Torrey, in South Newmarket, were struck by lightning on the 4th; damage trifling.

House No. 7 St. James avenue, in the Back Bay district of Boston, occupied by Capt. Pearce W. Penhallow, was broken into on the night of July 4th, and a large amount of property stolen, including two gold hunting-case watches, one set in blue enamel; a pair of mosaic sleeve buttons, and one dozen buttons to match; several gold lockets, necklaces and pairs of ear-rings, hair bracelets and rings; a cameo set, and black onyx set; a large silver watch and a small gold watch of old fashioned make; several rings, lockets and pins of antique manufacture, together with several dozen spoons and forks, ladles, sugar tongs, crumb scrappers, etc., many of which bear initials or names of Warner, Sherburne or Blunt, besides those marked with the initials or name of Capt. Penhallow. One of the articles stolen is a memorial locket, about four inches long by three inches wide, one side set in black enamel and gold, and with a picture of a woman, with an urn and a willow tree on one side, and a man's portrait on the other, with name, and date of some time in the last century.

The house in Kittery occupied by Mr. E. C. Nealley took fire in a closet on Friday evening last shortly after six o'clock, probably from the explosion of chemicals used in making "red fire;" some clothing and books in the closet were destroyed, the total damage amounting to $50 or more. An alarm was given, and the navy yard fire department turned out, but the fire was extinguished with buckets of water. The firemen were served with refreshments at Mr. Nealley's store after the fire was out.

The new Old Orchard paper, the Summer Rambler, has made its appearance; it is neatly printed, is well filled with local news, and will be published until the close of the season.

The 4th of July decorations at the south millbridge were the finest in the city, consisting of two very handsome arches of evergreen and flowers, with about fifty spruce trees distributed along the railings of the bridge on each side, while rays of flags and festoons of streamers spanned the corners of the bridge, and a representation of the Goddess of Liberty occupied a position on the centre foundation of the two arches. The work of trimming the bridge was done by Messrs. William H. Phinney and Samuel R. Gardner.

A very pleasing feature of the procession was the floral display made by the school children—three handsomely decorated barges filled with children dressed in white, wearing wreaths of evergreen and carrying bouquets. This display no doubt reminded many of the returned sons of the long-ago time when they too were young and innocent.

The reunion of 1883 appears to us to have been, as a whole, far more in consonance with the spirit of the first reunion than was the one of 1873, when $10,000 were appropriated by the city, and a tremendous "splurge" was had, lasting four days, and wearing out everybody who had anything to do with it, so that the common expression at the close was, "It has been a big time, but I'm glad it's over."

For the decided success of the reunion, as a genuine reunion of the absent sons and daughters with the folks at home—or rather, that any reunion at all was had, more was due to Col. Wm. H. Sise than to any other one person. As vice president of the committee appointed in 1873, Col. Sise has every year since that date on the 4th of July had a meeting of the committee; and all the "cold water" that was so liberally thrown on the proposal for a return this year, when the matter was first broached, did not dampen his ardor. His selection as the speaker to welcome home the returning sons was one eminently fit to be made.

During the big thunder storm on the evening of the 4th the barn of Daniel Knox in Berwick was struck by lightning, and damaged to the amount of $150; a horse valued at $175 was killed in his stall. Fred A. Lord of Berwick had a cow killed in his pasture. The Folsom house in that town was struck by lightning about two months ago, and on the 4th a barn near the house took its turn.

Walter Small, engineer on the Boston & Maine railroad, while boarding his locomotive Friday forenoon at Maryland Ridge, between North Berwick and Wells, slipped and had one leg cut off below the knee, and the toes of the other foot also cut off. The fireman had started up the locomotive before Small attempted to board it.

Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb has returned to the Boston navy yard from special duty in Washington. The Boston papers say that during his stay in Washington he made arrangements with the department by which the U. S. S. Shenandoah, for some time past undergoing repairs at the Boston yard, will be finished there, instead of being towed to the Portsmouth yard to complete her repairs, as was at one time announced would be done. It is stated that the repairs will take 200 or more men five months to finish, and that the departments in the Boston yard which recently suspended will resume work.

At Kennebunkport, on the 3d inst., the schooner Lavinia Campbell was launched from the yard of Daniel Clark. She will carry about 1300 tons of coal, is provided with steam to do much of the work, and is pronounced as fine a coaster as floats. She is 160 feet long on the keel and 190 feet over all, thirty-seven feet beam, and seventeen feet deep in the hold.

The Best Baking Powder.

The best baking powder is made from pure Cream of Tartar, Bicarbonate of Soda, and a small quanity of flour or starch. Frequently other ingredients are used, and serve a purpose in reducing the cost and increasing the profits of the manufacturer.

We give the Government Chemist's analyses of two of the leading baking powders:

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above analyses indicate a preference for "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder," and our opinion is that it is the better preparation.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most valuable work on Physiology ever published. The nothing what ever that the people of this or either country can wish to know but what is explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

HEART DISEASE

Now IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cumminning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. Its known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES!

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.
[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

"Philadelphia, Pa. (3) Rev. A. M. D."

SHARP PAINS | Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Slow Circulation of the Blood, Heart Diseases, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either loose or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster, compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts. It is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Plaster ever made. Ask for the Hop Plaster at any drug store. Price 25 cents or five for $1. The barn, horse, carriages, three tons of hay and farming utensils of Daniel Callahan at Exeter were burned on the night of the 4th inst. The house was badly damaged; also the paint shop and house of Edward Adams were damaged. Callahan's loss was $1,000; barn partially insured, house not. Adams' loss was $500; no insurance. The minister of the government of Sweden and Norway at Washington, Count Lefrnhemt, has called the attention of the secretary of state of the United States to what is claimed by him as several illegal arrests and imprisonment of sundry Swedish emigrants by the manufacturing corporations at Suncook. It appears that the companies have been importing help from these countries, and it is claimed by the corporations that the persons so imported owe the companies their passage money, which the operatives deny. The matter was referred by the United States government to the government of New Hampshire, which has placed the whole subject in the hands of Hon. Mason W. Tappan, attorney-general, who is going to give the matter a thorough investigation and report thereon soon.

Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged only by its results. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

Will Burrows, who was shot in the strikers' row in Farmington a few weeks since, has so far recovered as to appear on the street.

"An irrepressible conflict" was waged between nature and heart disease, prior to the discovery of Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator, some thirty years ago. That conflict has since been an unequal one, the disease yielding to the remedy in every instance.

The fast express train on the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad runs from Fabyan's to Portland in three hours.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, and barks. It gives tone to the stomach and makes the weak strong. Sold by druggists.

JAMESTOWN, DAKOTA.

THESE loans are all secured by FIRST MORTGAGE on improved farms (accepted only after careful personal inspection of the premises by our agents,) worth from two and one-half to four times the amount of loans; run from two to five years; and the interest, payable semi-annually, is collected and paid by the Company at such points as the holders may designate.

TRUSTEES, SAVINGS BANKS, CORPORATIONS or others, will find these loans equally safe and more profitable than either Government, State, City or Mining Securities. They pay a large interest, and are absolutely safe for the reasons stated above.

On application we will take pleasure in sending references to leading Bankers East and West. Address, for pamphlet and full information, RODERICK ROSE, Vice-President, Jamestown, Dakota.

THE

6 PER CENT GOLD BONDS

OF THE

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 181 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $200,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Maud Muller and the Apples.

Maud Muller stood one summer day.
Quietly raking the new-mown hay.
In the apple orchard, plain to be seen,
Was plenty of fruit, both hard and green
Rashly she ate green apples, till she
Was doubled up like the letter V.
With pains in her stomach and tears in her eye,
Maud Muller thought she would surely die.
But soon came an end of her woeful grief,
For Pain Killer brought sweet relief.

August Ehlers, his wife and their young child, were on a small river at Albany, N. Y., in a boat, on the 7th inst., when a tree was blown upon them, killing the man and child, and fatally injuring the wife.

City Marshal Henley of Greensburg, Ky., with a posse, on Saturday evening attempted to arrest James Owen, a desperado, who had gathered a gang in his house. The marshal and one of his men were killed, and the rest fled.

Saratoga Styles.

SHELLS AND BASKETS.

At their wit's end for variety, manufacturing milliners brought out imitations of those well-known shells which commence small on one side, and spread out in fan-like style and slightly concave. Laden with ribbons and flowers on the top, they are popular as a shade hat for children, and sometimes also for ladies, though hardly dressy enough to have a run for the latter in this distressingly dressy place, where people sit in pink or white satins and gloves of unearthly lengths at eleven o'clock in the morning. But, fortunately for womankind, these satin-attired people are a minority revolved around by ordinary humanity. Ordinary humanity sometimes wear not only shells but baskets on their more common heads. I say "baskets," because the straw is in palpable imitation of a basket, and in modified copying as far as shape goes.

A VERY MIXED PLACE.

Never were elements more mixed than in this very mixed place. A reverend sitting complacently beside a sport; a travelling ulster walking into tea before a brocade wrought with flowers a foot long and showing all colors. So come along, you whose outfit consists of an ulster and a black silk. Come along, and provided you do not stay too long you may be credited with lots of pretty things in your trunk which you are taking on somewhere else. One is reminded when in a poetical mood of the lines,

"Some in rags, some in tags,
And some in velvet gowns."

Looking at people is our great occupation, for this is, as you know, a great collection of hotels, and I have heard it debated whether the hotels make Saratoga or Saratoga makes the hotels. Certain it is that the certainty of good accommodation has more to do with bringing crowds than the waters. Good tea and coffee, New York beefsteak, the lightest and most wholesome bread, cake and biscuit ever tasted, made they say from Horsford's bread preparation, and other things in keeping. So being well fed, everybody is in a good humor and looks around to see what everybody else is doing and wearing.

JERSEYS.

The fact that jerseys on jerseys are here leads me to write a discourse upon them, since a revelation lies before you, my good friend, if you have never worn one. You know not what it is to wear a waist in which you are really and truly comfortable; in which you can reach up to pick that high bunch of cherries or those flowers just too far to touch; in which you can feel like an animated human being, yet at the same time dressed. The jersey "gives," you see, and in that "giving" property lies the secret of its grip upon us. Yet all the while, there is scarce anything that presents the trim, tidy look that a jersey does, fitting like wax if properly kept down, easily done by sewing on a half dozen leads beneath the bottom hem. Do this for the jersey and the jersey will do the rest, remaining in its place and giving you no further anxiety. Improvements are now made also by ornamentations of braidings, plaitings at the back, etc., so that one's figure need not be too severely shown off.

INNOCENTS ABROAD.

Babyishly innocent looking are those little cap-shaped bonnets made of white lace or muslin. Sometimes mixed with velvet ribbon or bedecked by flowers, but as often in an entire white simplicity. Plenty of white dresses likewise, but white is a poor thing to depend upon, so we see pretty and practical costumes of China silk; thin enough to [illegible] to feel like a cucumber, while in dark shades of blue, brown, green, etc., they defy the inroads of dust or mud. As a monotony-dispelling element, likewise, come the chine silks; refined looking in their half-clouded colorings; dexterously tempered to suit an ardent mid-summer. Gayly tempered too are the Swiss muslins dotted in colors, chiefly red, and these, whether in entire costumes or as overdresses with silk skirts, are the jauntiest outfits imaginable; the more so as a lavish use of ribbon bows this season gives opportunity for all manner of coquettish and unexpected turns and twistings.

MORNING, NOON AND NIGHT,

we see veiling dresses. Perhaps because veiling is a material capable of such transformations, according to combinations, ways of making, or accessories. Nothing simpler than a simple dress of veiling if you wish it: nothing more captivatingly jaunty if jauntiness be demanded, while for evening there are qualities of veiling so extremely thin that the name seems an irony. There is much accomplished again by diversities of color, since cherry red, blue and other cheerful hues are represented not only in solid styles but in stripes, as for example, a costume worn by Miss Astor, a bunchy red veiling overdress, with underskirt of broad red-striped veiling. She promenaded arm in arm with Miss Lorillard, who was very simply dressed in a cherry spotted muslin. Both young ladies are slender and dark-haired, so 'tis needless to add their selections were becoming. Economical people who put away instead of throwing away their ecru batistes which went entirely out some years ago, can now re-appear fashionably attired in them; re-made as polonaises over silk skirts. Colored dots or sprays are especially in vogue. LUCY CARTER.

The Navy Yards.

The sincerity of Mr. Chandler's effort to reduce expenses in the navy yards has sometimes been called in question, but the circular letter which he recently addressed to the commandants and the chiefs of bureaus should free him such suspicions. Commodore Luce's commission was evidently made to understand that its scheme of retrenchment must not be imperilled by endeavors to save places here and there for favorite officers; while the secretary's call for the results of the investigation many months in advance of the formal report to Congress, and his present orders that reorganization shall begin at once, will probably prevent the repetition of the old trick of foiling reorganization by lobbying. When Congress assembles it will find four yards, those at Pensacola, League Island, New London, and Boston, closed, except that at the latter the ropewalk and sailmakers shops, which have long constituted its most useful part, and the one hardest to duplicate elsewhere, will continue. The Washington yard will also be in process of transformation to a naval arsenal. A sop is thrown to New Hampshire, in recognition of its being for the moment one of the centres of political activity, by allowing the repairs of wooden vessels to go on for the present at Portsmouth, although this yard could be as well closed as any other.

One of the absurdities of the navy establishment is that eight bureaus are required to run a pitiful little navy. There is a bureau of ordnance, a bureau of equipment and recruiting, a bureau of navigation, a bureau of medicine and surgery, a bureau of steam engineering, a bureau of provisions and clothing, and a bureau of construction and repair. These are exclusive of the secretary's own office, with its seventeen clerks and two messengers. In the navy yards nearly all these bureaus are represented in some form, and in addition there is a large body of clerks, writers, and civilians. The statement of the commission that in the nine naval yards and stations there are 657 foremen, clerks, and civil employees, drawing wages that aggregate $2,179 a day, wholly independent of the mechanics and workingmen, shows the monstrous extravagance of these yards.

Two navy yards, one on the Atlantic and one on the Pacific, would be enough; thee, at Mare island, Brooklyn and Norfolk, would be an abundant supply, even for future exigencies. One or two collateral arsenals, ropewalks, and stations, would complete the establishment. But under the present arrangement, as Mr. Chandler has said, on an average day, the aggregate expenses of the yards for employees alone, exclusive of the material used, were found to be at the rate of three million dollars a year, although half a dozen wooden vessels were the only war ships under repair; and three of these, he might have added, were of the second rate, and three of the third.

"Enormous expenditure with feeble results" is the inscription which Mr. Chandler writes upon the navy yards, and the phrase is not an exaggeration. Two-thirds of them are serviceable mainly as positions for the commodores, who have too much rank to go to sea in command of a vessel, and hence without bureau or navy-yard duty would find their occupation gone. When the last Congress asked whether the navy yards were serviceable for building the proposed new cruisers, the answer was that they had not the tools and had not the plant. In fact, they are only good for repair and supply, and the force maintained for these purposes is preposterous.—New York Sun.

A petition has been circulated and extensively signed in Fisherville to have the name of the Fisherville post office changed to Penacook. This change, if made, will in effect change the name of the village. The old name has been in use more than forty years.

In the Bemis will case hearing at Concord, last Saturday, evidence was introduced from the papers left by Dr. Samuel A. Bemis, tending to show his illegitimacy. As this, if proved, would cut off the contestants, they asked and obtained a postponement to the 25th inst.

Thomas Webster, postmaster of North Sanbornton, committed suicide Sunday with rat poison. Despondency on account of financial embarrassment was the cause; he made an unsuccessful attempt on the previous Thursday. The post-office accounts are all right.

It is stated in military circles that the commissions of several officers of the state national guard, who were appointed previous to the law of 1879, have already expired. The list is said to include Gen. Clough of New London, commanding the brigade and field, and also several line officers. The matter is causing quite a sensation among military men.

Richard Howard, of Grantham, was found dead in his hayfield on the 6th, having probably been sunstruck while mowing.

Florence Lewis of Lynn, Mass., a child seven years old, was drowned in a well in Henniker on the 6th inst.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,

J. F. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

GOSSIPS SAY

That splendid fishing is to be had outside this harbor.

That the weirs are picking up many mackerel.

That the quarantine buildings on Wood island are being painted white.

That there was need enough of it.

That the hospital there makes a splendid dance-hall for the government officers and their ladies.

That Portsmouth has the largest league bicycle club in New Hampshire.

That Major Urch and his estimable lady are the happy possessors of a fine bouncing boy, the first to arrive in that family.

That the senatorial problem will be settled this week.

That no dark horse will carry off the honors.

That many prominent local republicans are not in favor of biennial elections.

That the fellows who contribute the "sinews of war" think that once in two years is enough.

That Mr. Charles Davis, on his recent visits to the mines of Idaho, made some excellent stereoscopic views of scenery along the Snake and Columbian rivers, and of the sagebrush country where Capt. Jack and his famous band of Indians gave the government so much trouble a short time ago.

That there were several fine large yachts in the lower harbor on Monday.

That the shoe factory started up Monday morning.

That the outgoing trains on Monday took large crowds of pilgrims returning homeward.

Mlle. Marie Litta, the vocalist, died at her home in Bloomington, Ill., July 7th, of cerebro-spinal meningitis, brought on by over-exertion. She was born in Bloomington, June 1st, 1856; was educated in Europe, and has sung in opera and concert in London, Paris, and the principal cities of America. Mlle. Litta gave a concert in this city last fall, (her second one here,) and probably no better one was ever given in Portsmouth. Her maiden name was Marie Von Elsner, and she was recently married to Harry Cleveland, a singer; her character was irreproachable.

The internal revenue receipts in this district during the month of June were $37,199.32, against $29,846.84 in June, 1882.

There were 125 guests at the Appledore house, and seventy-five at the Oceanic, on Sunday. The steamer on Monday took out a large number at each trip.

The North church Sunday school will hold a picnic at Stratham grove on Thursday, the 12th inst. Train leaves the Concord railroad station at five minutes before eight o'clock in the morning, returning in the afternoon.

The following-named yachts had visited the Shoals this season, up to Saturday last: The Rebecca, Sport, Gitana, Alice, and Clara, of Boston; Veva, of Salem; Moya, of Beverly; Z. S. Poyen, of Merrimack; Stranger, of Manchester, Mass.

The anti-cruelty society acknowledge the receipt on the 5th inst. of $20 from Philip G. Peabody of New York, to aid in the work of protecting dumb animals.

Gangs of workmen on Monday commenced fixing up the Nowell shoe factory on State street for the occupancy of the Harvard Clock Co.

Mr. George P. Thompson of York was on Monday, the 9th inst., removed from the position of foreman of laborers in the department of construction and repair at this navy yard. Mr. Abraham Shaw, of Kittery, has taken charge of the laborers' gang. Mr. Richard H. Waldron, foreman moulder in the department of construction, was on Monday rated a first-class moulder, to do the duties of the former position on the pay of the latter.

A Kittery correspondent of the Biddeford Journal says in last week's issue of that paper, "The powder boat belonging to the yard was started by Capt. Yates and a party of friends for a trip down river on Wednesday, but owing to the lightness of the wind and the strength of the tide she went up instead of down, and had to drop anchor to escape going into the bridge." The steam launch is more reliable than the powder boat, for pleasure excursions.

No better job of work has been done on the navy yard for a long time than the putting of the boilers into the U. S. S. Omaha by the laborers' gang of the steam engineering department, under direction of foreman J. Mahlon Bickford. The work was done inside of three weeks, without accident, and the derrick taken down last Saturday.

A boat belonging to Mr. George Drake, and lying in York cove, was badly demoralized on Saturday night last by a flash of lightning.

The following are among the recent transfers of real estate in York county: Kittery—F. E. Rowell, administrator, to Clarissa H. Keen, land and buildings for $450; Frank E. Rowell to Clarissa H. Keen, land and buildings for $193.75; Hiram Lord of Lebanon to Charles W. Cottle of Kittery, real estate for $185.20; Roxanna P. Tobey et als. to Frederick Billings, tillage land for $260. York—Frank E. Norton et ux of Farmington to Jane E. Place of Farmington, real estate in York for $400; Benjamin Kennard of Eliot to Portsmouth & York Beach Steamboat Co., land at Concordville, York, for $1050; Caroline B. Grant to Charles W. Sewall, small piece of field land for $25; Charles W. Sewall to Edward Grant, land for $15; Timothy Furbish to William B. Lunt, land and buildings for $150. South Berwick—Ivory Bedell to Ella E. Bedell, land and buildings for $1500.

Jos. Parsons has in his possession a dining table which used to do service in the old Sir William Pepperell mansion at Kittery Point, more than 150 years ago. It is made of hard wood, with carved legs, and is in excellent condition. Its former owner asked $100 for it, that being a slight advance on what it was purchased for. It ought again to stand in its old place, and the proprietors of that house should secure it of Mr. Parsons, if he will dispose of it.—Kennebunk Star.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cheadenaig, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Essex, Mass.—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who shows all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Women," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, All Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimony shows.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose soul ambition is to do good to others

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Pleurisy, Pains, Stitch in the Side, Slow Circulation of the Blood, Heart Diseases, Sore Muscles, Pains in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster, compounded, as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts. It is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Plaster ever made. Ask for the Hop Plaster at any drug store. Price 25 cents or five for $1. Hop Plaster Mfg. A Little Story with a Large Moral—One Man Who knew his own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist, genially, "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago, for another disease, of which the Capcine has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this: that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPCINE cut cleanly in the middle of the plaster.

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Maud Muller and the Apples.

Maud Muller stood one summer day.
Quietly raking the new-mown hay.
In the apple orchard, plain to be seen,
Was plenty of fruit, both hard and green
Rashly she ate green apples, till she
Was doubled up like the letter V.
With pains in her stomach and tears in her eye,
Maud Muller thought she would surely die.
But soon came an end of her woeful grief,
For Pain Killer brought sweet relief.

The Whiskey Tax.

By a law passed by Congress the whiskey distillers are allowed to store their products for three years in government warehouses without paying the government tax, unless they wish to take the whiskey out before; at the end of three years they must pay the tax, whether the whiskey is removed or not. Under this law the production of whiskey was immense, and the distillers have now in the warehouses more than can be disposed of in several years. A strong attempt was made to get the last Congress to extend the time whiskey can remain in bond for three years more, but it failed; and then the whiskey men hit upon the plan of exporting the surplus whiskey to Bermuda, and then re-import it, and thus get a new three years' lease of time in which it could be stored under the government's lock and key, without paying the tax. Gen. Raum, late commissioner of internal revenue, ruled that this could be done; but Secretary Folger, of the treasury, referred the question to Attorney General Brewster, who rendered a decision that carrying whiskey to Bermuda with the intention of bringing it back again is not exportation, and does not in any way release the distillers from the payment of the tax at the end of three years from the date of manufacture. This is certainly good common sense, whether it is good law or not.

A Hopeless Speculation.

The British holders of confederate bonds have organized a movement to endeavor to "induce such of the southern states as wish to re-establish their credit, to recognize a portion of the confederate debt." The bondholders have subscribed a large sum to defray the expenses of this attempt. It is hardly probable that states which refuse to pay the honest debts due their own citizens, will put themselves out of the way to raise money to pay debts which they are neither legally nor morally bound to pay,—or rather, which they are both legally and morally bound not to pay.

Bitter Bread.

Complaint is frequently made by those who use baking powders that they leave in bread, biscuit, or cake raised by them a disagreeable, bitter taste. This taste follows the use of all impure baking powders, and is caused either by their containing alum (introduced to make a cheap article), by the impure and adulterated character of other ingredients used, or from the ignorance of their manufacturers of the proper methods of combining them. These baking powders leave in the bread a residuum formed of lime, earth, alum, or other deleterious matters, not always, though frequently, tastable in the food, and by all physicians classed as injurious to health. The Royal Baking Powder is free from this serious defect. In its use no residuum is left, and the loaf raised by it it always sweet, light and wholesome, and noticeably free from the peculiar taste complained of. The reason of this is because it is composed of nothing but absolutely pure materials, scientifically combined in exactly the proper proportions of acid and alkali to act and destroy each other, while producing the largest amount of raising power. We are justified in this assertion from the unqualified statements made by the government chemists, who after thorough and exhaustive tests recommended the "Royal" for government use because of its superiority over all others in purity, strength and wholesomeness. There is no danger of bitter bread or biscuit where it alone is used.

Naval Affairs.

Commander Francis M. Bunce, commanding the receiving-ship Wabash at Boston, has been commissioned a captain from Jan. 11th, 1883.

Surgeon F. Woolverton has been granted leave of absence for one year.

William Sheridan was arrested at New Haven, Conn., July 8th, for drunkenness and breach of the peace. Since April 4th, 1862, when he was first arrested as a runaway boy, his name appears on the New Haven police record as a prisoner 113 times, for burglary, theft, and various other lesser crimes and misdemeanors. He is thirty-three years of age, and since his first arrest has passed about two-thirds of his life in jail and state prison.

A boy named John Shea, eight years old, of Cambridge, Mass., was drowned July 9th while bathing in the river.

In Chicago, on Sunday, July 8th, the announcement by Pastor Ritchie of the Church of the Ascension (Episcopal) that a requiem mass for the repose of the soul of Daniel Fountain would be performed after the regular services, led to more than half the congregation leaving the church; and at the request of the widow the requiem was postponed for a few days. It is now thought the bishop will be compelled to order a trial of the excessively high-church pastor.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

GOSSIPS SAY

That a well-known newspaper man took an involuntary bath off Gerrish's island on the 9th inst.

That a representative of the press from St. Louis, Mo., paralyzes our local down-river goers by his feats in cunner eating.

That a Market Square clerk is at Gerrish's island ripening in the sun, reading Sea-side novels, and making life a burden to the butterflies and grasshoppers by his reckless waste of ammunition.

That the hotel Wentworth had over two hundred guests on Tuesday.

That since the summer birds of passage commenced to arrive, several dudes have been seen on our streets.

That they were the genuine article—no sham.

That Representative Gardiner on Tuesday delivered an argument in the legislature a military bill which will have the united support of the Portsmouth delegation.

That if passed it will establish a four-gun battery in this city.

THE BURGLAR ABROAD.

A house in Great Falls was broken into one night last week, and a vest containing $40 stolen; from circumstances afterward discovered it was supposed the crime was committed by a man disguised as a woman, who went toward Dover in a team.

Sunday morning about one o'clock a man attempted to enter the house of Charles Woodman in Dover, by turning the key in the door with nippers, but was seen and frightened away. About two o'clock Sunday morning the wife of David Flynn, a saloon keeper, awoke, and saw a man entering the raised window of the sleeping room; a scream awoke her husband and scared the intruder, who hurriedly retreated. An attempt was made Sunday night to enter Charles Hayes' house, but a man who heard the burglar loosed a dog, and the fellow ran away. Monday morning about two o'clock an old woman was discovered trying to break open the door of Mrs. Reynolds' house; Mrs. Reynolds opened a window and asked what was wanted, when the bowed-down old woman replied in an extremely masculine-sounding voice that she wanted Father Murphy, and then ran rapidly away. The ladies in the house are confident the old woman was a man.

It is more than possible that these attempts at housebreaking were made by the same gang that operated in Dover and Eliot some few weeks ago, and that when they are finally found out, as they will be in time, it will prove that they are residents of some place in the immediate vicinity, rather than expert "professionals" from the large cities.

SABBATH SCHOOL PICNIC.

The North church Sunday school will hold a picnic at Stratham grove on Thursday, the 12th inst. Train leaves the Concord railroad station at five minutes before eight o'clock in the morning, returning in the afternoon. Tickets for children, fifteen cents each; for adults, twenty-five cents; for sale at Mr. Connell's and at the railroad station.

MINING COMPANY MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Carolina Queen Mining Co. was held at the Rockingham house on Tuesday, the 10th inst., and the following officers chosen to serve for the ensuing year: Dr. A. C. Starr, president; William W. Hadley, vice president; C. W. Wellington, treasurer; H. A. Tarlton, secretary. Also a board of directors consisting of A. C. Starr, C. W. Wellington, W. F. Remington, C. H. Arnold, J. W. Brimblecom, J. M. Brown, W. W. Hadley, A. T. Sinker and H. A. Tarlton.

A directors' meeting was subsequently held to reconsider the feasibility and advantage of consolidating this company with three other companies located in the same district; the matter was referred to a committe, to investigate, and report in detail at the next monthly meeting of the directors.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

The work of collecting subscriptions to the Firemen's Muster fund was commenced on Tuesday by a committee of forty.

Of sixty prominent citizens appointed on committees on the muster, only four have declined to serve.

Eastern railroad stock sold at the brokers' board in Boston on Tuesday at $45 per share. The road is making an excellent showing this year. From October, 1882, to June 1st, 1883, with the best four months of the year ahead, the accounts of the company show a small net earning after all payments, including six per cent interest on the debt, have been met; while for the same period in the previous fiscal year, with only 4 1-2 per cent interest to pay, the road on June 1st, 1882, was $180,000 behind.

During one of the heavy showers last week the lightning struck a barn on the Badger farm in Newington, in which were twenty head of cattle, but did no other damage than to tear up the flooring quite extensively.

Only one sentence has been imposed in the police court so far this month.

The schooner Cocheco, Capt. R. H. Seward, sailed from Bangor for Philadelphia on the 7th inst. with 242 thousand feet of lumber at $2.62 1-2 per thousand. The Mary Willey, Williams master, for this port, and the Chilion, Call master, for Boston, both lumber laden, sailed from Bangor the same day.

A man named Main, hailing from Beech ridge, York, has been employed for about a year as a farm hand on the Hayes place at Portsmouth plains. Recently he disappeared, and a hundred dollars which had been in a pocket of Mr. C. H. Hayes' vest, which was hanging on a tree in the field, disappeared at the same time.

While a gang of men were at work in Newmarket on Monday last, making a deep cut for the Newmarket Manufacturing Co., the sides of the trench caved in, instantly killing Patrick Mullen, and seriously injuring a Frenchman named Napoleon Rolleau. Mullen leaves a widow and three children.

The burning of the first kiln of bricks at Thomas Pearl's yard, Dover point, this season, was commenced last Sunday night. The schooner Satellite was on Monday loading at Aaron Pinkham's yard at the point, for Boston.

John P. Peabody's summer residence at Boar's head was struck by lightning on the 4th, but no person was injured.

The Dover Republican says that during the thunder shower of last Saturday night, "A pine tree down by the neck on the Cocheco river, where the dredging is done, was struck by lightning and split its entire length; it then passed to the dredge, and knocked the watchman out of his bunk, then passed to the opposite side of the river. The shanty where the dredgeman lives is but a few feet from the tree, and was full of men at the time. Not a person was hurt." Eight fire alarm boxes in Dover were rendered temporarily useless, and the gong in Cocheco Hose Co.'s house was rung so that the company thought it a genuine alarm.

The Boston Post of Tuesday, the 10th inst., said: "The United States steamer Tallapoosa, Lieut. J. F. Merry commanding, arrived at the Boston navy yard Monday forenoon, direct from New York, with Commodore John G. Walker, chief of the bureau of navigation, with his family, aboard. She will leave a quanity of iron stores for the engineering department, and will proceed to Portsmouth, N. H., where some few repairs will be made upon her, and there await sailing orders from Secretary Chandler, who will go aboard at that port. The president's barge is aboard, and it is thought that he will join her himself, with the secretary of the navy, at Portsmouth."

In a pasture at South Berwick junction, last Saturday, were thirty-three sheep, the property of Widow Neal. On Sunday some young men found twenty-seven of them huddled together in one corner of the pasture, dead, having probably been killed by a flash of lightning during the shower of Saturday night. Mrs. Neal's loss is about $100.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

SALT RHEUM

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.
Yours truly, B. WILSON LORD.
AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally. J. W. ADAMS.
NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.
DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases for which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that is faithfully cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin disease.

A Book for Every Man!
Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Fifty edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Your

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver." Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and little fall to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose soft solicitude is to do good to others.

"Madelphia, Pa. (6) Mrs. A. M. D.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia Sciatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Slow Circulation of the Blood, Heart Diseases, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster, compounded as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts. It is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Plaster ever made. Ask for the Hop Plaster at any drug store. Price 25 cents or five for $1. Positive Cure for Piles.

In New York, July 9th, two white men named Alexander Mayer and Robert Simpson quarrelled, and Simpson was fatally stabbed. They were rivals for the affection of a colored woman.

Consumption.

To prevent night sweats, to ease the cough and arrest emaciation and decline, no other form of malt or medicine can possibly equal Malt Bitters. This original Nutrient and Tonic is rich in nourishment and strength. It tides the patient over the most critical stages of the disease, digests and assimilates food, enriches and purifies the blood. It builds up the system by stimulating into new life the entire process of digestion.

Frank Brown, a burglar, was caught in a store at Jersey City, N. J., July 8th, by two officers, and a fight ensued in which all three were wounded, the thief fatally.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. — One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had taken it a week she had a rousing appetite, and did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested." C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass

In Portland, Me., on the 4th, a rocket that was fired on Congress square struck a Mr. Johnson, of Auburn, and passed through his body. It is thought he may recover.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

The war in Hayti still continues. The government forces have won success at Miragoane, but the revolutionists have got within twenty miles of Port au Prince.

Mother Swan's Worm Syrup.

Infallible, tasteless, harmless, cathartic; for feverishness, restlessness, worms, constipation. 25c.

At Helena, Ark., July 9th, there was a street fight between W. J. Lewis, a reporter, and W. R Burke, editor of the Helena World. Lewis fired four shots and Burke three, Lewis being slightly wounded in the arm and breast.

Miss Mary F. Willey, Hillsboro Bridge, N. H., says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and received much benefit."

The Gospel Banner, one of the oldest Universalist papers, has been sold to Rev. I. J. Mead and George W. Vickery of Augusta, Me.

Pure blood helps to make a clear conscience. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood. Enough said. Send us a big bottle.

Oscar Jones of Peacham, Vt., about sixty years old, hung himself in a sugar-house on the 8th inst.

From Messrs. E. G. Honors & Son, 222 Chestnut St. Lynn, Mass., comes the following: "Ellis's Spavin Cure cured one of our horses of a large Bone Spavin.

Parker C. Thomas, sixty years old, was killed by a train at Richford, Vt., July 9th, while crossing the track in a team. His nephew, who was driving, escaped by jumping.

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

In Sioux City, Ia., Joseph Kitter, from Council Bluffs, shot Minnie Murdoch in a house of ill fame, Saturday, inflicting a fatal wound. Kitter then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a dangerous wound in the head.

"I had 'em all," said a rubicund happy-faced gentleman. "All of what?" asked his friend. "Why all the symptoms of malaria, viz: lame back, aching joints, sleeplessness, indigestion, dizzy fits, cold extremities, rush of blood to the head, constant fatigue, no appetite, pains in the breast after eating, night sweats, alternate chills and fevers, etc., etc., but Brown's Iron Bitters cured me and I recommend it as being the only perfect tonic made."

Chicago detectives Saturday night on the incoming passenger train over the Lake Shore road, arrested a much married man named Adam Jochem. The arrest was made on a despatch from Lackawanna, Pa., where he is wanted for polygamy. On his person were found letters from no less than eight different women, all calling him husband.

TOPEKA, SALINA & WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 151 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the south and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $40,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co., of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to Nature's Remedies.

Dr. Felix M. Oswald contributes to the Popular Science Monthly an article on the "Remedies of Nature," which persons of consumptive tendencies might profitably peruse. Lung diseases, he says, are caused by lack of lung-food, which is pure air, and can be subdued by out-door exercise. An old campaigner, says Dr. Oswald, would laugh at the idea of colds being taken in the open air. He knows they germinate in close bedrooms and flourish in musty beer shops, but vanish in the prairie wind. Lung parasites do not thrive upon a fresh air diet. Plenty of exercise and proper nutrition will prevent pulmonary disease. But the writer of "Nature's Remedies" most strenuously insists that people should get rid of the night-air superstition, and enjoy the blessing of an airy bedroom. In families cursed with the night-air superstition children are often fuddled with miasma till they prefer it to fresh air and dislike to sleep near an open window. But in a single month that aversion can be changed into a decided predelection, till the cool breath of the night wind becomes a chief condition of a good night's rest. When the thermometer is not too low, open all the windows, and be content with nothing less than a thorough draft. When it gets below zero, close the windows and let the cold do the disinfecting, but don't forego the exercise out of doors in any season. In the dog-days which are coming plenty of air in a bedroom will be found a luxury and a preserver of health more efficacious than all the nostrums ever invented. Get rid of the night-air superstition, if you don't want to die in the forenoon of life.

"Those who deaden sensation and stupefy the patient to relieve suffering make a grave mistake. They proceed upon the false idea that it is legitimate to procure relief from pain by destroying physical sensibility. This method, carried to the last extremity, would kill the patient to end suffering. It is not presmed that Lydia E. MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for the FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Naval Affairs.

The navy department has received from the Norfolk navy yard charges and counter charges growing out of the recent arrest of Commander John F. McGlensey by Commodore William K. Mayo. The principal charges are preferred by McGlensey, and allege that the commodore has been making false muster rolls. Commodore Mayo replies with a charge against Comdr. McGlensey of disrespectful and insubordinate conduct in refusing to give up certain papers. The point at issue appears to be the character of the papers—whether personal or official—referred to by Commodore Mayo and upon this question officials at the navy department refuse to express an opinion. On the 10th inst. a board of officers to inquire into the matter was appointed.

News and Notes.

Bessie Colby, a three-years-old daughter of Albert Colby of Fryeburg, Me., captured a poisonous adder four feet long, at a point a quarter of a mile distant from her father's house, and carried it home alive. Her step-mother was so frightened at the sight of the reptile that she nearly fainted, but finally killed it.

At Glendale, Mass., July 10th, Robert Wilcox, aged nine years, was killed by being run over by a cart loaded with gravel.

The following is going the rounds of the Massachusetts papers: "A peculiar fish has been captured off Falmouth Heights. It measures something over seventy-five feet in length and its circumference is 4 1-2 inches. Old fishermen say it is the first of the kind they ever saw or heard of." Probably the worn-out jib-downhaul of some schooner, thrown overboard and afterward fished up; or, the quality of the whiskey sold at Falmouth may explain the matter.

The treasury department has been informed of the arrest at Port Townsend, W. T., of nine Chinamen who had been "smuggled" into this country through British Columbia. The fact has been reported to the president, who will, under due process of the law, order their deportation.

Cornelius Holmes and Richard W. Pope, "forty-niners" of Plymouth, Mass., who had been absent over thirty years, surprised their friends with visits home on the Fourth.

A pond at Millbury, Mass., which was stocked with black bass five years ago, was thrown open to the public on Saturday, July 7th. Four or five hundred people caught 3,000 pounds of fish on that day.

A despatch of July 10th from Halifax, N. S., is as follows: "A sister of Rogers Amero, the man charged with the murder of Mrs. Carlton at Watertown, Mass., has become insane by reason of her distress at her brother's imprisonment. She grew better, but as the crisis of the argument at Halifax drew near grew worse, and will be taken to an insane asylum early in the week. She was insane six or seven years ago. There are persons who believe the self-accusations of the prisoner which caused his arrest to be the result of lunacy, and allege that he talked the same way at Gloucester on the Tuesday or Wednesday before the murder of Mrs. Carlton."

AROUND HOME.

A Dover gentleman has procured a marine bicycle from this city, and placed it on the upper Cocheco, to be let to persons desiring to try this novel and safe mode of water travel.

The change made in the appearance of the new part of Vaughan street since the once-famous "Wilson house obstruction" was removed, is very noticeable. Mrs. Hannah E. Seavey, who bought the Wilson place and took the land into her garden, has had a nice fence put up around the lot, and the house handsomely painted, the place now presenting a very neat appearance.

Gov. Hale, with the advice and consent of the council, has appointed Wm. A. Meloon, Esq., of this city, a justice of the peace for the third time, in the county of Rockingham, for a term of five years.

A court martial consisting of Commanders Cromwell and Johnson, Capt. Pope, U. S. M. C., and Asst. Engr. Norman as recorder, was in session at the navy yard on the 11th inst. to try two marines, one for drunkenness and the other for sleeping while on duty.

The supreme court of New Hampshire have selected one of the hotels at Rye beach for their annual dinner. This has usually been held at Old Orchard. They might have done very much worse. Chief Justice Doe and Judge Lewis W. Clark of Manchester, made the selection, and it may therefore be called a judicious judicial choice.—Dover Republican.

Mr. Daniel Mason, the steam sawmill man, arrived home on the 10th inst., from a week's pleasure trip down in Maine, during which he travelled about three hundred miles,—the first vacation he has taken for many years. We don't know of anybody who has a better right to go on a pleasure trip than Mr. Mason, for he is one of the hardest-working men in the city.

Mr. Samuel W. Green, who was recently arrested in South Berwick on a charge of maintaining illicit relations with the wife of Andrew J. Green of Kennebunk, appears to have rather hard luck in his chase after conubial happiness. The woman with whom he was living when arrested, and to whom he was married in Great Falls a week previous, told him she was never married to Andrew J. Green, with whom she had lived twenty-four years, and to whom she had borne seven or more children; but a duly attested copy of the record of her marriage has been received by her husband from Canada, showing that Andrew J. Green and Miss Sarah Lovely were lawfully united. This was Samuel's second unsuccessful attempt to get a wife, his first spouse having had two husbands living at the time he married her; it is to be hoped the poor fellow will have better luck the third time he tries.

Awnings for the windows on the southern and western sides of the custom house building, for the first and second stories, have been procured.

Wm. H. Goodwin, Esq., president of the Eliot National bank of Boston, and family, are occupying their cottage on Gerrish's island, Kittery, for the summer.

Mr. E. C. Staples of Old Orchard has sold the Boston & Maine railroad an acre and a quarter of land at that place for $18,000. It would not have brought as many hundreds, fifteen years ago.

WHAT WILL convince you of the wonderful curative properties combined in HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, if the remarkable cures that have been effected by its use fail to impress upon your mind this repeatedly proven fact? MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,
J. P. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

Hood's Sarsaparilla.
Sold by all druggists. Price $1 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

In the equity suit of Alex. Bruce and others against the Manchester & Keene railroad and others, pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of New Hampshire, the complainants some time since filed exceptions to the answer of Samuel W. Hale and Henry Colony, for scandal and impertinence in their answer.

These exceptions were referred to a master under the rule of the court. The master has reported that the paragraphs referred to by the complainants' counsel in his exceptions are scandalous and impertinent, and the court has confirmed the report of the master.

The answer was drawn by Hon. William E. Chandler, solicitor for Hale and Colony. Hale and Colony made oath to the answer in December, 1881, and the suit of Bruce has been in court for some time waiting the issue of this question. The proceedings of the sale of the M. & K. R. R. were brought in question by the bill in this case.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, Me., July 6th.

Speaking of large farmers in York, it is reported that Prof. H. R. W. Eastman has planted about 83,000 hills of corn, potatoes and beans, unaided, except a little help from the old gentleman who lives with him. He has his hoeing nearly completed, and will soon commence haying. It is stated that a board of surveyors intend to measure for the exact acreage of the professor's planted lots.

Mr. Charles H. Junkins is building a new and convenient stable on the site of the one burned last October; the work is being done by contract, by Mr. John P. Grant.

Mr. Adolphus Eno, foreman and manager of the F. P. Norton brick-yard, is burning his second 400,000-kiln of bricks for this season. Mr. Eno is a very capable and efficient man for the position.

Capt. Frank P. Emerson has commenced digging the ditch in which he is to lay a pipe from what is known as "Fall Mill brook" to his ice and fish pond near the Marshall house, a distance of nearly two miles. The pipe is to be eight inches in diameter, and made of wooden staves hooped with iron; the staves are now being sawed at the mill of C. C. Barrell, Esq. The fall from the pond is upward of one hundred feet. It is supposed that branch pipes will be run from the main to all the prominent houses in the vicinity of York corner, York village, Short beach and the harbor; it will be a great convenience, as the water is excellent, and in case of fire it would be very useful, as the fountain is many feet higher than the highest building.

We do not hear the "Narrow Gauge railroad" whistle over here; hear the "City of Portsmouth" blowing once in a while.

D. P. Young, Esq., has recently thoroughly painted (white) his residence and two of his tenement houses, and added new green blinds—a vast improvement to the appearance around the "corner," as they were of wood color and had stood the storms of a long period of time. They now look very neat and tasty, and show in Mr. Young the right spirit.

Yours, P.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

To persons who can take from twenty to 100 men to feed during the muster, the committee are now prepared to give out contracts for such, if parties who can do so will send postal card stating location of place, and price per meal for each man to W. J. SAMPSON, Chair'n Com.

All persons who have empty barns or enclosed sheds, who are willing to have them used by visiting engine companies for storage only of engines, hose carts, hook and ladder carts, during the three days of the muster, are respectfully requested to send a postal card, giving location of such to the undersigned.

W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

All persons who have spare lofts, rooms, unoccupied houses, etc., who desire to let them to companies during the muster, are requested to send postal card of such location, and also price of same to W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

Brig. Gen. Isaiah H. Poole, of Macon, Ga., has written the committee that S. F. E. Co. No. 4 of that city have voted to attend the muster, and will be accompanied by the mayor and a number of prominent citizens.

Granite Engine Co. of Newmarket, numbering about seventy men, have given notice of their intention to be present at the muster. Also a company from Milford, with twenty men and a band.

At a meeting of the city council of Saco, Me., on the 9th inst., a petition asking the city to grant permission for steam fire engine Saco, No. 1, to be brought to this city during the muster, was referred to the committee on fire department, and engineers.

To the Citizens of Portsmouth.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—The committee of arrangements for the Firemen's Muster, to be held in this city on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of August, now issue this address, and ask your co-operation in the coming event. Twelve years have elapsed since the last gathering, which not only tended to the advertising of our city abroad, but materially added to the benefit of our citizens financially. The committee have, since the preliminary movement was made for the celebration of the late Fourth of July, remained in a quiescent state, as they did not wish to make any movement that would detract from its success. That is now passed; our whole business as well as social community have by it felt a renewed spirit of activity and life. The channels of business have again been aroused from their lethargic state, and the gloomy forebodings that characterized our whole community in the early spring have been dissipated. Capitalists have been moved to take an interest in the welfare of the city, by seeing the citizens alive in other movements, and the times look auspicious. The ball has started, let us keep it moving. It is well always to expend five dollars if fifty can be seen in the distance. And we now appeal to you to put your mite in the fund for the coming celebration. The fire department of the city, (or that portion of it on whom you rely), are a unit in making the muster a success, and are all ready to put their shoulders to the work. The preliminary part of the affair is finished, and responses are coming from all quarters. We ask your liberal aid and co-operation. In a few days committees will call on you, and as you realize that the great crowd that will fill our city for the muster week will need to be amused and taken care of, we hope your responses will be liberal.

W. J. SAMPSON,
GEORGE W. TRIPP,
HERBERT MARDEN,
L. F. BURNHAM,
for Executive Com.

The fireworks intended for the 4th were fired on the 11th, and witnessed by a large number of people, including many from across the river. The Dover cornet band furnished music during the evening, finishing with Old Lang Syne soon after ten o'clock. There were two alarms of fire between ten o'clock and half past ten, and some of the fire apparatus was taken out each time; the roof of a house on Sheafe street, and the roof of the Methodist chapel on Daniel street, both took fire, but a few buckets of water were all that was required in either case. During the fireworks display City Marshal Entwistle had one of his legs hurt by the premature explosion of a bomb, and was obliged to go home; it was reported that a woman also was hurt. At about eleven o'clock it was found that Mr. Murphey's house on Daniel street was on fire on the roof, but it was extinguished without an alarm being given.

Prof. Masse, a teacher of French in its purity, being a native of Paris, has an advertisement in another place, to which attention is called. He is a gentleman of Parisian style, and will teach the French language in its most approved pronunciation and methods.

The Unitarian Sunday school picnic was held at Wallis' sands, Rye beach, on the 11th inst.

The Women's Temperance League will hold no more meetings until the first Thursday in September.

The semi-annual meeting of the Association of General Freight Agents of New England will be held at Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, on Wednesday, July 18th.

The train due in this city at 9:45 o'clock A. M. from Boston, was more than an hour late on the 11th inst., consequent on an accident to the locomotive somewhere this side of Hampton.

At Frye & Co.'s express office, on the 11th inst., was a case of fowls from Mrs. Sargent of Kittery, bound for a town in the western part of New York. The fowls were of the Langsham breed, and were valued at $225—ten hens at $20 each, and one rooster at $25.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.48 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

SALT RHEUM.

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.

Yours truly, B. WILSON LORD.
AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally. J. W. ADAMS.
NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had head of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.
DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases for which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that infallibly cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin disease.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Now

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Cheadhurst, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who shows all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Women," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily presents upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and this pill is equal to the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, Five Shares of Stock, par value $100 each, and a $1000 Bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States' Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind, sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Maud Muller and the Apples.

Maud Muller stood one summer day.
Quietly raking the new-mown hay.
In the apple orchard, plain to be seen,
Was plenty of fruit, both hard and green
Rashly she ate green apples, till she
Was doubled up like the letter V.
With pains in her stomach and tears in her eye,
Maud Muller thought she would surely die.
But soon came an end of her woeful grief,
For Pain Killer brought sweet relief.

A Voyage Down the Penobscot.

The man who is bound to go through life in the shortest time and at the greatest rate of speed, can leave Bangor at 2:05 P. M. and reach Boston at ten o'clock the same evening, making 244 miles, including fifteen minutes stop at Portland and ten minutes in Portsmouth, with other short stops for water, crossings and stations, at a rate of over thirty miles the hour. If time is an object, this is the way to save it.

If enjoyment of fine scenery, breathing pure air, a taste of ocean calmness, and the aroma of the salt sea are sought, another mode of conveyance suggests itself. The Boston & Bangor Steamship company is the corporation which represents the former Sanford Steamship Co., which held its charter under the laws of Massachusetts. Since 1882 the B. & B. S. S. Co. has been one of the solid corporations of Boston. Its president is William H. Hill, a native of Portsmouth. His son, Wm. H. Hill, Jr., of the well-known house of Richardson, Hill & Co., is treasurer; and Capt. James Littlefield is superintendent of the line.

The steamers start from their berth at Bangor at eleven o'clock A. M. daily, and steam down the Penobscot river, calling at various towns on the banks to receive and land passengers and freight. In a pleasant summer day there is no more attractive an excursion than can be enjoyed in this trip down the Penobscot, obtaining a view of the distant hills of Maine, calling at the river towns, sailing through the bay, visiting Belfast, Rockland, etc., at the latter place connecting with the steamer from Mount Desert, and then steaming out past White-head by Manhegan island, to lay the course for Boston.

On board the steamers everything is neat and attractive; the officers are gentlemen, bred to their profession, and are in every respect abundantly qualified for the positions they fill. The sail on the river, in the keen bracing air, affords a generous appetite, which is well satisfied at the tables of these steamers. It is a pleasing surprise to a Portsmouth traveller to be addressed by name in the deep, rich voice of "Professor" Edwards, whose nightly serenades delight the Bangor ear, and to know that every want will be attended to.

The last we before saw of the Professor he was a leading spirit in the dining room of Young's hotel. But it was of no use. He served so well and had so many friends that it at last came to pass that guests would not dine unless they could be attended by the Professor. He broke down under the pressure, and in search of health now grows hearty again on the "Katahdin."

The agent of the line at Bangor is Mr. H. T. Sanborn, whose father was a Belknap county man. Capt. Littlefield, the Boston agent, who is also a director in the company, has a fine cottage on Fort Point, near the celebrated summer hotel at that charming spot.

We have enjoyed the many attractions of this trip. It affords more enjoyment for the money than any similar excursion in New England, and of course at this season the line is most generously patronized.

There was a very large attendance at a public hearing given by the railroad committee in the hall of the house of representatives Tuesday, the 10th inst. Hon. James W. Emery of Portsmouth appeared in behalf of the minority stockholders of he Eastern railroad; and Hon. Samuel B. Page of Woodsville, who announced himself as appearing for the Anti-Monopoly League of America, and against all forms of railroad consolidation. The address of Mr. Page is considered to be the ablest argument yet presented to the committee against the proposed general railroad law.

The steamer Putnam, of the United States lighthouse service, Capt. H. E. Crosby, arrived at the navy yard late on Wednesday afternoon of this week, having on board Commodore John G. Walker, U. S. N., chief of the bureau of navigation and detail; Commander Henry F. Picking, formerly inspector of the first lighthouse district, embracing Maine and New Hampshire; and Commander W. S. Schley, inspector of the second lighthouse district. The Putnam is a side-wheel steamer propelled by a beam engine, and looks as though it would be a good deal easier to tip her over endwise than sidewise; how fast she can go is not stated, but she has lots of room. On Thursday morning about half-past eight o'clock Commodore Walker received from the navy yard battery the regulation salute due his rank; it is said his family will for a time be quartered in the beautifully-situated cottage on the southerly side of Seavey's island, formerly occupied by Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler, and later by Civil Engineer Craven.

The house and barn occupied by James P. T. Thompson at Kennebunk Depot were burned by an incendiary fire on the morning of the 11th inst.; loss $900, with no insurance. The buildings were owned by Ivory Littlefield.

On the night of the 10th inst., at Kennebunk, burglars entered three houses, getting a watch and $150 at the house of Oliver Perkins, but having small success elsewhere.

A recent order of the navy department, changing the style of uniform of the officers, is exciting considerable criticism. The change is so complete and radical as to render the present uniforms totally useless. It is also claimed that while the uniforms now worn are distinctively American and unique, that the new uniform is patterned closely after the English style, even including helmets. Some of the officers, however, are highly delighted at the change, as they are at any aping of British fashions by the American naval authorities.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,
J. F. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

GOSSIPS SAY

That the republican members of the Portsmouth delegation in the legislature had up to Thursday last, for twenty-one ballots, been steadfast and unanimous in their support of Mr. Rollins' candidacy for the United States senatorship.

That if he did not win it was not their fault.

That the anti-caucus republicans of the legislature,—that is, those who from the first opposed the re-election of Rollins,—have repeatedly had "conferences" to decide how to act.

That to the unsophisticated outsider the difference between a "caucus" and "a conference to decide upon a plan of action" is not very clear.

That to the U. O. aforesaid the only difference appears to be that the caucus men held a "regular" caucus, and the anti-caucus men held bolters' caucuses.

That the Concord Monitor intimates that there is a "rod in pickle" for Major Urch.

That the major has the sympathy and commiseration of our citizens.

That although death is abroad in the world there is found occasionally a democrat who is still voting for Andrew Jackson for president.

That Mr. Stacy Hall and wife on the evening of the 11th inst. celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

That the Eureka orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. Williams, lent the charms of music to the occasion.

That the fireworks on the evening of the 11th were sweetness drawn out to a considerable length.

That the rockets and bombs were very beautiful.

That they were also very dangerous to set off in a city, as the roofs of no less than six buildings were on fire at different times during the display.

That with the roofs as dry as they sometimes are, and a brisk breeze, this would have made trouble.

That such fireworks are just the thing for seaside resorts, where there is plenty of room.

That the dead horse previously referred to as floating near the Fishing islands, was on Thursday spreading a horrible stench over a radius of several hundred yards in the lower harbor, having been anchored by some miscreant.

That it was hoped by all passers-by that the practical joker might get becalmed within twenty-five yards of the carcass, in a boat too big and clumsy to be moved by oars, and have to stop there several hours.

That two of the sons of Anthony Nowell, Esq., of this city, contemplate building a summer cottage at Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island.

That there were twenty parties picknicking at different points on Gerrish's island on Thursday last.

That a gentleman engaged in the woollen-yarn business in Newburyport, and who employs a hundred hands, is desirous of bringing his business to this city if a suitable building can be found.

That there should not be any difficulty in finding such a building, while so many empty warehouses, reminders of our former shipping industry, remain.

That the Portsmouth Machine company will establish weekly payments.

That Willmore Twombly of this city is an expert in the repair of telephone instruments.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.

The earnings of this road are increasing to an astonishing degree over those of the corresponding months of last year. The summer travel began early, and it is unprecedented in its extent.

At the Boston station, room will be economized by the new stand just completed, where Armstrong's baggage express, and the news and the cigar stands, will be in one spot at the head of the tracks. This will afford more space for the inward passengers, and the removal of the cigar stand will allow increased toilet accommodations.

The "Flying Yankee" does not fly over the iron of the Eastern; but after leaving Portland, going east, it runs on fast time, with but few stops. In some runs it makes forty-one miles an hour. A slight change in time would allow passengers to leave Boston at 1:30, and overtake the present 12:30 train from Boston between Portsmouth and North Berwick.

The Maine Central road has four fine parlor cars, built for the road by the Pullman Co.; they are run on a contract by the Pullman Co., whose conductors are in charge. The Eastern is to have two similarly-built cars soon put on the road. By a contract with the Pullman Car Co., the Eastern cannot run its own parlor cars; for this reason we at Portsmouth are obliged to pay fifty cents for a seat to Boston, while from North Hampton the price is but twenty-five cents. There appears to be no system in the matter of charges by the P. P. C. Co., and the attention of the legislature will probably be called to this inequality and some rule provided as to tariffs,—although the law as it now exists, as to rates of carriage, is wholly ignored by this company.

By an absurd contract between the Eastern and Boston & Maine railroads, parlor cars cannot be run through from these roads over the Maine Central; the result is, at Portland the Flying Yankee pauses, and the passengers disembark from one of the Maine Central parlor cars, which has brought them from Boston, and enter another precisely like the first, and in the latter are carried to St. John. Why the people of Maine submit to such ridiculous requirements is to be accounted for only because in Maine cranky legislation, and modes of doing business different from other people, are among its noted peculiarities. Perhaps, some day, the railroad commissioners of Maine will enquire into the legality of such a contract, the technical enforcement of which is not only a source of inconvenience to all travellers east of Portland, and a cause of delay, but is against public policy.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

To persons who can take from twenty to 100 men to feed during the muster, the committee are now prepared to give out contracts for such, if parties who can do so will send postal card stating location of place, and price per meal for each man to W. J. SAMPSON, Chair'n Com.

All persons who have empty barns or enclosed sheds, who are willing to have them used by visiting engine companies for storage only of engines, hose carts, hook and ladder carts, during the three days of the muster, are respectfully requested to send a postal card, giving location of such to the undersigned.

W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

All persons who have spare lofts, rooms, unoccupied houses, etc., who desire to let them to companies during the muster, are requested to send postal card of such location, and also price of same to W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

During the display of fireworks on Market square on the evening of the 11th inst. a window in the building over Mr. Wm. P. Walker's store was broken by a fire-ball which took a wrong direction. Some time later a battery of roman candles fell over and then whirled around, sending balls of colored fire in all directions, causing the crowd to get out of the way in a hurry.

The schooner built at Freeman's point by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald has been named the Alice Phillips; she is owned by parties in Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Taunton, Mass., and the builder; and will hail from Taunton. The launch is set for Tuesday, the 17th inst., at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Augustus Stevenson of Kittery gives notice that he will ask the Maine legislature at its next meeting, in August, for a charter to run a steam ferry boat or boats across the Piscataqua river between Kittery and this city, at stated hours during the day and on such evenings as may be deemed advisable, for the transportation of passengers, freight and teams between the two places.

A. M. Moore, a lightning rod man, lost one of a valuable span of black horses on Tuesday, the 10th inst., at South Berwick. He went to Concord on the 7th inst., leaving the horses in charge of his assistant, who took them Sunday and went to York beach, overdriving them, from the effects of which one died as stated. The animal was valued at $700.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."	"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,	Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,	Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.	Carbonate of Ammonia,
	Tartaric Acid,
	Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.	Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.48 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

SALT RHEUM.

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.

Yours truly, H. WILSON LORD.

AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally. J. W. ADAMS.

NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had head of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, body, head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he could rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.

DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases for which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that infallibly cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin disease.

A Book for Every Man!

Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from inadvertence in early life may be alleviated and cured. These who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

26th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of disease, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick outdoor for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors —

She is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to specific extent, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound, in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose soft solicitude is to disposed to others.

Lindsborg, Pa. (5) Mrs. A. M. D.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia Sciatica, Pleurisy Palpitation in the Side, Slow Circulation of the Blood, Heart Diseases, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved, and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster, compounded as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts. It is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Plaster ever made. Ask for the Hop Plaster at any drug store. Price 25 cents or five for $1. Willie's Plan.

During a big thunder shower, little Willie, who slept up stairs alone, got scared and called his mother, who came up and asked him what he was frightened about. Will admitted that the thunder was too much for a youngster who slept alone.

"Well, if you are afraid," said his mother, "you should pray for courage."

"Well, all right," said Willie, an idea coming into his head, "suppose you stay up here and pray, while I go down stairs and sleep with pa."

She didn't stay.

Thomas Kelly and Lorin Barstow, two criminals at the city farm, Nashua, who were serving sentences, got into a fight at an early hour Wednesday morning, the 11th inst., Barstow attacking Kelley with a bedpost, pounding him brutally. He also assaulted Supt. Baker, who tried to quell the disturbance. Kelley is badly bruised, but will recover. Barstow has been sent to jail.

A whale forty feet long was picked up on the 10th inst. near Plymouth, Mass., by lobster catchers, and towed to Clark's island.

Miss Mary F. Willey, Hillsboro Bridge, N. H., says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and received much benefit."

Rev. W. L. Francis, late pastor of the colored church at Haverhill, Mass., has been deposed as pastor and member of the church, on account of misdoing. He is said to have confessed his guilt and left town.

From Messrs. E. G. Honors & Son, 222 Chestnut St. Lynn, Mass., comes the following: "Ellis's Spavin Cure cured one of our horses of a large Bone Spavin.

The body of an unknown woman, about forty years of age, and dressed in calico, was found in Hughes pond, on the Indian Orchard road, in Springfield, Mass., July 10th. It had evidently been there but a short time, as the face was only slightly discolored.

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

A tremendous storm of rain and lightning prevailed in the vicinity of London, Ontario, on the night of the 10th inst., causing the rivers to rise higher than ever before known. Great damage was done to property; seventeen persons are known to have been drowned, and it is feared many other lives were lost.

"I had 'em all," said a rubicund happy-faced gentleman. "All what?" asked his friend. "Why all the symptoms of malaria, viz: lame back, aching joints, sleeplessness, indigestion, dizzy fits, cold extremities, rush of blood to the head, constant fatigue, no appetite, pains in the breast after eating, night sweats, alternate chills and fevers, etc., etc., but Brown's Iron Bitters cured me and I recommend it as being the only perfect tonic made."

Drunken Officers.

The findings of the naval court appointed to inquire into the loss of the United States steamer Ashuelot have reached the navy department. It appears that the vessel was run upon the rocks off the coast of China and became a total loss, because of the drunkenness of the officers. Commander Mullan was tried upon charges of drunkenness while on duty; improperly hazarding the vessel under his command, in consequence of which she was run upon a rock and lost; and neglect of duty. The first charge was fully substantiated, as, although not absolutely under the influence of liquor when the ship struck, it was clearly shown that he was still suffering from the effects of it. He was found guilty on all three of the charges, and sentenced to dismissal, which sentence has been confirmed by the president. Lieut. Wyckoff was tried for neglect of duty, but was fully acquitted by the court. Passed Assistant Engineers Entwistle and Leitch were found guilty of neglect of duty in not seeing their men up from below before leaving the ship themselves, and were sentenced, the former to suspension from duty for one year, and the latter to be publicly reprimanded by the secretary of the navy. One of the firemen, who had nobly stuck to his post, answered with some indignation when asked, "When and how did you leave the ship?" "I did not leave her at all. She left me."

"Those who deaden sensation and stupefy the patient to relieve suffering make a grave mistake. They proceed upon the false idea that it is legitimate to procure relief from pain by destroying physical sensibility. This method, carried to the last extremity, would kill the patient to end suffering. It is not presumed that Lydia E. Humor in the Stomach.

Much of the distress and sickness attributed to dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa and other causes is occasioned by humor in the stomach. Several cases, with all the characteristics of these complaints, have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Other cures effected by this medicine are so wonderful that the simplest statement of them affords the best proof that it combines rare curative agents and when once used secures the confidence of the people.

A few days later a distinguished New Yorker sent the master a check for $75, saying that he desired to place the girl on an equality with the boy. The amount was drawn in gold, and given Miss Rice.

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story with a Large Moral—One Man Who knew his own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist, genially, "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago, for another disease, of which the Capcine has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this: that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPCINE cut cleanly in the middle of the plaster.

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

The Danger of Over-Exertion.

A Stalwart Man Becomes Weaker Than a Child and Then Recovers his Former Strength.

(Waterloo, N. Y., Observer.)

In these days of rowing giants and athletic heroes fine physical development is more observed than ever before since the time of the Athenian games. A man who shows the elements of physical power is looked up to far more than in the days of our ancestors possibly because there are fewer specimens of well-developed manhood than then. An emissary of this paper met a magnificent specimen of physical power a few days since in the person of Dr. A. W. McNames, of Waterloo. His muscles, which showed unusual development, were as hard as wood. At his request the writer sought to pinch him in the arms or legs, but found it wholly impossible. A realization of what is meant by an Iron man was fully made manifest.

"Have you always been so stalwart as this?" inquired the news gatherer.

"Not by any means," was the reply. "When a young man I was always strong and active and felt that I could accomplish anything. This feeling so took possession of me on one occasion that I attempted to lift a box which four men found it impossible to move. I succeeded in placing it on the wagon, but in two minutes from that time I was unconscious and remained so for hours and when I recovered consciousness I vomited a large quantity of blood. From that day I began to grow weak and sickly. I believed that I had suffered some internal injury and experienced a general debility, which seemed similar to the effects produced by malaria. My back was very weak. I had no appetite, and at times loathed food. My lips were parched and cracked. My head felt as though it were entirely open at the top and it pained me on the side intensely. In six weeks' time I had fallen away from 208 pounds to less than 170. I was in a most wretched condition. I was completely discouraged."

"What did the doctors say about you."

"Almost everything. I consulted no less than six different physicians. They all treated me and none did me any good. At that time I was suffering intensely. I could not sit upright but was obliged to rest in a cramped, uneasy position. I was compelled to urinate every five minutes, and I passed over three quarts every day. I was not living, I was existing."

One night (how well I remember it!) my wife had put the children all in bed when the feeling came over me that I should live but a very short time. My wife and I talked matters all over and I gave the minutest directions as to what she should do after I was gone. I was not in a flighty condition by any means, for the doctor, on leaving town the day following, bade me good bye, saying he never expected to see me again, for I was suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys in its last stages. Within the next few days over twenty friends came to bid me good bye. Among the number was Dr. John L. Clark. He asked me what I had used in the way of medicines. I told him. He then recommended a remedy of which I had heard much, but about which I was very skeptical. If faith were an element of power it certainly was lacking in my case."

"And so you did not try it?"

"On the contrary, I did try, it and to my surprise it seemed to go to just the spot. Indeed, it was the most palatable thing I had taken into my mouth for months. I relished it."

"And did it cure you?"

"Do I look as if it did?"

"Yes, indeed. What was it?"

"Warner's Safe Cure."

"A proprietary medicine!"

"Of course. What of that? I suppose I once had as great a prejudice against advertised medicines as any one could have. When I was studying medicine at Ann Arbor, Michigan, I used to vow with the rest of the class that we would fight all such remedies at all times. When a man comes down to the last hour, however, and bids his wife and friends good bye, such bigoted prejudices as these all vanish. I can assure you any remedy that can cure is gladly welcomed."

"And how have you been since then?"

"As well—or better, than before."

"Do you still exert your strength?"

"Certainly. But I do not over-exert, as formerly. My strength is increasing every day, and my health is number one. I know that my life was saved by Warner's Safe Cure, and I believe it is the best medicine that ever ever compounded by any chemist or physician. I am willing the doctors should sneer at me for such a statement if they choose, but I have proven its truth, and am prepared to stand by it."

The above experience should be of great value to all who are suffering. It shows the deceptive nature of this terrible malady; that all symptoms are compared to it, and that there is but one way by which it can be absolutely avoided.

Maud Muller stood one summer day.
Quietly raking the new-mown hay.
In the apple orchard, plain to be seen,
Was plenty of fruit, both hard and green
Rashly she ate green apples, till she

With pains in her stomach and tears in her eye,
Maud Muller thought she would surely die.
But soon came an end of her woeful grief,
For Pain Killer brought sweet relief.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

In the cases hereinafter named, which were sent to a referee, Judge Lowell has handed down an opinion upon the legal questions raised, as follows:

Charles W. Thurston v. Union Ins. Co. of Phila.
Same v. Merchants Ins. Co. of Newark.
Same v. Metropole Ins. Co.
Same v. Howard Ins. Co.

LOWELL, J. The plaintiff, who sues in behalf of a mortgagee, was owner of certain property described in the four policies as "his three-story frame building and additions occupied for stores and shoe factory, situate on the north side of Third street in Dover, N. H." Possession was taken by the mortgagee, the Cocheco Savings Bank, November 3d, 1881, of which notice was given, and the companies agreed to pay to the bank in case of loss. The four policies were for $2000 each, and there was a loss by fire December 28th, 1881, of which due notice and proof were furnished. The cases were, by agreement of the parties, sent to referee to find the amount of injury and the character of the property injured in detail. His report is very full, and states the damage in eighteen items. The dispute arises upon the construction of the policies.

In each of the first three policies there is a printed clause, substantially like that which I copy: "FENCES AND OTHER YARD FIXTURES, SIDEWALKS, STORE FURNITURE AND FIXTURES are not covered by insurance on the building, but must be separately and specifically insured." The policy of the Howard Company, which I call the fourth, contains this sentence: "The insurance under this policy does not apply to or cover jewels, plate, watches, musical or scientific instruments (piano-fortes in dwellings excepted,) ornaments, medals, patterns, printed music, engravings, paintings, picture frames, sculpture, casts, models or curiosities, or friezes or gilding on walls and ceilings, fences, privies, or other yard fixtures, store or other furniture or fixtures, or plate glass in doors or windows (when plates are of nine feet square or more) unless each are separately and specifically mentioned and then not exceeding the actual cost of the same."

The plaintiff bought the land in 1858, and made additions to the buildings, which is the meaning of the word "additions" in the policy. He fitted the buildings for stores and for a shoe factory, and occupied them himself for some years. I infer from this statement of the referee that some or all of the premises were occupied by tenants at the time of the fire. But this is immaterial. The question is what are the "store fixtures" excluded from the contract under three policies, and the "store or other fixtures" excluded from the policy by the Howard Company.

If we could suppose a printed exception in a policy to be intended to adapt itself to the various relations of landlord and tenant, mortgagor and mortgagee, heir and executor, so that fixtures refer to what may be removed in the particular case, all the disputed items in this case would be within the policies, because they are undoubtedly irremovable as between the plaintiff and the mortgagee. But if these same things had been affixed by a tenant, there is no doubt that he might remove them during his term. Such a shifting construction would be unreasonable. We must look for a meaning of "store fixtures" which has a more general application. And I find it in the context—the popular meaning of the words. I hold it to mean, in this connection, store fittings or fixed furniture, which are peculiarly adapted to make a room a store rather than something else. It is plain that "store fixtures" does not refer to the fixtures of the shoe factory, for the written part of the policies distinguishes the stores from the factory, and so does the common use of the words. Store is the American word for shop or warehouse, and is never applied to a factory.

For the convenience of counsel I numbered the items in a copy of the referee's report which I place on file. And first I will say what items I find to be covered by all the policies. These are items 1 and 2, which were admitted by the defendants' counsel to be within the contract; they are the walls, roofs, floors, partitions, doors and windows, including the show windows, which last had not plate glass of the prohibited size. 11, Boiler fixtures in boiler room. The boiler cannot be removed without taking down part of the boiler house, and is used, among other things, to heat the building. 13, Elevator machinery, which in recent usage, is as much a part of the house as are the stairs. 14, Steam piping, radiators and iron tanks, which both from their mode of annexation and their use, which is equally applicable to a dwelling house, a factory or a shop, are part of the building. 16, Gas piping, for similar reasons. 10, Speaking tube, for similar reasons. I exclude from all the policies, Items 6, Wooden tank; 17, Gas fixtures, which are chattels; the former by its construction, the latter by usage. Also, as "store fixtures," 3, 4 and 5, shelving and counters in the stores, and shelving and basin in the barber's shop.

For all items not above mentioned the three companies are liable.

The fourth, or Howard company, by my construction, escapes by virtue of "or other" from the fixtures of the shoe factory, which are items 7, 8, 9, 12, 15 and 18.

I believe I have mentioned every item, and that the parties can assess the damages against each company without difficulty in accordance with this opinion.

John S. H. Frink: Joseph F. Wiggin, for plaintiff; Batchelder & Faulkner for defendants.

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,
J. F. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

The court of Hermann, Ancient Order of Foresters, were on the 11th inst. refused admission to St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in New Haven, Conn., while wearing their regalia for the purpose of attending the funeral of one of their brethren, J. C. Bernhardt. Father McGiveney met them at the church door, and on refusing to let them enter, the court refused to remove their badges and left the church. Three members, however, who were bearers, took off their regalia and entered the church. Father McGiveney explained to the audience that the organization was not connected with, nor recognized by the church.

Wednesday morning, July 11th, a party of burglars, five or six in number, plundered the Franklin bank, five miles from Oneonta, N. Y. They first entered the two houses adjoining the bank on either side, bound and gagged the inmates, and left two of their number on guard. They then broke into the bank, and charged with glycerine the bank safe, consuming two hours in the operation. The explosion blew out nearly the whole front of the building. Eight hundred dollars in currency was obtained, with which the robbers escaped.

To the Citizens of Portsmouth.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—The committee of arrangements for the Firemen's Muster, to be held in this city on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of August, now issue this address, and ask your co-operation in the coming event. Twelve years have elapsed since the last gathering, which not only tended to the advertising of our city abroad, but materially added to the benefit of our citizens financially. The committee have, since the preliminary movement was made for the celebration of the late Fourth of July, remained in a quiescent state, as they did not wish to make any movement that would detract from its success. That is now passed; our whole business as well as social community have by it felt a renewed spirit of activity and life. The channels of business have again been aroused from their lethargic state, and the gloomy forebodings that characterized our whole community in the early spring have been dissipated. Capitalists have been moved to take an interest in the welfare of the city, by seeing the citizens alive in other movements, and the times look auspicious. The ball has started, let us keep it moving. It is well always to expend five dollars if fifty can be seen in the distance. And we now appeal to you to put your mite in the fund for the coming celebration. The fire department of the city, (or that portion of it on whom you rely), are a unit in making the muster a success, and are all ready to put their shoulders to the work. The preliminary part of the affair is finished, and responses are coming from all quarters. We ask your liberal aid and co-operation. In a few days committees will call on you, and as you realize that the great crowd that will fill our city for the muster week will need to be amused and taken care of, we hope your responses will be liberal.

W. J. SAMPSON,
GEORGE W. TRIPP,
HERBERT MARDEN,
L. F. BURNHAM,
for Executive Com.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

To persons who can take from twenty to 100 men to feed during the muster, the committee are now prepared to give out contracts for such, if parties who can do so will send postal card stating location of place, and price per meal for each man to W. J. SAMPSON, Chair'n Com.

All persons who have empty barns or enclosed sheds, who are willing to have them used by visiting engine companies for storage only of engines, hose carts, hook and ladder carts, during the three days of the muster, are respectfully requested to send a postal card, giving location of such to the undersigned.

W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

All persons who have spare lofts, rooms, unoccupied houses, etc., who desire to let them to companies during the muster, are requested to send postal card of such location, and also price of same to W. J. SAMPSON, Chairman Com.

The North German Gazette of Berlin quotes a letter from Mr. Sargent, the American minister, in which he states that Germany's pretence that the interdiction of the importation of American pork was owing to sanitary reasons, is now becoming the thinnest veil.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.

Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

SALT RHEUM

Wonderful Cures of Salt Rheum when Physicians, Hospitals and all other means failed.

SALT RHEUM.

I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for thirty years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got them and used them until my skin was perfectly smooth and I consider myself entirely cured.

Yours truly, B. WILSON LORD.
AGAWAM, MASS.

SALT RHEUM.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, hands, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally. J. W. ADAMS.
NEWARK, OHIO.

SALT RHEUM.

I had tried everything I had head of in the East and West for Salt Rheum. My case was considered a very bad one. My face, head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Suffering fearful. One very skillful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. Thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.
DECATUR, MICH.

SALT RHEUM.

No system of remedies ever compounded so thoroughly eradicate the diseases for which they are intended as the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Many remarkable cures have come to my knowledge, and I feel save in warranting satisfaction if directions are followed. Medicines that infallibly cure Salt Rheum, as CUTICURA REMEDIES do, will cure any kind of skin disease.

Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and suffer for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart. The renowned Dr. Cheadington, startingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention. Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.
[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimony shows.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose soft solicitude is to do good to others.

SHARP PAINS Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Schiatica, Pleurisy Pains, Stitch in the Side, Slow Circulation of the Blood, Heart Diseases, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches either local or deep-seated are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster, compounded as it is, of the medicinal virtues of fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts. It is indeed the best pain-killing, stimulating, soothing and strengthening Plaster ever made. Ask for the Hop Plaster at any drug store. At Maysville, Col., Wednesday, the 11th inst., Denis Hagarty and Henry Dowling met James Lynn and a Swede three miles out of town, shooting Lynn and beating the Swede with a club, and then robbing them of a few dollars. Wednesday evening Hagerty and Dowling were arrested, and locked up. Afterwards they were taken from jail and hung by the citizens. Lynn and the Swede will both die.

The complicated diseases brought on by intense study, thought, care, anxiety, etc., are often of the most serious nature. Catarrh.

The remarkable results in a disease so universal and with such a variety of characteristics as catarrh, prove how effectually Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the human system. We point with pride to the glorious record Hood's Sarsaparilla has entered upon the hearts of thousands of people it has cured of catarrh.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

Naval Grievances.

Certain officers of the navy resent the recent order requiring the wives of officers who are on sea duty to remain at their usual places of abode. They say that the secretary of the navy has no right to mention officers' wives in general orders; that if officers disobey orders or regulations the secretary should punish them, and that the recent order cannot be enforced because the secretary has no control over officers' wives. However, the secretary will probably find a way to enforce the order. There is great competition among naval officers for assignments to sea duty, chiefly on account of the fact that an officer so assigned receives from $600 to $3,000 a year more, according to his rank, than he does when on leave or waiting orders; and the number of cruising ships is so small as compared with the number of officers that it is not very easy for an officer to secure a berth at sea.

Another grievance is that the secretary permitted the publication of Admiral Crosby's report respecting the intemperances of officers attached to the Asiatic squadron. It is complained that the secretary of the navy has no right to allow the names of officers who have been reported for drunkenness to be paraded before the public to the mortification of those officers and their families and friends; and it is declared with great emphasis that "the dirty linen of the navy ought not to be washed in public." There is some reason to believe, however, that the publication of Admiral Crosby's report will have a wholesome effect upon the habits of naval officers whose names are not mentioned therein. That is probably the reason why the secretary gave it to the press.

It is understood that several cases of intemperance of naval officers, while on duty, have come under the personal observation of Mr. Chandler since he became secretary of the navy; and that he has other reasons to believe that drunkenness among officers of his department is not confined to those on the Asiatic squadron. The idea that the drunkenness of naval officers should be kept a "professional secret," lest the officers or their friends be mortified, is simply absurd. A naval officer is the people's servant, and of him, almost more than any other, is it demanded that when on duty he shall have as clear a head as nature furnished him. A little drunken obstinacy, or the drunken blunder of a commanding officer, may easily send a ship to the bottom; and it is a very open secret indeed that many accidents in our navy have occurred from this cause. It is no secret at all, now, that Commander Mullan was known to be a drunkard; but it cost the loss of a ship and a dozen lives to make it public. Some other method of advertising would be cheaper, and in the end better for the navy.

Exeter seems to be a good place for candidates for United States senator. Not only is there Gen. Marston, the time-honored candidate, and Ex-Gov. Bell, but last week John D. Lyman began with one vote, which brought him within twenty-two of his fellow townsman, Gen. Marston.

Rear Admiral Baldwin, commanding the European squadron, by some oversight was not honored with an invitation to attend the coronation of the Czar of Russia. An apology and a gold box, on the top of which is the portrait of the emperor set in diamonds, and a note of transmission, as a gift from the emperor, makes it all right with the admiral, and there will be no occasion for Mr. Chandler to get up a war with Russia until after the Roach cruisers shall have been completed.

Wide-Swath, embracing lines in pleasant places, and other rhymes, wise and otherwise, by P. B. Shillaber, popularly known as "Mrs. Partington." Popular edition. Cambridge: published by Moses King.

This is a reproduction of the lines of Mr. Shillaber, most of which in book form, have previously been confined in circulation to the circle of his intimate friends. But this a broad ring, as Shillaber, always genial, true and honest, has had hosts of friends. The volume now comes before the public, and the name brings back memories of the sonnets by Prof. Wideswath, which from time to time appeared in the columns of the Boston Post, when the author was "on" that paper. In this volume, however, it must be said that there are a number of pieces not intended, as we are informed, for print, but an author who does not burn a certain proportion of what he writes, as he grows ripe in years, is apt to place in his published works the results of his pen good and bad.

The author hints that the title of his book is suggestive of its scope rather than its quality. He does not claim that it is of a high order of poetry, but with commendable modesty, if such a trait exists with poets who publish their poems in book form, asks us to take the volume at its worth. To us, the "Home Again" as read by the author in the tent in the Court House yard on the return of the "Sons" thirty years ago this month, is most interesting. We can recall the delight of its reception, not only by the sons from abroad but those of us who remained at the homestead, and how we laughed and applauded when he came to

"Spring market: How affection clings
To thee, best of remembered things," and the description of the trainings at Portsmouth plains, when the terpsichorean delights under the musical direction of Myers (what boy of fifty or sixty summers forgets those happy fall days?) where, answering to the sounding fiddle

"Twas "Down outside and up the middle."

There is in this home sketch, this reminder of boyhood's happy days, so much that brings the memory of "pleasant places" that we find ourselves involuntarily returning to these pages, however much our later-acquired memory of the old Bromfield house or other foreign scenes, may be renewed by the author's lines.

Mr. Shillaber's perpetual humor, which never deserts him, but even when rheumatic, and consequently justifiable in being cross, is not for one moment gone from his fingers, as he indites his lines, is seen throughout the volume, "The ii rueumatico to his pipe" is an instance of how man can triumph over his enemy the rheumatism, though if it were the gout, perhaps a less defiant or satisfactory recital might have been written in this instance.

The July number of the "American Journal of the Medical Sciences," edited by I. Minis Hayes, A. M., M. D., and published quarterly by Henry C. Lea's Son & Co., of Philadelphia, has its usual variety of original communications concerning cases of professional interest, reviews, etc. The Journal is upon its sixty-fourth consecutive year of publication. It is appreciatively read by every medical man who desires to be up in his profession. The price is $5.00 per year.

The mail and express train on the New York Central railroad collided with a derailed car at Schenectady on Friday morning. The engine was wrecked, and Edward Wemple, engineer, had his head crushed and will die. Wemple was one of the oldest engineers on the road.

The steamship Niagara, Capt. Baker, of Ward's New York and Cuba mail steamship line, took fire on the 12th inst., and was scuttled in sixteen feet of water on Alligator reef, near Indian Key. The mail and passengers were put on board the steamer Commander, and part of the cargo will be saved. She was an iron screw steamer, built by John Roach in 1877, measured 2295 tons, and cost $350,000. She was fully insured.

Outrageous conduct on the part of Admiral Pierre, the French commander who occupied Tamatave, Madagascar, and proclaimed a state of siege, has come to light. He caused the flags of all foreign consuls to be hauled down. The English consul was very ill, but was ordered to leave inside of twenty-four hours; he died in consequence. Communication between a British man-of-war and the shore was stopped. Indignation is unbounded in England. Mr. Gladstone said in the house of commons that the government awaited further particulars and explanations on the part of the French.

Kentucky, in 1865, had a sinking fund of more than $3,000,000 in excess of the state debt; since then more than $9,000,000 has been added to the fund, but today the entire sinking fund amounts to less than $1,000,000. Where the money has gone is the problem which the Bourbon democrats, who run the state, are trying to explain.

A Harvard graduate has written to the Boston Herald, expressing, he says, the views of a large number of educated people about the work of our richer colleges. He speaks of the lack of enthusiasm at Harvard, and of any influence to act upon the undergraduates exciting a love of learning. The best facilities are provided for those who are studious and ambitious, but anything like enthusiasm among the half-educated young men there is considered "bad form."

Professor Allen, accompanied by two prominent citizens of Haverhill, Mass., made a balloon ascension from that city on the 12th inst. Soon after starting the balloon struck a house, causing the basket to careen so as to nearly throw out the occupants, and breaking one of Prof. Alleu's collar-bones. The balloon then rose to a height of 1 1-2 miles, and in about half an hour safely landed in South Hampton, near B. R. Jewell's house.

Orders were last week received from Washington by the commandant of the Boston navy yard, to discharge the following-named foremen of the construction department at that yard: D. S. Barrett, foreman of block makers; T. S. Woodward, master moulder; J. H. Wentworth, master of laborers; E. T. Lovett, foreman of coopers; E. S. Sullivan, master plumber; J. F. Williams, overseer of ship keepers; W. H. Rigby, master boat builder.

A Superb Sight.

The glories and splendors of the ancient orient are reproduced as nearly as artistic tastes and the most lavish expenditure of money can do so, in the grand free street demonstration of the Great Inter-Ocean show, and this feature alone is so magnificent that the press and people, wherever they gave the show, bestowed the additional title, "Largest and Best Show on Earth," and John B. Doris, the proprietor, very properly adopted it, and therefore the mammoth concern is called the "Great Inter-Ocean Largest and Best Show on Earth." It will exhibit here on Saturday, July 21st.

MEDICAL.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD. Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer IS PERFECTION!

Public Benefactress. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restoring, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vinality and luxurious quantity as in youth.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.

"One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

The policemen's picnic, the date of which was set for Wednesday, July 18th, has been postponed for one week, on account of the injury received by City Marshal Entwistle from the fireworks on the night of the 11th inst. The marshal was able to be out on Saturday for the first time since the accident, but was still quite lame, the leg that was burned and bruised the worst being very much swollen and stiff.

Paymaster C. F. Guild, U. S. N., formerly stationed at this navy yard but now attached to the receiving-ship Wabash, at Boston, was in this city on Saturday.

The Eastern Yacht Club squadron arrived at the Shoals on Saturday.

The drill-sloop employed on the removal of Gangway rock was on Saturday towed to Kittery by the steamer Mystic, to go on the marine railway for the purpose of having her bottom cleaned.

The Dover Democrat of the 13th inst. says: "Wednesday last the first mail from Boston via Portsmouth was late because the train for Dover did not await the arrival of the Boston train, which got to Portsmouth an hour late; but Station Agent Perkins, to accommodate our business people here in Dover, sent a locomotive specially to this city with the mail. Perkins makes it an object to do the right thing every time."

C., as judge advocate.

It is said that the new bell recently cast for the Christ church chime, to replace one that was not in tune with the rest, is worse than the other was. The beating of swords into ploughshares, and of spears into pruning hooks, to keep them from being dangerous, is an old plan; and it is suggested that if this bell was made into a cannon for the prospective Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, it would not be half so likely to injure people's bodies as it now is to lacerate their musical sensibilities.

The Government Chemist Analyzes two of the Leading Baking Powders, and what he finds them made of.

I have examined samples of "Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder" and "Royal Baking Powder," purchased by myself in this city, and I find they contain:

"Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Flour.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.61 per cent, equivalent to 118.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.

"Royal Baking Powder."
Cream of Tartar,
Bicarbonate of Soda,
Carbonate of Ammonia,
Tartaric Acid,
Starch.
Available carbonic acid gas 12.40 per cent, equivalent to 116.2 cubic inches of gas per oz. of Powder.
Ammonia gas 0.43 per cent, equivalent to 10.4 cubic inches per oz. of Powder.

NOTE.—The Tartaric acid was doubtless introduced as free acid, but subsequently combined with ammonia, and exists in the Powder as a Tartrate of Ammonia. E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.
NEW YORK, Jan'y 17th, 1881.

The above shows conclusively that "Cleveland's Superior" is a strictly pure Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. It has also been analyzed by Professor Johnson of Yale College; Dr. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania; President Morton of the Stevens Institute; Wm. M. Habirshaw, F. C. S., Analyst for the Chemical Trade of New York, and other eminent chemists, all of whom pronounce it absolutely pure and healthful.

MANHOOD

KNOW THYSELF.

A Book for Every Man!
Young, Middle-aged and Old.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most advanced work on Physiology ever published. There nothing whatever that the married or single either require or wish to know but what is explained.—London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

At Nashville, Tenn., on the night of the 12th inst., some person stole from the state treasurer's office the bank ledger relied upon by the state to convict Polk, the thieving ex-treasurer.

Five workmen engaged on the new Flint mill at Fall River, Mass., on the 13th inst., were moving a stone weighing two tons across a floor, when it broke through, and it and they fell forty feet to the basement. One man was crushed to death instantly; another had a foot jammed off, and will die; and the other three were badly hurt.

Clear out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 16c. Druggists.

Ora Fifield's house in Northfield was struck by lightning on the 13th inst., and Mrs. Bunker, one of the occupants, badly injured.

It's hard to believe Miss Whittier was cured of such terrible sores by Hood's Sarsaparilla, but reliable people prove it.

The house of J. T. Kimball in Concord was badly damaged by lightning on the 13th inst.

Mr. Geo. W. Knapp, of Waltham Mass., says: "I have removed an enlargement on my horse's knee which a V. S. pronounced incurable, by the use of Ellis's Spavin Cure. I think this is a very flattering testimonial." It's only one of many hundred, however, thanks; all the same.

The railroad near Claremont was badly washed out by the shower of the 12th inst., delaying the evening train to Concord.

"He that is discontented in one place will seldom be happy in another." People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy State. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy.

In Nashua, during a thunder storm on the afternoon of the 13th inst., the house of George W. Nutt was wrecked by lightning, and Miss Susie L. Marsh of Boston, aged twenty-four years, a niece of Mrs. Nutt, was instantly killed. Mrs. Nutt and a child were somewhat stunned.

Given up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you that it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

The schoolmaster on the training-ship New Hampshire committed suicide with oxalic acid last week at Newport, R. I.

The Pinta left Norfolk for Hampton Roads on the 14th inst., where she will be inspected by a naval board prior to her departure for Alaska to relieve the Adams.

"Your Skin Cure is superexcellent. It is fast curing my daughter's ring worm, which had spread all over her body." Mrs. E. L. D. Merriam, Blue Hill, Mass., Druggists Keep it, $1 per package.

The Tewksbury almshouse investigation closed last week, Butler making the closing argument on Friday; a portion of his argument was simply disgraceful, and evidently intended to make Butler votes among the lowest classes; but it will probably cost him more votes among decent people than he will gain from the back slums.

From Messrs. E. G. Honors & Son, 222 Chestnut St. Lynn, Mass., comes the following: "Ellis's Spavin Cure cured one of our horses of a large Bone Spavin.

Orange Judd, formerly publisher of the American Agriculturist of New York, has failed. He has not for several years been connected with the Orange Judd Co., the present publishers of the paper.

Spare The Toads.

There is no better abused, and probably no more useful creature in the garden and upon the farm than the toad. That apt simile, "like a toad under a harrow," tells the story of his wrongs. And now that our harrows are armed with steel teeth, and are supplemented with clod crushers and cultivators of various types for comminuting the soil, the sorrows of the toad are intensified, and he is threatened with extinction in all cultivated fields. Say thy hand from slaughter, tiller of the soil. The toad is as useful in his place as the implements of tillage you drive over his back so thoughtlessly. "The jewel in his head" is not there, but in his capacious stomach, that always has room in it for one more bug, one more worm, that destroys the food of man. Watch his habits for a day, and observe the lightning thrusts of his tongue as he scoops in your enemies, and you will have a better appreciation of his work, and of his place in good husbandry. If your garden is without toads, you can afford to purchase them for stock. They will pay good dividends, as surely as superphosphate.—American Agriculturist.

Bracelets of Brooklyn bridge tiny gold medals are quite the style. One side of the medals bears the Lord's prayer.

The complicated diseases brought on by intense study, thought, care, anxiety, etc., are often of the most serious nature. Heed such symptoms as loss of memory, universal lassitude, heart disease, kidney complaints, liver troubles and a general breaking down of health and strength. When thus afflicted, when the least exertion causes great fatigue, when life seems a burden, use the reliable strengthening tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters. It will afford you sure relief.

Mitts without the half fingers are very fashionable. They come in all colors. A selection may either match the costume or be of a contrasting color.

HOW TO GET SICK.—Expose yourself day and night, eat too much without exercise, work too hard without rest, doctor all the time, take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know HOW TO GET WELL.—Which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters.

Bonnets of straw fringe are the novelty for midsummer. They come in all the fashionable shades. The ruch-braided bonnets are trimmed with bunches of wheat or straw.

"Those who deaden sensation and stupefy the patient to relieve suffering make a grave mistake. They proceed upon the false idea that it is legitimate to procure relief from pain by destroying physical sensibility. This method, carried to the last extremity, won'd Kill the patient to end suffering. It is not premed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will raise the dead, but it often does restore those who are given up as hopeless cases.

A suggestion of silver throughout an entire black costume gives a beautiful and uncommon effect to this sombre dress. The combination is charming in "half" mourning.

The large shell hats worn by children are trimmed with a wreath of buttercups, daisies or other wild flowers. A wreath of beautiful sea mosses would be quite in harmony with the conch.

Mr. Geo. W. Knapp, of Waltham Mass., says: "I have removed an enlargement on my horse's knee which a V. S. pronounced incurable, by the use of Ellis's Spavin Cure. I think this is a very flattering testimonial." It's only one of many hundred, however. thanks; all the same.

Many of the overskirts are raised at one side by a long slide, while short overskirts of Escurial-net, trimmed with lace to correspond, are worn over bright silk or satin skirts.

Violent strains to the muscles, often result in rheumatism. Prof. C. O. Duplessis, manager of the Gymnasium, Chicago, Ill., says that St. Jacobs Oil is the infallible cure.

A clever adaptation of the dress of a Russian peasant has been adopted for lawn-tennis. A short bodice of dark blue velvet, with shoulder straps, the chemisette and long sleeves being of white linen, worked with Russian embroidery; the skirt is of blue gingham with bands of red superposed. A linen apron, decorated with Russian embroidery, is worn with this costume.

MEDICAL.

WHAT MRS. BRUCE

Of 25 Grant St., Springfield, Mass., says about Her Husband's Sickness, and what Finally proved a Real Boon to Him—Words of an Affectionate, Good Woman.

Mrs. Bruce says: "My husband is an employee in the United States Armory in Springfield. He has for years been a terrible sufferer from bilious sick headaches. He has fearful attacks of this kind. Sometimes they will come on him every week or so. He has never found any medicine which would give him any permanent relief or prove any preventive against these severe attacks until he tried Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. He has received the greatest benefit from its use." The testimony of Mrs. Bruce is like that of hundreds of others, who say: "I procured a bottle of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, and used it with the best of results. I have no more headache or pain in the side. Indeed, the medicine seems to have an almost magical effect, and I feel very grateful for FAVORITE REMEDY. Dr. Kennedy is glad to recommend his medicine to all who are suffering from sick headaches resulting from any of the above causes, for it is a sure, positive cure.

To Keep the Blood Pure

is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the FAVORITE REMEDY. It removes all impurities of the Blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

The Beautiful Green Melon.

A beautiful thing it was, and right green was young Mr. Green, who went down to the cellar about midnight and ate nearly half of it. The next day young Mr. Green said he didn't want any breakfast, and he thought he would not get to the store. He wished he hadn't seen that watermelon. By the prompt administration of Perry Davis' Pain Killer young Mr. Green's internal economy was reduced to a state of peace and comfort.

News and Notes.

In Portland some excitement was caused last Saturday by an attempt on the part of the Boston & Maine railroad to put up a fence against a vacant lot on Park street, thus interrupting travel and forcing people to go down a narrow flight of steps to Commercial street. Mayor Deering went to the office, and asked by whose orders the fence was erected. Superintendent Stevens replied by order of President Lord. The mayor ordered the fence to be taken down, giving the officers of the road until six o'clock to finish the job. Word was sent to President Lord, and meantime Mayor Deering ordered City Marshal Andrews to be prepared to remove the fence should the officers of the road decline. President Lord telegraphed to obey the orders of the mayor, and the fence was taken down by the railroad men.

Moses Gould, formerly of Maine, was drowned Saturday evening in the Shawsheen river, Mass., while bathing. He had been employed the past year in the factory of the Tyler Rubber company at Andover.

Maggie Mitchell tells a story of something stranger than a faith cure. "I was afflicted with partial paralysis of the left limb, and almost lost the use of it. I was billed to open in a large city, and I was still on crutches. Every means that medical skill could suggest, including electricity, was brought to bear in my case, but I was benefitted little. The night arrived, the house was crowded, the galleries were noisy, and I was at a side wing on crutches. When the time for my entrance as Fanchon arrived, with a supreme effort I threw aside the crutches and sprang through the window with the chicken in my arms, and went on with my part as naturally as ever. From that day to this I have never had a recurrence of the trouble."
